

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. REPORT.

The statement having reference to the amount of business done and the pages devoted to the resume of work in the Department for the year ending November 30, 1903, will exhibit in a concise manner the duties which have been performed by the Department through its different Bureaus.

The inconveniences incident to the removal of the Department to the Bay Shoe Factory building have been overcome so far as they could be under the most adverse circumstances existing.

The Commissioners of Grounds and Buildings, after earnest solicitation, prepared a vault within which the ancient records of the Land Office have been placed. As indicated by the report for the year ending November 30, 1902, these valuable records were practically dumped into this building, which appeared to be a tinder box and when the vault was prepared it was also necessary to procure receptacles for the papers and records, and the transferring and endorsing of these papers from the old pigeon holes into the new receptacles was a task not easily performed. Hundreds of thousands of papers had to be handled with the utmost care in locating them so that they could be found, and handled in such a way as to prevent their mutilation or further destruction.

The force of the Department was largely employed in transferring the Land Office papers into the vault and other permanent work of the Department had to be postponed.

The transaction of public business in this location is attended with very unfavorable conditions. The place itself is situated so near the railroad that the building is constantly filled with dirty coal smoke, and the location is in the midst of manufacturing establishments and of a tenement portion of the city not characterized for cleanliness. But with all these inconveniences the work of the Department has progressed much better than ought to be expected under the adverse existing circumstances.

At the beginning of the administration of the Hon. Samuel W. Pennypacker, a recommendation was made by the Governor favoring the passage of laws consolidating the different special laws providing for additional employment in the several departments, so that within the four corners of the bill there should appear all the authority given the heads of Departments with reference to officers, clerks and employes.

Pursuant to the recommendation of the Governor a bill was prepared by this office and submitted to the Legislature which practically went through without opposition, and was signed by the Governor. The act was approved the 24th day of April, 1903, and is found printed in the Pamphlet Laws of that year, at pages 294 and 295. It is as follows:

AN ACT

To fix the number and salaries of officers, clerks and employes in the Department of Internal Affairs.

Section 1. Be it enacted, &c., That the number and salaries of the officers, clerks and employes, in the Department of Internal Affairs, which the Secretary of Internal Affairs is hereby authorized and empowered to appoint, shall be as follows:

One Deputy Secretary of Internal Affairs, at a salary of three thousand dollars per annum, who shall also be Superintendent of the Bureau of Railways.

One Chief Clerk, at a salary of eighteen hundred dollars per annum.

One stenographer, at a salary of one thousand dollars per annum.

One messenger at a salary of twelve hundred dollars per annum.

Bureau of Industrial Statistics.

One Chief of the Bureau of Industrial Statistics, at a salary of two thousand five hundred dollars per annum.

One assistant, at a salary of sixteen hundred dollars per annum.

Two collectors of statistics, each at a salary of fifteen hundred dollars per annum.

One stenographer, at a salary of one thousand dollars per annum.

Bureau of Railways.

One Assistant Superintendent of the Bureau of Railways, at a salary of seventeen hundred dollars per annum.

Three clerks, each at a salary of fourteen hundred dollars per annum.

Bureau of Mines.

One Chief of the Bureau of Mines, at a salary of three thousand dollars per annum.

One assistant, at a salary of sixteen hundred dollars per annum, providing the Bureau of Mines shall remain a Bureau in the Department of Internal Affairs.

Land Office Bureau.

One Chief Draftsman and surveyor, at a salary of two thousand dollars per annum.

Four draftsmen, each at a salary of sixteen hundred dollars per annum.

Bureau of Assessments and Taxes.

Two clerks, each at a salary of fourteen hundred dollars per annum.

All clerks and employes herein provided for shall be subject to such changes in their employment, from one Bureau to another, as the exigencies of the public service may demand.

Section 2. All acts or parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act be and the same are hereby repealed.

Approved—The 24th day of April, A. D. 1903.

SAML. W. PENNYPACKER.

This act, together with an item in the General Appropriation bill authorizing the temporary employment of draftsmen, has greatly strengthened the department and enabled it to push, through its different Bureaus the necessary public work, the performance of which is understood to be its function in the interest of the Commonwealth.

During the session of the Legislature of 1903 a bill was passed providing for the establishment of an independent department to be known as the Department of Mines, and this, in effect, annulled or repealed the law providing for a Bureau of Mines in the Department of Internal Affairs.

In conformity with this law creating a Department of Mines, all records of the Department under the control of the Bureau of Mines of the Department of Internal Affairs, were turned over to Hon. J. E. Roderick, the Chief of the Department of Mines, and all correspondence received since the establishment of that Department has been turned over to the consideration of the Chief of that Department.

Another bill introduced during the session of the Legislature was a bill to create a Department of Labor. Whatever the purposes of the bill were, in effect it would in part if not in toto destroy the usefulness of the Bureau of Industrial Statistics of this Department.

The Bureau of Industrial Statistics having been created in pursuance of a provision of the Constitution, and a law having been passed in pursuance of such constitutional provision, prescribing the duties of said Bureau, it was thought that the spirit if not the letter of the Constitution would be violated in taking the Bureau of Industrial Statistics away from the Department of Internal Affairs.

Consequently, members of the Legislature and Senators were informed of the Constitutional provision and the laws which established the Bureau of Industrial Statistics as one of the Bureaus of the Department of Internal Affairs, and they were requested to vote against the proposition for the establishment of a Department of Labor, which would so clearly impair the usefulness and encroach upon the prerogatives of the Bureau of Industrial Statistics.

Great pressure from a political standpoint was brought to bear to push the bill through creating a Department of Labor, but through the conservative thought and action of a goodly number of members of the General Assembly, the proposition was defeated and the Bureau of Industrial Statistics will remain intact in the Department of Internal Affairs. Its functions are being properly exercised and the duties imposed upon the Bureau are being discharged with fidelity under the efficient direction of Hon. Robert C. Bair, the Chief of that Bureau.

If the scope of authority now given the Bureau of Industrial Statistics regarding labor and the rights of the employer and the employed is not sufficiently broad and comprehensive, then additional powers should be given to that Bureau to accomplish the purposes which the public welfare demands. This can easily be done without incurring the great additional expense of creating a Department of Labor. If there is anything clear, it is that it was the intention of the framers of the Constitution in providing for the establishment of the Department of Internal Affairs that the scope of that Department should extend to cover in a great degree the industrial affairs and the material interests of the Commonwealth. The phraseology of the Constitution, together with the acts of Assembly passed to enforce its provisions, indicate clearly that it was the intention of the Constitutional Convention to have the Department of Internal Affairs exercise a much wider scope than has been given to it in recent legislation. Indeed, it seems to be the inclination whenever a Bureau or a division of a Department is created, as soon as legislation can be secured to establish it as a separate department of the State government. This has been the tendency when it cannot be said that public interest have been advanced to any great extent by the establishment of such independent department, and besides in most cases the expense of the administration has been most decidedly increased.

Wherever a Bureau exists in any department, not provided for by the Constitution, it is within the province of the Legislature to remove it from the department where it has been created, and establish it as a separate, independent department of the State government. That is an enactment which the Legislature has a clear right to effect, and in thus creating a separate department there is no conflict with the Constitution. But where a Bureau is established by the Constitution in a department, and in pursuance of such establishment the Legislature prescribes its duties and its functions, then a law which destroys it is in conflict certainly with the spirit and apparently with the letter of the Constitution.

A feature of the proposed Department of Labor was the inquiry as to disputes between the employer and the employed with a view, it may be assumed, to settle disputes by arbitration. We already have arbitration laws upon the statute books and they are practically a dead letter. It is not likely that the interference of the Department of Labor and the suggestions the head of that Department might make would lead to the solution of the great problem which still confronts us with reference to the rights of capital and labor. That problem will not be solved by the creation of a department such as was contemplated by the bill introduced in the Legislature of 1903, for all its provisions and its scope were covered by enactments already upon the statute books of the Commonwealth.

If one will study the Constitution and the laws of this Commonwealth with reference to their bearing upon capital and labor, and then take into consideration the provisions of the bill introduced at the session of the Legislature of 1903 providing for the establishment of a Department of Labor, he can scarcely come to any other conclusion than that the greatest functions which could have been performed under the bill in case it had become a law would have been the drawing of salaries by the officers, clerks and employes who might constitute the force of such a department. How it could possibly benefit laboring classes or relieve capital from the distress that usually arises during strikes is difficult to see, and for the reasons indicated herein the Secretary of Internal Affairs elect did what he could to accomplish the defeat of the bill to establish the useless department to be known, as provided for in said bill, as the Department of Labor.

If good government can be promoted, if public interests can be conserved and citizenship advanced by creating departments of the State government simply to provide places for individuals, then the more departments created the better for all. Such exigencies, however, do not exist in Pennsylvania and no Department or Bureau ought to be created unless public interests and the welfare of the State demand it.

Land Office Bureau.

Properly embraced in the Land Office Bureau are the Board of Property and the proceedings incident to contentions which arise in the granting of original titles, the settlements of disputes among owners of unpatented lands, the contentions of different parties with reference to their claims for patents; also the records pertaining to the establishment of boundary lines between Pennsylvania and other states, the preservation and repair of boundary line monuments, the reports of commissions on state boundary surveys, and county surveys; also the records pertaining to State roads, canals, etc., the records pertaining to the reception of applications, the granting of warrants, the acceptance of returns of surveys and the granting of patents for lands within the Commonwealth, and many other matters pertaining to the public affairs of the State.

Some references and observations are submitted herewith in regard to the different branches of the Land Office Bureau.

COMPARING OF SURVEYS.

It is well known that the drafts, or surveys as they are usually called, that were returned by the Deputy and County Surveyors, constitute strong evidence of questions of location, and are overcome only by marks upon the ground, which were made by the surveyor at the time of the location of warrants.

Marks upon the ground disappear, the trees which the surveyor blazed, or in some other way marked to show the location of lines, in most cases have succumbed to the encroachments of the axman and the lumberman and are no longer standing to tell the inquirer where the surveyor established the line decades, or perhaps centuries ago.

When all marks upon trees or monuments of a durable character are gone, questions of location are usually determined by the evidence found on the draft or survey, which was returned to the land office after the Deputy or County Surveyor had completed his work.

From this statement of facts, it will be seen at once how exceedingly important it is to preserve the official drafts that indicate the work of the surveyor when warrants were located. These drafts alone are frequently the only evidence that can be found to determine the location of division lines between property owners.

Their preservation, therefore, is of the utmost importance to property owners throughout the entire Commonwealth and this fact was appreciated by the legislative branch of the state government as far back as 1833 when a law was passed which authorized the employment of the force, so far as practicable in the office of the Surveyor General, in copying old land office records.

This act only provided that the force when not otherwise occupied should be employed in copying old surveys and other records, and no additional force was given the Surveyor General to enable him to advance the work contemplated by the passage of the act of 1833.

Provision having been made as above indicated by the Legislature for performing this most important work, it may be assumed that no serious consideration was given the subject by the Legislature for several decades, for more than fifty years passed by and little was accomplished under the powers given and the duties imposed by the act of 1833. Some little additional assistance was given after Gen. Thomas J. Stewart became Secretary of Internal Affairs and the work of copying the records was advanced more than it had been under any previous administration.

Through the succeeding administrations of Gen. James W. Latta the work of copying records was pressed to the front with a considerable amount of energy and with good results.

When the present Secretary was about to assume the duties of office he had a conference with the Governor and with the Chairman of the Appropriation Committee of the Senate and of the House, with the view of impressing upon them the necessity for making additional provisions to enable the Secretary to advance this most necessary work and at the earliest day possible to complete it.

An estimate was made of the number of surveys still remaining uncopied and it was estimated that if an appropriation of $60,000 could be made, the same to be available during the four years, the constitutional term of the Secretary of Internal Affairs, that the work of copying surveys might be completed. Therefore, the proposition to appropriate $15,000 a year was pressed most earnestly upon the legislative branch of the State government and it is proper to say that an examination made of the land office records by the executive impressed that official with the imperative necessity of prompt action and wholesome legislation to enable the Secretary to accomplish this most important work.

The general appropriation for 1903 carried with it an appropriation of $30,000 for two years and no provision was made for the balance of the term of the present Secretary, for the reason that limitations are placed upon the scope of the general appropriation act by which appropriations are limited to a period of two years.

It was the ambition of the present Secretary to complete this most important work during his term and that the completion of the same should be the distinguishing feature of his administration, and much disappointment was occasioned by the failure of the executive to approve the whole amount of $30,000 for two years, the item only being approved at $20,000.

This matter was fully explained to the executive, as before indicated, and it was not thought there was any serious danger of cutting down the appropriation and no conference was held with the executive upon that subject.

The Governor must have acted under a misapprehension of the facts for in his veto clause he conveys the idea that $20,000 is a sufficient amount of money to complete the entire work.

In the multiplicity of cares, annoyances, and burdens of official duties and of political complications to contend with, it is not surprising that errors are made by men who are efficient and considerate in the discharge of their public duties, and no blame is intended to be reflected upon the Governor for the partial veto of this legislative provision, assuming as the Secretary does, that the Governor was under a misapprehension of the facts.

The veto of a part of the appropriation will make it impossible to complete the copying of surveys within the term of the present Secretary unless unexpected provision shall be made by the next Legislature, whereby an additional force of draftsmen may be employed during the last two years of his term.

Notwithstanding the Department has been crippled in the cutting of the appropriation, the work is being advanced in the most satisfactory manner, and, indeed, it is being pushed more rapidly than was contemplated at the time that the appropriation was sought.

In addition to the transient work done by the draftsmen during the year, surveys have been copied as follows:

J. S. Wall, 19 large surveys, and as Chief Draftsman organized the corps and superintended the copying of surveys as per the following individual statement, viz:

J. U. Gill, 80 small and 392 large surveys.

J. H. Campbell, 394 small surveys.

Blanche E. Butler, 640 small surveys.

R. O. Stuckenrath, 720 small surveys.

W. E. Lewis, 254 small surveys.

E. B. Harden, 305 small surveys.

G. S. Canning, 420 small surveys.

J. C. Gates, 326 small surveys.

J. C. Kirk, 230 small surveys.

W. A. Walker, 168 small surveys.

J. O. Jackson, 158 small surveys.

J. J. Farnan, 73 small surveys.

Wilmer Johnson, 112 small surveys.

Katherine L. Cilley, 13 small surveys.

It is proper to say in this connection, that many of the above mentioned draftsmen were not employed in this department until toward the close of the fiscal year.

The general appropriation act of 1903 authorized the Secretary to employ draftsmen without specifying the number, or the salaries which such draftsmen should have. Desiring to advance the work as rapidly as it was possible, a less salary was paid and more persons were employed. Had the appropriation as passed by the Legislature remained intact, it would have enabled the Secretary to have paid better salaries; however this may be, great care has been taken in the selection of persons to do this work and it is felt that the work is not only being advanced rapidly, but that it is being done in a creditable manner. With the force employed there are being copied now from twelve to fifteen hundred surveys a month under the act of 1893 and all this in addition to the drafting work which the Department is required to do in connection with the transient work that comes to the office.

The establishment of proper rules as a guide for draftsmen in copying records, demands the application of the best thought that can be bestowed upon the same. Whenever in an original survey there are misspelled words or errors of a pronounced character showing that the draftsman of the original paper was mistaken, as by giving a wrong bearing or a wrong distance, those misspelled words or the apparent errors of the draftsman of the original draft are underscored with a red line in the copy.

This will indicate to a person who examines the copy when he sees the underscored words or figures that the copyist has discovered the error and that the error in the original is reproduced in the copy.

In making copies of surveys for transient work where misspelled words are underscored and other apparent errors are underscored, these papers have been sent back for correction under the impression that a mistake had been made by the draftsman. Such cases are disposed of by proper explanation, that a copy would not be a copy unless it contained the errors that the original record contained. The following is a copy of the rules which have been established for the guidance of the draftsmen in this Department:

"Rules to be observed in copying and comparing drafts of surveys and other papers on file in the Department of Internal Affairs.

Drafts of surveys should be copied with reference to the meridian direction, calling the upper edge of the paper north, where practicable. The exact location and direction of dotted or broken lines, whether intersecting at corners or on the lines between corners, must be observed. Bearings and distances and boundary calls should be made to appear as nearly as practicable in the same position on the copy as on the original draft.

Boundary lines, bearings, distances, corners and adjoiner calls should be copied in black ink, unless for special reasons, apparent or specified, ink of another color has been used on the original draft, in which case the copy should be made in the same color or colors of the original. All streams should be copied in blue ink.

The bearings and distances, boundary calls, names of rivers, creeks and other streams, and all other written matter on the original drafts should be copied literally.

All erasures and interlineations should be copied as they appear on the originals and underlined with red ink so as to indicate that they are correctly copied.

When parts of original drafts or other papers are missing by reason of abrasion or other cause, so as to affect the lines, streams and written matter, it should be so indicated on the copy by writing the word "obl" or "obliterated" in red ink at the place or places where such obliteration appears on the original.

Self-evident errors on the original drafts may be underlined with red ink in the copy, so as to indicate that such errors are not the fault of the copyist.

Transfer paper is recommended for the purpose of copying more closely the meanderings of streams, but care should be exercised in noting the exact location of such streams where they cross the boundary lines."

When a draftsman has finished a book of twenty surveys, they are sent to the compare board, that a proper comparison may be made between the copy and the original. All errors are made upon the copy in pencil and then the book is returned to the draftsman for correction and for dating. The clerks of the compare board are required to keep memoranda of all errors and when the draftsman again submits his book to the compare board, it is easy to determine whether the corrections have all been properly made. After this comparison has been made the book is returned to the draftsman and the pencil notations erased, and then it is submitted for inspection to the Chief Draftsman and then the seal of the Department attached and the book of surveys is then presented for the signature of the Secretary. The rule regarding the comparing of copies of surveys is as follows:

"Rules.

Relating to delivery of books of surveys for comparison, correction of errors and dating of surveys, inspection and execution.

Until otherwise directed each draftsman immediately after the completion of a book of surveys will deliver the same to the Compare Board.

The work of comparison will be made with the utmost care in conformity with the established rules governing the same, and notation of errors, if any are found, will be clearly indicated and the book promptly returned to the draftsman for correction of errors and for dating.

The errors will be immediately corrected and the surveys in the book dated to correspond to the day on which it is returned from the Compare Board.

As soon as the corrections are made, each book will be returned to the Compare Board for examination and proper endorsement. It will then be returned to the draftsman for the erasure of pencil notations, after which it will be delivered by the draftsman to the Chief Draftsman.

After being inspected by the Chief Draftsman, the book will be delivered to an employe of the Department detailed for the purpose of affixing the seal of the Department to the surveys therein, and when this is done it will be delivered to the Secretary for his signature."

When a draftsman has thus prepared three hundred copies of surveys, they are sent to the bindery to be bound in the most substantial manner known to the trade, in book form. The utmost care has been exercised to enable the office to secure the very best and the most durable binding for these records and this effort has been made disregarding the question of cost. When a book of three hundred surveys has been prepared for the binders, it means that a book has cost the State from five to six hundred dollars in the way of salaries for draftsmen and others necessarily connected with the work, and as it contains the most valuable information that can be found among any of the records of the Commonwealth, it is manifestly important that no expense should be spared in securing the most durable binding that can be had, to the end that the valuable information contained in the book of surveys may be as secure as possible from the havoc of time.

The manner of binding these books is to some extent disclosed in the following copy of an order given to the Superintendent of Public Printing and Binding for the binding of four of these books of surveys:

Department of Internal Affairs,
Harrisburg, Pa., March 8, 1904.

Superintendent of Public Printing and Binding:

Furnish the following for the use of this Department:

For binding four books of copied surveys, in full cow leather, with canvas covers and leather corners, flat opening binding, each right hand page to be numbered from one upward, endorsement on both back and cover as per text furnished with books.

ISAAC B. BROWN,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

In addition to the care taken in the work of drafting, investigations have been made with reference to the best and most durable inks to be used by the draftsman and also with reference to the durability of the paper to be used upon which drafts are made. During the term of the present Secretary there will be no lull in this work and so far as possible with the means at hand the work will be advanced to the fullest degree possible.

In this connection it is proper to say that there are not only surveys which should be copied but, the warrants which were granted by William Penn and the Proprietaries who were his successors and later under the authority of the Commonwealth, are about in as much need of being copied as are these surveys.

This is the opinion held by the present Secretary, and while it will not be possible for him to take up this work it is a matter which will present itself in a most forcible way to his successor in office. Besides these warrants and surveys there are tens of thousands of other record in the office worthy of careful preservation. Indeed, the Department is a storehouse of historical records such as can never be replaced should such a misfortune overtake the State as to have them destroyed.

The land office records are now comparatively safely housed in a vault built adjacent to the Bay shoe-factory building and are placed in metallic cases which it is understood will fit into the apartments of the new capitol, which is designed for the Department of Internal Affairs.

BOUNDARY LINE MONUMENTS.

Under the laws of Pennsylvania, the Secretary of Internal Affairs is required to co-operate with the proper authorities in states adjoining Pennsylvania for the examination of bundary line monuments, the resurvey of boundary lines, the resetting of monuments and the placing in proper position of new monuments when found necessary.

The Mason and Dixon Line.

The Legislature, at its sessions of 1899, made an appropriation of $5,000 to resurvey the line between Pennsylvania and Maryland, known as the Mason and Dixon line, and wherever it was found necessary or advisable to provide and place in position new monuments and to repair and locate the old ones when found proper to do so.

Conferences were had between the Secretary of Internal Affairs and the authorities representing the State of Maryland, with a view of carrying out the provisions of the legislation referred to, as Maryland had previously provided by enactment to co-operate with Pennsylvania in doing the work contemplated by the act of the Legislature herein referred to.

The stipulation between the States of Maryland and Pennsylvania in connection with the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey, is as follows:

Agreement for the Examination, Repair, Replacing and Erection of Monuments on the Boundary Line Between the States of Pennsylvania and Maryland.

Whereas, The act of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, approved the 4th of May, A. D. 1889, empowers and directs the Department of Internal Affairs of the said Commonwealth to co-operate with the proper authorities in adjoining states in the examination, repair and replacing of the boundary line monuments and in the resurvey of the boundary line between Pennsylvania and any adjoining state, and in conjunction with such authority in adjoining states to procure and erect new monuments whenever found necessary, and

Whereas, Under chapter 745 of the enactments of 1900 of the General Assembly of the state of Maryland, and by virtue of appointment, made on the 6th day of June, 1900, by Hon. John Walter Smith, Governor of said state, Dr. William B. Clark is given similar power and direction with reference to the examination, repair and replacing of the monuments on the boundary line between the states of Pennsylvania and Maryland, known as the Mason and Dixon line, and is also authorized to co-operate with the proper authorities in Pennsylvania in all matters pertaining to the examination, repairing and replacing of said monuments, and in the resurvey of said boundary line, and in the furnishing and erection of new monuments when necessary, and

Whereas, From satisfactory information it has been ascertained that several of the monuments located on the line between the states of Pennsylvania and Maryland, known as the Mason and Dixon Line, have been displaced, others partially mutilated or destroyed, and further, that in some of the mountain regions no monuments were ever erected (the line being marked only by stone heaps or earth mounds), from which it appears that the public interests in both states will be conserved by the examination, repair or replacing of the monuments now in position, and by the furnishing and erection of new monuments at points where none have ever been erected, and

Whereas, Under authority given in the state of Maryland, by the law referred to, direction is also given the Commissioner appointed from that state to co-operate with the Superintendent of the United States Coast and Geodetic

Survey in the examination and repair of said monuments and the resurvey of said boundary line, and

Whereas, A meeting was held in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 17th day of July, A. D. 1900, at which there were present Dr. H. S. Pritchett, Superintendent of the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey; Dr. William B. Clark, representing the State of Maryland, and Major Isaac B. Brown, Deputy Secretary of Internal Affairs, representing the State of Pennsylvania, at which it was agreed that the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey, under the direction of the Superintendent, Dr. H. S. Pritchett, should execute the work as authorized by the laws of the two states hereinbefore referred to.

Therefore, The undersigned, acting in conformity with the authority as hereinbefore stated, have agreed and by these presents do hereby agree on this ninth day of August, A. D. 1900, that the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey, under the direction of its Superintendent, Dr. H. S. Pritchett, be empowered and is hereby empowered to examine the boundary line monuments that mark the location of the boundary line between the States of Pennsylvania and Maryland, and shall, wherever monuments are found mutilated or displaced, exercise its discretion in the repair and replacing of such monuments; and wherever any of the monuments have been removed from their proper location and cannot be recovered, or where it shall be found that no monuments were ever erected at the points at which it is clear that they were intended to be placed by Mason and Dixon, who surveyed and established said boundary line, then it is agreed that new monuments shall be procured and erected at the proper positions; and the necessary authority is hereby conferred to make effectual this agreement.

It is further agreed, That all surveying, expense or work is hereby authorized which, in the opinion of the Superintendent of the said Coast and Geodetic Survey, shall be necessary to make effectual the laws of the two states in interest, with reference to the erection of monuments in the place of those which may have been removed, or in determining the location of those to be erected where none have heretofore been erected.

It is further agreed, That if any of the monuments can now be found which were prepared to mark the location of the line, but which were never placed in position, all legal means possible shall be employed to secure possession of such monuments and have them properly erected instead of procuring new ones.

It is further understood and agreed, That the duties imposed by the laws herein referred to and conferred under this agreement shall be discharged as speedily as practicable, or as may be consistent with a proper execution of the work provided for.

It is further understood and agreed, That all services rendered by the Superintendent of the said United States Coast and Geodetic Survey, or by those designated under his authority, shall be rendered without cost to either of the states that are parties to this agreement; but all necessary expenses incurred in prosecuting the work, including commutation of subsistence and traveling expenses of the Coast and Geodetic Survey officer engaged on the work, or in furnishing necessary materials, shall be borne equally by the two states in interest; said expenses to be accounted for in verified vouchers, and so far as practicable supplemented by receipted vouchers from parties to whom disbursements have been made, and duplicate vouchers, one for each state.

It is further understood and agreed, That such assistant surveyors may be employed to act with the representatives of the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey as shall be agreed upon by the parties representing the two states in interest; their compensation to be agreed upon and borne by the two states respectively.

It is further understood and agreed, That upon the completion of the duties imposed by the law authorizing the examination of the boundary line monuments and the resurvey of the boundary line, the Superintendent of the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey shall make, or cause to be made, a report in duplicate for the approval of the parties representing the two states in interest, and that said report shall embrace the details of all the work done upon the said boundary line or its monuments, and inter alia shall show the condition of the monuments, fully describe the character and location of the new ones, and shall include any other matter that in the opinion of the said Superintendent may be of interest to the people of Pennsylvania and Maryland.

In testimony whereof, James W. Latta, Secretary of Internal Affairs of Pennsylvania, has hereunto set his hand and caused the seal of said Department to be affixed at Harrisburg on the tenth day of August, A. D. 1900; and the said Dr. William B. Clark, for and on behalf of the state of Maryland, under the authority given him, has hereunto set his hand on the ninth day of August, A. D. 1900.

(Seal.)

JAMES W. LATTA,
Secretary of Internal Affairs of Pennsylvania.

(Seal.)

WILLIAM B. CLARK,
Commissioner, State of Maryland.

Office of the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey, Washington, D. C.,
August 9, 1900.

Under the authority conferred by the act of the Legislature of the state of Maryland, and in compliance with the within agreement made and entered into by and between the States of Pennsylvania and Maryland, I, H. S. Pritchett, for and in behalf of the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey, hereby agree, on the part of the said Survey, to discharge the duties imposed by the laws with reference to the boundary line between the State of Pennsylvania and Maryland, and to execute the work skilfully and promptly.

HENRY S. PRITCHETT,
Superintendent United States Coast and Geodetic Survey.

Under the foregoing stipulation, the work of resurveying the Mason and Dixon line has been carried on by W. H. Hodgkins, an assistant of the Superintendent of the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey. The work seems to have been completed something less than a year ago, but no formal report has been filed. A preliminary report, however, has just been received, a few days prior to sending the manuscript for this publication to the printer.

Feeling that the report provided for in the stipulation ought to be on file in the Department and be published with the annual report for the year 1903, a communication was addressed to the Superintendent of the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey, of which the following is a copy:

"March 15, 1904.

Superintendent U. S. Coast and Geodetic Survey, Washington, D. C.:

Dear Sir: I respectfully call your attention to an agreement which was made between the states of Maryland and Pennsylvania and the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey, bearing date the 9th day of August, 1900, by which agreement the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey undertook to resurvey the Mason and Dixon line, to repair the monuments, and to place in position monuments where none theretofore existed or where those which had been placed had been removed from any cause.

I understand the survey of the line and the other work contemplated by the stipulation was finished something like a year ago. The stipulation called for a report to be made by the Superintendent of the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey, to be submitted at as early a day as possible after the work was completed.

Without in the remotest degree suggesting that there has been unnecessary delay, I do desire to say that from my standpoint it does seem as if the report ought to have been received months ago. There may be good reasons why it has not been received, and I respectfully ask that you advise me why it is the report has not been filed as contemplated by the agreement.

I may say that I am constrained to address you upon this subject for the reason that in a recent communication from the Hon. William Bullock Clark, Commissioner on the part of Maryland, he advised me as follows :

'He (meaning Mr. Hodgkins) is besides, slowly getting together his material for a complete report which I understand he hopes to have ready before going away for the summer, although I am not altogether sure on this point.'

Is it not possible to have this report filed before any summer vacation is taken? It is an important matter for this office, for money has to be accounted for, and under the terms of the stipulation the report was to be made as soon as possible, and as I may be called upon at any day for the report, I feel the necessity, which I take it you will appreciate, of having the report filed at as early a day as possible.

Very truly yours,

ISAAC B. BROWN,
Secretary."

To this letter the Superintendent replied as follows, transmitting with the same a preliminary report, which is also submitted herewith:

Department of Commerce and Labor, Coast and Geodetic Survey, Washington, March 17, 1904.

Major Isaac B. Brown, Secretary of Internal Affairs, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania:

Dear Sir: I beg to acknowledge the receipt of your letter, dated March 15, 1904, relative to the resurvey of the boundary between Pennsylvania and Maryland, commonly called the Mason and Dixon line.

In reply to your inquiry as to the reasons for delay in furnishing the final report on that work, which was undertaken by this Bureau for the two states jointly, I wish to assure you that there has been no intention of delay on the part of this office, and that such delay as has occurred has been due to unavoidable and unforeseen conditions, which it may be well for me to explain somewhat in detail.

Owing to the small number of officers available for our own extensive work, it was possible to make a detail for the special work in question only by detaching Assistant W. C. Hodgkins from the command of the Steamer Blake, upon the return of that vessel from a cruise in Porto Rican waters. Again, somewhat more than a year ago, when the Department of State made a call for the immediate services of an officer to assist the agent and counsel of the United States before the Alaska Boundary Tribunal, it was found that Mr. Hodgkins was the only man who could be spared for that duty. I was, therefore, reluctantly compelled to withdraw him from the state boundary work, and he was constantly employed by the Department of State until near the end of the year. He continued the boundary survey, however, through his assistants, as weather permitted, and the field work was completed on August 31, 1903, all of the monuments having been set.

I am informed by Mr. Hodgkins that he has planned a somewhat elaborate report upon the survey, which the exigencies of numerous special duties have prevented him from completing, but it is possible that his preliminary report may serve the immediate purpose which you have in mind, and I, therefore, enclose you a copy of that report. Mr. Hodgkins thinks that he may be able to submit a more complete statement in the course of a few weeks.

Respectfully,

O. H. TITTENANN,
Superintendent.

Preliminary Report on the Resurvey of the Mason and Dixon Line.

This report relates particularly to that portion of this celebrated line which forms the boundary between the States of Pennsylvania and Maryland. The portion lying between Pennsylvania and West Virginia was remarked nearly twenty years ago, while the portion separating Maryland from Delaware still needs examination and attention similar to that given to other parts.

As is well known, the original survey of this line was executed in the years 1764, 1765, 1766 and 1767, by Charles Mason and Jeremiah Dixon, two English mathematicians who had been employed by the Proprietors of the Provinces of Pennsylvania and Maryland and sent to America to take up the work of delimitation, which had already occupied several years in the hands of local surveyors, without very material progress.

For the purposes of the present statement it is not necessary to describe the operations of Mason and Dixon in dividing the peninsula between the provinces or in fixing a point fifteen miles south of the most southern point of the city of Philadelphia, to serve as the starting point for the parallel of latitude which, when extended to the westward, should divide the provinces in that direction. It is with that parallel of latitude alone that we are now concerned, although these other important, if collateral, matters will receive proper attention in my final report.

Assuming, therefore, the starting point for the parallel of latitude, the next point for consideration is the method used by Mason and Dixon in tracing the line. For the purpose of determining the latitude, they had brought from England a Zenith Sector, which at that time was the best portable instrument for the purpose. With this instrument, at the station fixed by them as being fifteen miles south of the most southern point of the city of Philadelphia, they determined the latitude by observations upon five stars which passed their meridian near the zenith, three to the north and two to the south. This division of the observations between north and south stars was made in the endeavor to eliminate, as far as possible, the effects of errors due to defects in their instrument and in their observations.

Their next step was to run a trial line to the westward for about twelve miles in a direction which they calculated would again bring them to their parallel at that distance. At this new point, the sector was again set up and the observations for latitude were repeated, using the same stars which were employed for that purpose at the starting point.

These new observations gave them the means of determining the difference between the latitude of their new station and that of the starting point with a considerable degree of accuracy. This difference was then reduced to linear measure and was set off on the ground in the proper direction, either south or north, according to the character of the discrepancy.

The portion of the line between the two stations was then marked out by laying off on the ground at regular intervals, computed offsets from the straight trial line to the curved parallel of latitude, and the line was then cleared out between the points so marked, and, a little later, monuments of cut stone were set up at intervals of a mile, as given by the chaining.

The location of the line upon the ground depended, therefore, directly upon the observations for latitude at the ends of any particular section, the same process being repeated upon successive sections of the line, with this difference—that as the work progressed to the westward, the distance between the latitude stations was increased to double the original interval and later to three times that distance. This was probably done with a view to economy of time and labor in the unsettled districts of the west, where the difficulties of transporting a cumbersome and valuable instrument like the zenith sector must have been considerable. In order not to get too far away from the true parallel at any point, the trial line in such cases was deflected at the end of the measured distance of about twelve miles in such manner as to again strike the parallel at the end of another like distance, and so again at the end of that distance, if the observations for latitude were again omitted. This procedure seems to have been the chief weakness in the work of Mason and Dixon, who, in general, showed a remarkably clear appreciation of the conditions of their problem and of the best way to meet them with the means at their disposal. Thus, their continued use of the same set of stars throughout the work, while it compelled them to use stars large enough to be visible in their telescope in the daylight and, therefore, not so fine objects to point upon as smaller stars, eliminated almost wholly the then considerable errors of the star tables; for, even if the latitude deduced from the observations should be in error from that source, the same error would apply to all the stations on the line, which would, therefore, still be a parallel of latitude. There still remained, of course, the errors of observation and those due to differences in the force of gravity at different points, commonly called "station error." Even at this day, it is impossible to entirely avoid such errors, though those due directly to observation, to instrumental defects, and to incorrect star places have been reduced to very small quantities.

Discrepancies due to variations of gravity can be eliminated only by a geodetic connection of all the latitude stations, which would enable one to lay out a mean parallel, in the location of which each station should have its proper weight. But it is an open question whether such a line would be preferable to one fixed directly by the local observations, as was this. When, however, Mason and Dixon made deflections in their trial line without at the same time making observations for latitude, they introduced another source of uncertainty from the fact that they had no theodolite with which to accurately lay off an angle of deflection and that they were, therefore, compelled to fix the direction of each section of their line by direct astronomical observations and by a method which depended upon the exact accuracy of their time-piece, which was probably not entirely reliable. They could thus have no exact knowledge of the angles between the successive sections of their trial line and errors might thus be introduced into the computation of the offsets at intermediate points. It is fortunate that only in one instance, near the end of the work, did they run three sections of the trial line without the check afforded by astronomical latitudes.

It is a fact, that the line, as a whole, is remarkably close to a parallel of latitude through the northeast corner of Maryland, which is the nearest point to the original initial station which can now be identified. In its course from east to west the line undulates somewhat, now to the south and again to the north, but in general keeps quite close to the true curve.

In the operations looking to the resurvey and remarking of this line, which began in October, 1900, under the joint authority of the States of Pennsylvania and Maryland, and which continued, with several interruptions, until August, 1903, the sole purpose has been to reproduce, with the utmost possible accuracy, the line laid out on the ground by Mason and Dixon.

As stated, this sounds like a very simple proposition, but it often proved quite otherwise in practice. Where monuments were found in place at regular intervals of a mile, or where gaps of only two or three miles were found unmarked, the work was simple enough, but where long unmarked stretches were found, and especially where such gaps included a latitude station or one of the points at which a deflection had been made in the original trial line, very careful consideration was required to make sure of correct results. The method followed throughout the work was to trace out new trial lines, generally north of the boundary, as giving shorter offsets, and approximately parallel to the trial lines of Mason and Dixon in each locality. Of course, no trace of their trial lines was ever found, but very fortunately we have the record kept by them in their field note book, giving the observation for latitude which they made at their several stations and also the resulting offsets from their trial lines to the boundary.

It is, therefore, easy, by comparing these recorded offsets with those now found between the same monuments and any new trial line, to deduce the relations between the original and the new trial lines and then to compute and lay off the proper offset for any missing point.

As there is no dispute as to the old line of Mason and Dixon being the true state boundary, the actual latitude of the line and even the differences of latitude between different parts of the line are relatively unimportant and did not call for the expense of exact determination. The approximate bearing of each section of the trial line was, however, determined by solar observations and we have some checks on the variation of latitude in the different parts of the line by connection with the State topographic survey and by an astronomic latitude determined in 1885 by an officer of the Coast and Geodetic Survey, in connection with the remarking of the Pennsylvania and West Virginia boundary, at a point not far from the northwest corner of the State of Maryland. It is interesting to note that this astronomical determination differs very slightly from the geodetic value for the latitude in the northeast corner of Maryland, as determined by the writer in 1892, during the survey of the northern boundary of Delaware.

In connection with the running out and marking of the line, a measurement of its length was made by the stadia system, or optical distance measure. A topographical sketch was also made of the natural and artificial details along the whole course of the line, to afford means for identification of the locations of the monuments in the future and also to enable the course of the boundary at points between monuments to be recognized by reference to neighboring buildings, fences, or other existing features. This work is also of value as furnishing, in certain cases, corrections to the topographic maps of the states.

With regard to the monuments on the line, it may be said that every effort was made to preserve, whenever possible, those originally placed there by Mason and Dixon themselves, and which are frequently found in a surprisingly perfect state of preservation. This is especially noticeable in those monuments which stand in places somewhat inaccessible to visitors, from whose vandalism, indeed, has come the chief damage which these ancient landmarks have suffered during the many eventful years which have elapsed since the completion of the original survey. The monument which has suffered worst of all from the attacks of this class of visitors is that numbered 84, from the northeast corner of Maryland and situated northwest from the town of Emmitsburg. The close proximity of a large educational institution is locally reputed as the cause of this excessive vandalism. The vicinity of Emmitsburg seems to have been an unlucky one for monuments generally, none being found standing for several miles east of the one mentioned, two of this latter series being badly broken up in addition to being out of the ground, while monument 87, a little farther west, had been broken in two by a former owner of the land, as I was told, in an effort to obtain a stone for sharpening his scythe, for which service the broken fragments proved, after all, unsuitable, and monument 89 had entirely disappeared and no trace of it could be found.

Other monuments have been broken by accident, as, for example, that numbered 22 from the northeast corner of Maryland and situated a little over a mile east of the Susquehanna river. This stood in the bottom of a considerable hollow, in which, in course of time, after the cutting of the timber, a gully was formed and the monument, washing out of the eroding bank, fell across the stream and was broken into several pieces by the weight of the sand and other detritus which was soon piled upon it by the continued action of the stream. Several years since the fragments were found and removed by a resident of the locality, with the intention of having the monument repaired and replaced in its original position. It was found to be too badly broken, however, for this to be accomplished, and on the occasion of this remarking it was replaced by a new monument of Port Deposit granite, placed in a new position in the fork of the main road a short distance east of its former location, which, on account of the continued erosion by the stream flowing through the hollow, is quite unsuitable for the purpose.

It may be stated in this connection that a similar monument was placed on the west bank of the Susquehanna river, immediately between the old monuments 23 and 24, and in full view of the former, which is on the summit of the bluff on the east side of the river. Considering the extensive projects under discussion for utilizing the water power of the river in this vicinity, this may be a matter of importance. The boundary line was also cleared out through the growth of trees and bushes covering the islands in the river which are crossed by the line, though it is probable that this cutting will soon be obliterated by new growth.

Without going into undue detail in this report, it may be said in general that when broken fragments of a monument were of proper size and shape they were fastened together by iron clamps and bands and reset, and that when monuments had entirely disappeared they were replaced by other monuments of the same kind, brought from Washington county, Md., where a considerable number were found in use as door steps and carriage blocks and for other domestic purposes.

A good deal of time and trouble was expended in the effort to recover these monuments, thus diverted from their intended purpose and eventually most of them were secured and placed on the line. A few still remain in the walls of houses, whose owners refused to let them be removed. An effort was made through the state's attorney for Washington county to obtain these also, but that officer held that delivery of the monuments could not be enforced by legal process and the matter was, therefore, dropped. All of the original monuments on the line, whether found in place or supplied from the source indicated, were carefully plumbed and were set in substantial bases of concrete, which should prevent any liability of their getting out of the vertical or being otherwise moved for very many years.

The next monument east of Sideling Hill, northwest of the town of Hancock, Maryland, was the most western one set by Mason and Dixon, on account of the great difficulty of transporting these heavy blocks of stone in the then almost unbroken wilderness which covered the mountains.

From the summit of Sideling Hill to the summit of Savage mountain, the main ridge of the Allegheny mountains, the line was marked by mounds of earth and stone, sometimes of stone alone, erected on the summits of the principal mountains and ridges which it crossed.

From the summit of Savage mountain westward to the end of their work, Mason and Dixon also marked points abreast of the end of each measured mile of their trial line. Not so many of these mile mounds can now be found as of those on the summits of the ridges, due partly no doubt to their less favorable situation in regard to the chances of erosion and partly to the fact that the hill-top mounds were made somewhat larger in the first place.

Whenever one of these mounds was identified as an authentic mark, a new monument was placed as nearly as possible in the exact center of the old mound. Additional monuments were also placed at intermediate points along the whole of this western third of the boundary at sufficiently frequent intervals to remove all doubt as to the true location of the line.

No attempt was made to put these new monuments exactly one mile apart, there being no advantage worth mentioning in that system of marking, while it has the very serious disadvantage that monuments will often fall in very undesirable places, where they are of little use and where they may be very much exposed to destruction. The new monuments were, therefore, placed in what seemed the most suitable places, such as the summits of ridges, the middle points of broad valleys, the neighborhood of principal roads, etc., and at distances averaging about a mile apart, though the interval was often smaller and occasionally a little greater than one mile.

The formal and final report, giving details of operations and observations, will undoubtedly be filed so that it can be published with the report for 1904.

NEW YORK BOUNDARY LINE REPORT.

It has been usual for the States of New York and Pennsylvania to act jointly in the examination of monuments which mark the boundary line between New York and Pennsylvania, and these examinations have been made every third year for some time.

Correspondence was had with the New York State Engineer and Surveyor, and it was ascertained from him that no examinations would be made during the year 1903, for the reason that no moneys were available to defray the expenses of such an examination. Therefore, the Secretary of Internal Affairs appointed S. W. Moyer, O. P. Eaton and C. J. Wilson as commissioners to examine the monuments from the river Delaware to the southwestern corner of the State of New York, and thence north to Lake Erie.

Their report discloses the fact that the vandal is still abroad and that many of the monuments are being in whole or in part destroyed and that there ought to be more stringent laws with reference to the punishment of the lawless who mutilate or destroy these monuments which mark the boundary line between the two states in question.

The detailed report of these commissioners with reference to the condition of the boundary line monuments between New York and Pennsylvania is respectfully submitted herewith:

Harrisburg, Pa., December 24, 1903.

To Major Isaac B. Brown, Secretary of Internal Affairs of Pennsylvania:

Dear Sir: In pursuance with your letter of instructions, we respectfully submit the following as our report on the examination of boundary line monuments which mark the location of the boundary line between the states of Pennsylvania and New York.

Our examinations were commenced on the 18th day of September, 1903, and continued until completed. The first monument examined was that near the banks of the Delaware river, the same being on the south side of the road leading from Hale's Eddy to Lanesboro, said road running parallel with the Delaware river and upon the south bank thereof. Our investigations continued westerly to the southwest corner of the state of New York, and thence northerly to the northwest corner of said state, the last monument being situated on the south shore of Lake Erie.

In considering this report of the examination, it is understood that some references are made to the explanations given in the report made by the parties appointed to examine the said boundary line monuments by the states of New York and Pennsylvania, which was published in the general report of the Department of Internal Affairs for the year ending November 30, 1901.

In our descriptions of monuments, we have mentioned in each case the number of inches the top of the monument or stone extends above the surface of the ground in which it is set, the size of the monument or stone, and the inscriptions on the same, together with an account of its condition.

Respectfully submitted,

S. W. MOYER,
O. P. EATON,
J. C. WILSON.

Detailed Report of Examination of Boundary Line Monuments between the States of New York and Pennsylvania, Made in September, October and November, 1903.

September 21, 1903.

Monument No. 1. Highway Monument No. 1.

Made of granite, 12x6 inches; stands 12 inches above the surface of the ground. On south side are the letters "Pa.;" on north side, "N. Y." In good condition, located on south side of road leading from Hale's Eddy to Lanesborough. On south bank of Delaware river, four paces east of Initial Monument, and on line between properties of Elias Mereness and Day Turrell.

Monument No. 2. Initial Monument.

A shaft of Rhode Island granite, polished on the Pennsylvania and New York sides, east and west sides not polished. Size, 6 feet high, base 12x24 inches. Shaft 5 feet high and 12x20 inches. The south, or Pennsylvania, side bears the following inscription:

"Pennsylvania
James Worrall
Christopher M. Gere
Robert N. Torrey
Commissioners
600 ft. west of the N. E. corner of Penna.
C. M. Gere
Surveyor"

The New York side bears the following inscription:

"New York
Boundary Monument
1884
Henry R. Pierson
Elias W. Leavenworth
Chauncey M. Depew
Commissioners
600 ft. west of the N. E. corner of Pennsylvania
H. W. Clark
Surveyor"

Monument No. 3. Milestone No. 1.

Made of granite, 12x6 inches, stands 12 inches above surface of ground. On the south side are the letters "Pa," and on north side "N. Y.," east side "1 M.," and is in good condition. To find this monument take road leading up the hill at west end of bridge, go until wire fence is reached at pole bars across the road; thence up the road about 40 feet past bars and eight paces to the left of road to monument. On property of J. C. Olds.

Monument No. 4. Milestone No. 2.

Made of granite 6x6 inches, 9 inches above the surface of ground. On south side are the letters "Pa," and on north side "N. Y." No inscription of miles on this stone. Stands on level ground two paces from Cayuga Lake brook on west bank, at east end of wire fence in the open field, nearly in line between maple tree on opposite side of stream and large barn which stands on road to Lanesborough or Sherman. In good condition. Stands on line between Sidney Alexander and Mrs. D. Alexander. This stone stands at end of wire fence instead of 6 feet from it as stated in report of 1891.

Monument No. 5. Highway Stone No. 1.

Made of granite 12x6 inches, stands 12 inches above surface of ground. In good condition. On the south side are the letters "Pa.," and on north side "N. Y." Stands on west side of road leading from Hale's Eddy to Lanesborough, about 100 feet north of forks of road and opposite large barn. On line between Sidney Alexander and Mrs. D. Alexander.

Monument No. 6. Milestone No. 3.

Made of granite, 6x6 inches, 8 inches above surface of ground. On south side are letters "Pa.," and on north side "N. Y.," east side "3 M." In good condition. Stands in cleared field on south edge of second growth of timber, fourteen paces east of a small poplar tree, and sixty-four paces west of a tall ash tree, both trees on State Line, and stone in line of wire fence. Turn from road leading from Hale's Eddy to Lanesborough about 800 feet south of a woolen mill in the village of Sherman, thence along a creek by a good road on the left bank of creek to Monument No. 7, thence east through fields to house of E. A. Bronson, and thence through ravine to top of steep hill and find location of stone on steep southerly slope. No sign of road near this stone. On line between A. Connor and E. A. Bronson.

Monument No. 7. Milestone No. 4.

Made of granite, 12x6 inches, 14 inches above the surface of ground. On south side are the letters "Pa.," on north side "N. Y.," and on east side "4 M." Southeast corner chipped; otherwise in good condition. Stands on north side of road leading from Sherman to Aquago Lake, on bank about 8 feet higher than road bed and thirty paces east from twin maples on line. This stone serves as the fourth milestone as well as Highway Stone No. 1. On property of William Gordner and Frank Latell.

Monument No. 8. Milestone No. 5.

Made of granite, 6x6 inches, 6 inches above surface of ground. On south side are the letters "Pa.," on north side "N. Y.," and on east side "5 M." In good condition. Stands in open field sixty paces northeast of white ash tree, about 20 feet southwest from a big boulder on easterly slope in stony land 800 feet southwest from an old house. On property of George Lee.

September 22, 1903.

Monument No. 9. Highway Stone No. 1.

Made of granite, 12x6 inches, 10 inches above surface of ground.

On south side are the letters "Pa.," on north side "N. Y." North-east corner badly chipped; otherwise in good condition. Stands on west side of road leading from Sherman to Danville, about 800 feet south of Talmadge House. On property of John Lake and Harvey Kelsey.

Monument No. 10. Milestone No. 6.

Made of granite, 6x6 inches, 4 inches above surface of ground. On south side are the letters "Pa.," on north side "N. Y.," and on east side "S. M." In good condition. Stands 155 feet west of Monument No. 9, in a growth of small trees at foot of hill, sloping east, brush on south side, cleared field on north side and surrounded by a good-sized stone pile. On line between F. S. Merrick and Henry Arnicke.

Monument No. 11. Highway Stone No. 1.

Made of granite, 12x6 inches, 16 inches above surface of ground. On south side are the letters "Pa.," and on north side "N. Y." Southeast and southwest corners chipped; otherwise in good condition. Stands on west side of road leading from Danville to Stevens Point, at the foot of a steep hill, 104 paces south of forks of road. On line between F. S. Merrick and John Hemingway.

Monument No. 12. Highway Stone No. 2.

Made of granite, 12x6 inches, 14 inches above surface of ground. On the south side are the letters "Pa.," on north side "N. Y." Southeast corner chipped; otherwise in good condition. Stands on top of hill at south side of boundary line road leading from Stevens Point to Danville; on south side undergrowth and cleared fields on north side. On line between F. S. Merrick and John Hemingway.

Monument No. 13. Highway Stone No. 3. County Corner Stone No. 1.

Made of granite, 12x6 inches, 18 inches above the surface of ground. On south side are the letters "Pa.," and below these, on the east side of south face, is the letter "W.;" on west side of south face are the letters "S. Co.," and on north side "N. Y." Stands on south side of boundary line road, in corner of rail fence, near track of road. Meadow on the east, woods on north and west. This stone marks the corners of Susquehanna and Wayne counties, in Pennsylvania. Road turns to southwest at this point. On line between the property of Alexander and Hemingway, in Pennsylvania, and H. Decker, in New York.

Monument No. 14. Milestone No. 7.

Made of granite, 6x6 inches, 6 inches above surface of ground. On south side are the letters "Pa.," on north side "N. Y.," and on east side "7 M." Northwest corner chipped; otherwise in good condition. Stands one-third of a mile east of Deep Hollow road, in a deep depression of side hill; a cluster of small trees on both sides of line about 35 feet south of three black cherry trees, and 1,692 feet east of Monument No. 15. On line between property of Wm. Seamens and the Bishop estate.

Monument No. 15. Highway Stone No. 1.

Made of granite, 12x6 inches, 18 inches above the surface of ground. On south side are the letters "Pa.," on north side "N. Y." Stands on west side of road known as Deep Hollow road. Leans slightly to the north and is loose in ground, otherwise in good condition. On property of Elias Decker.

Monument No. 16. Milestone No. 8.

Made of granite, 6x6 inches, 6 inches above surface of ground. On south side are the letters "Pa." on north side "N. Y.," and on east side "8 M." In good condition. Stands about 700 feet west of George Kuhn's house, five paces northwest of two large bowlders, on a hillside; cleared field on north side, on south side briar patch. On line between G. P. Kuhn and Mr. Kesler.

September 23, 1903.

Monument No. 17. Milestone No. 9.

Made of granite, 6x6 inches, 6 inches above surface of ground. On south side are the letters "Pa.," on north side "N. Y." and on east side "9 M." Stands in a thick briar patch, 42 paces southwest of two large maple trees. Following a road back of one O'Day's house, through woods into cleared fields, thence through a strip of meadow land to the two large maples which stand in a burnt district, now grown up to briars, and very stony, with some difficulty one may find this stone. On line between W. H. O'Day and Mumford.

Monument No. 18. Highway Stone No. 1.

Made of granite, 12x6 inches, 12 inches above surface of ground. On south side are the letters "Pa.," on north side "N. Y." south-east corner chipped; otherwise in good condition. Stands on east side of road known as Pig Pen Run, not much traveled, 250 paces north of Aldrich's house. On line between H. Aldrich and Lill Smith.

Monument No. 19. Town Stone No. 1.

Made of granite, 6x6 inches, 18 inches above surface of ground, has diagonal grooves. On southwest side are the letters "Pa.," on northwest side the letter "W.," southeast side "S.," marking the corners of the towns of Sanford and Windsor, in Broom county, N. Y. Stands in cleared field, underbrush and stone wall fence, near which it stands, on north side; is about 440 feet east of Monument No. 20. On line between P. F. O'Rourke and H. Aldrich.

Monument No. 20. Milestone No. 10.

Made of granite, 6x6 inches, 6 inches above surface of ground. On south side are the letters "Pa.," on north side "N. Y." and on east side "10 M." In good condition, stands in line of wire fence, 152 paces east of Monument No. 21. On south side are cleared fields, on north side heavy underbrush. Is about 40 feet south of a large burnt stump which stands in clearing. On line between H. Aldrich and Warren Patrick.

Monument No. 21. Highway Stone No. 1.

Made of granite, 6x6 inches, 6 inches above surface of ground. On south side are the letters "Pa.," on north side "N. Y.," in good condition. On south side dense thicket, on north side cleared field, 605 feet west of Monument No. 20, and 50 feet west of an old road, not much used, thus making the stone of little use as a highway stone. On line between Henry Aldrich and Warren Patrick.

Monument No. 22. Milestone No. 11.

Made of granite, 6x6 inches, 6 inches above surface of ground. In good condition. On south side are the letters "Pa.," on north side "N. Y.," and on east side "11 M." Stands about 1,356 feet east of Monument No. 23, 28 paces east of a maple tree on line and 7 paces north of a beech tree, which is about 10 inches in diameter. In second growth woods. On line between Mrs. Grimm and Frank Plunket.

Monument No. 23. Highway Stone No. 1.

Made of granite, 12x6 inches, 14 inches above surface of ground, and in good condition. On south side are the letters "Pa.," on north side "N. Y." Stands on west side of the East Cascade Valley road, about 25 feet southeast from a pine tree, and about 300 feet north of Mrs. Grimm's house. On line between Mrs. Grimm and Frank Plunket.

Monument No. 24. Highway Stone No. 2.

Made of granite, 12x6 inches, 8 inches above surface of ground. On south side are the letters "Pa." on north side "N. Y." North-east and northwest corners chipped; otherwise in good condition. Stands on east side of West Cascade Valley road, about 700 feet south of Mrs. Grimm's house. On line between S. C. Rice and Mrs. C. H. Grimm.

Monument No. 25. Railroad Stone No. 1.

Made of granite, 6x6 inches. Top of stone level with road grade and all corners and edges broken below the lettering. Stands between two tracks of the Erie Railroad; a sign board stands on west side of tracks with "Pennsylvania" on the south side and "New York" on north side.

Monument No. 26. Milestone No. 12.

Made of granite, 6x6 inches, 2 inches above surface of ground or stone pile. On south side are the letters "Pa.," on north side "N. Y.," and on east side "12 M." In good condition. Turn from the West Cascade road at the old stone dock at the railroad; go up a steep hill to abandoned quarry, then west by a good path for about 500 feet to the summit of the ridge. At this point can be seen the line across the river on the opposite mountain. The stone stands just where the ground slopes to the north quite steeply, and north of a big boulder 4 or 5 feet high, which forms a table or cave. Thirteen paces northeast from four or five big rocks lined up north and south and from 8 to 10 feet high. Is in quite heavy timber, but at this point one can see out of woods. Witness trees about stone; is quite difficult to find.

Monument No. 27. Highway Stone No. 1.

Made of granite, 12x6 inches, 8 inches above surface of ground. On south side are the letters "Pa.," on north side "N. Y." It stands in a meadow, 10 paces east of the left bank of the Chemung river and about 50 feet south of the high embankment of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad. On property of the D., L. & W. R. R.

Monument No. 152. Milestone No. 61.

The Report of the Department of Internal Affairs for 1901, page 64 A gives the location of this monument as being on the right bank of the Chemung river at foot of slope of a high embankment of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad; buried under a pile of loose rocks and stones beneath a log which stands in an upright position and whose end rests upon the stone; 21.1 feet south of the west abutment of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad bridge and in line with a point 6 inches east of the face of the abutment above the bridge seat. We found that the embankment now extends some 30 feet south of the west abutment of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad bridge; therefore, the stone must be buried deeper under stones, logs, timbers, dirt and cinders than when the above mentioned report was made, and consequently we did not find this stone. The Railroad Company should unearth this monument.

Monument No. 153. Railroad Stone No. 1.

Made of granite 6x6 inches, its top is level with the road grade and its corners and edges are badly chipped. On south side are the letters "Pa." on north side "N. Y." Stands between the two tracks of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad on whose north side is a sign post with a V shaped board on top and the word "Pennsylvania" on the southwest side and "New York" on northwest side; is on a high embankment about 300 feet west of the west end of bridge. On property of the D., L. & W. R. R.

Monument No. 154. Highway Stone No. 1.

It is lettered on the east face as follows: "Meridian of the west end of Lake Ontario, State of New York; 18 miles, 52.5 chains from the north boundary of Pennsylvania. Aug. 23d, 1790." The west face is marked as follows: "Territory annexed to the State of Pennsylvania, north latitude 42 degrees 16 minutes and 13 seconds, variation 25 seconds west." The north side is marked as follows: "1869. Latitude of this stone 42 deg. 15 min. 57.9 seconds. Longitude of this stone 79 deg. 45 min. 54.4 seconds. Variation 2 deg. 35 min.

west." The south side is marked as follows: "1869. Erected by the State of New York and Pennsylvania, 440 feet south of Mon. now dilapidated, on which were the inscriptions on the east and west faces of this Mon." This monument was set in 1869, 440 feet south of the original monument in 1790. It was readjusted in alignment in 1885. Stands in cultivated land, on level ground, 150 feet north of Monument No. 49, and is at this date in good condition. Is on line between the properties of Garrett Felton and J. Connor.

Monument No. 51. Bluff Stone.

Made of granite, 6x6 inches, stands 4 inches above surface of ground and was found in good condition. On west side are the letters "Pa.," and on east side "N. Y." Stands upon the bluff overlooking Lake Erie, 40 feet south of the site of the original Initial Monument of 1790; is about 40 feet south of the bluff on the east side of a small ravine and is 550 feet north of Monument No. 49. Is on line between the properties of Garrett Felton and J. Connor.

In concluding this report, the attention of the Department of Internal Affairs is called to the fact that a portion of the line through what may be designated as the "Wilderness" is exceedingly difficult to follow and it is recommended that the lines be fully marked and the underbrush cut out from Monument 371 west to Monument 372, and from Monument 376 west to Monument 382, also from Monument 389 to Monument 417. If this should be done, it will enable those who are to examine the monuments hereafter to find the monuments without the expenditure of so much energy and time in searching for them.

In giving the descriptions of monuments it was the intention to make mention of each monument excepting the stones which mark railroad crossings which in many cases were found badly broken, evidencing the fact that the representatives of the railroad companies have been careless and have not been sparing of destruction or partial destruction.

It is recommended that all monuments which are leaning or are loose in their positions or are broken off completely, that they be reset or replaced at the earliest day possible.

Respectfully submitted,

S. W. MOYER,
O. P. EATON,
J. C. WILSON.

THE OHIO AND WEST VIRGINIA BOUNDARY LINE.

As disclosed by the report for the year ending November 30, 1902, an examination was made by Messrs. S. W. Moyer, O. P. Eaton and C. J. Wilson of the monuments on the western boundary line of the State, from the shores of Lake Erie to the southwestern corner of the State. This report showed that a number of monuments were partially displaced and should be reset.

After the filing of the report from the Commissioners, correspondence was had with the Secretary of State of Ohio and the Secretary of State of West Virginia, asking for co-operation in the resetting of the monuments. No authority seems to have been conferred upon any state officer in these states by which they could act jointly with Pennsylvania in doing this necessary work. It was, therefore, deemed that it would be expedient for the State of Pennsylvania to authorize the resetting of the monuments where they had not been entirely removed from their proper position. That is, it was thought that monuments partially upheaved by the frost, which would soon be entirely out of place should be reset, and that no injury could be done to either of the states whose boundary lines are marked by such monuments. Certainly if they were not to receive early attention, some of them might be entirely displaced, and they could only be relocated by an expensive resurvey. Thus it seemed proper for the State of Pennsylvania to act alone, and accordingly the following instructions were given to the Commissioners above referred to:

August 14, 1903.

Messrs. S. W. Moyer, O. P. Eaton and J. C. Wilson, Examiners of Western Boundary Line Monuments of Pennsylvania:

Gentlemen: I beg to refer to you the report of the examination of boundary line monuments made to this office, and which is published in the general report of this Department for the year ending November 30, 1902.

In your report of examination of monuments between Pennsylvania and West Virginia, you appear not to have found milestones 23 6-10, 37 1-10 and 47 8-10. It is important that the conditions of these monuments be ascertained and reported to this office. With this letter is transmitted to you a map containing information which will undoubtedly enable you to locate the three missing monuments and ascertain their conditions, or if they have been displaced from their proper location you will be able undoubtedly to ascertain that fact, and report the same to this office. If you find that they are partially displaced and are certain that you can replace them exactly in their proper location, you are hereby authorized and directed to so replace them, taking particular care that they are reset in a substantial manner.

In regard to the boundary line monuments between the states of Pennsylvania and Ohio, the report aforesaid indicates that milestones 13, 17, 20, 25, 32, 33 and 35 are more or less displaced from their proper position. Some of them lean slightly and others lean badly.

These stones which are herein designated as milestones are known in the report as index stones. The monument proper is situated beneath the surface and the index stone placed immediately above it.

You are hereby authorized and directed to reset all the index stones in the boundary line between Pennsylvania and Ohio to which I have referred as being out of their proper position. Under no circumstances will you disturb the monument itself, but you will clear the dirt entirely off the top of the monument and carefully reset the index stone thereon, being careful that it is placed securely and in a perpendicular position. The earth should be tamped down thoroughly around the same after it is reset, and anything that can be reasonably done and not interfere with the public travel or with the rights of adjoining land owners, should be done to protect these index stones from destruction or displacement.

It is suggested that you assemble at Corry, on Tuesday, the 18th instant, and proceed to Pittsburg, and commence your operations from the south, proceeding northwardly, until the duties imposed by this letter of instructions are fully completed.

A detailed statement of expenses shall be kept and submitted with the report which may be made of the work done in pursuance of these instructions. You will please take proper care of the map which is sent to you herewith, showing the position of the boundary line monuments between Pennsylvania and West Virginia, and return it with your report.

To enable you to defray the expenses incident to the discharge of the duties imposed upon you, a check made to the order of Silas W. Moyer is sent to you herewith. Should this not be sufficient to defray expenses, you will communicate with this Department and give an estimate of the additional amount required. A voucher is transmitted herewith for this amount, which will be signed by Mr. Moyer and returned immediately to this office.

I think you are already in possession of the map showing the location of the monuments between Pennsylvania and Ohio, although it may not be necessary for you to use the same in discharging the duties imposed herein. When you are through with your work, however, you had better return such map with your report, as these maps are very scarce and should be preserved so far as may be possible.

Very truly yours,
ISAAC B. BROWN,
Secretary.

The report of the work of these Commissioners was made to the Department and filed as a part of the records relating to boundary line monuments, and is as follows:

Corry, Pa., March 15, 1904.

Hon. Isaac B. Brown, Secretary of Internal Affairs, Harrisburg, Pa.:

Dear Sir: In compliance with your instructions of August 14, 1903, directing us to examine and reset such boundary line monuments along the state lines between Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia as we might find displaced or in need of resetting, we beg to report that we commenced the work on August 18th by proceeding to Collier Station, on the Pittsburg, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis Railroad, where we found the civil engineer of that road, who informed us that he had orders to reset Milestone No. 45 5-10. The condition of this monument is described in detail in our examination report of November 30, 1902.

In regard to Milestone 25 9-10, as mentioned in our report of 1902, it should read 23 9-10 instead of 25 9-10, as printed in that report.

On August 20 we found and examined Milestone No. 37 3-10. On the west side of this monument are the letters "W. V.," on the north side the figures "1883," and on the east side the letter "P." One corner of this stone is chipped; otherwise it is in good condition. We also reset Milestone No. 37 8-10.

On August 21st we reset Milestone No. 52 1-10 and No. 52 8-10. On the same day we found Milestone No. 47 4-10, on the south side of which are the figures "47 4-10," on the north side "1883," on the west side the letters "W. V.," and on the east side the letter "P."

This completed our work on the Pennsylvania and West Virginia line, and we proceeded thence to the Ohio line.

On August 24th we commenced work on the last-named line, and reset Milestones Nos. 37 and 35.

On August 25th, we reset Milestones Nos. 33, 32 and 25.

On August 26th we reset Milestones Nos. 20, 17, 16 and 13. The last named is an index stone, located 25 feet west of the monument to which it is an index.

Our field work as per your instructions being closed at this point, we beg to remain,

Very respectfully,

S. W. MOYER,
O. P. EATON,
J. C. WILSON.

THEO. B. KLEIN,
Deputy Secretary.

The application was then examined, a patent prepared and signed by the Secretary of Internal Affairs and presented to the Governor for his signature.

On the 14th of July the following letter was received from Mr. Wilson:

The Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Company,
Pottsville, Pa., July 14, 1903.

Hon. Isaac B. Brown, Secretary of Internal Affairs, Harrisburg, Pa.:

Dear Sir: Referring to your letter of the 9th ultimo, respecting patent applied for by the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Company for 94 acres and 151 perches land in Mt. Carmel township, Northumberland county, surveyed on warrant to Frank Carter, dated March 31, 1877, in which you state that the patent will be issued as soon as it can be prepared.

Will you kindly send me a certified copy of the "Application for patent," and advise me how soon we may expect to receive the patent, obliging,

Very respectfully yours,

K. C. WILSON,
Land Agent.

In the absence of the Secretary of Internal Affairs, the following reply was made by the Deputy:

Mr. K. C. Wilson, Pottsville, Pa.:

Dear Sir: In answer to your letter of the 14th instant, I send you herewith a certified copy of the application of the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Company for land in Northumberland county.

The patent on the Frank Carter warrant has been written and presented to the Governor for his signature, which is withheld on account of the statement made in brief of title, that Carter acted as trustee for the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Company, and his estate made no transfer.

The Secretary dictated the wording of the patent, and as he will be absent until the 24th, I ask your indulgence until his return. In the meantime, would it be possible in any way to amend the application so as to have Carter's heirs release or assign?

Bill for fifty cents, amount of office fee, is inclosed.

Very truly yours,

THEO. B. KLEIN,
Deputy Secretary.

Upon the return of the Secretary, he addressed the following letter to Mr. Wilson:

August 6, 1903.

Mr. K. C. Wilson, Land Agent, Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Company, Pottsville, Pa.:

Dear Sir: Referring to your letter of July 14, and to the patent which was prepared by this office in pursuance of an application made by the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Company for a tract of land situated in the township of Mt. Carmel, and county of Northumberland, I beg to say that it would be well for you to have an affidavit prepared and properly verified, setting forth the facts in the case: That the party to whom the warrant was granted for the land described in the patent acted in the capacity of a trustee, or made his application in the interest of the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Company; that he has not exercised any rights of ownership over the property so described since the granting of the warrant and that the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Company has continued to exercise ownership over said tract of land, paying the taxes and treating the same as its own property for so many years (mentioning the number of years).

If you will have such an affidavit prepared and forwarded to me, I will have a conference with the Governor and ask him to sign the patent.

Very truly yours,

ISAAC B. BROWN,
Secretary.

In response to this request, the following letter and affidavit were received:

The Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Company,
Pottsville, Pa., August 8, 1903.

Hon. Isaac B. Brown, Secretary of Internal Affairs, Harrisburg, Pa.

Dear Sir: I beg to acknowledge receipt of your favor of the 6th instant in reference to the application of this company for a patent to be issued to it by the Commonwealth for 94 acres and 151 perches and allowance in Mt. Carmel township, Northumberland county, surveyed to Frank Carter May 2, 1877, on a warrant to him granted March 31, 1877.

In compliance with your letter, I respectfully hand you herewith my affidavit setting forth that the ownership of this land has been held by The Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Company for thirty-one years and upwards and that Frank Carter, the warrantee, never exercised any acts of ownership over the property since he applied for the warrant, etc.

Trusting that this will answer your purpose and thanking you very much for the kind interest you have taken in our behalf, I am,

Very respectfully yours,

K. C. WILSON,
Land Agent.

Schuylkill County, ss:

Before me, the subscriber, a notary public in and for said county, personally came and appeared Kimber C. Wilson, who being duly sworn, deposes and says that he is a resident of Pottsville, in said county; that the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Company is the present owner of a certain tract of land situate in Mt. Carmel township, Northumberland county, Pennsylvania, which was surveyed on the second day of May, A. D. 1877, as containing 94 acres and 151 perches, and allowance, in pursuance of a warrant granted to Frank Carter, on the 31st day of March, A. D. 1877; that the said Frank Carter, at the date of the said warrant, was the land agent of the said company, and made his application for the warrant in the interest of the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Company; that he has not exercised any rights of ownership over the property so described since the granting of the warrant, and that the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Company has continued to exercise ownership over said tract of land, paying the taxes and treating the same as its own property for thirty-one years and upwards.

KIMBER C. WILSON.

Sworn to and subscribed before me this eighth day of August, A. D. 1903.

(Seal.)

WALTER I. RAHN,

Notary Public.

My commission will expire January 19, 1907.

On the 11th of August an official communication was addressed to the Governor as follows:

August 11, 1903.

Hon. Samuel W. Pennypacker, Harrisburg, Pa.:

Governor: This Department granted a patent to the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Company, bearing date the 2d day of July, 1903, for a tract of land situated in the township of Mt. Carmel, and county of Northumberland, containing 94 acres, 151 perches of land, with the usual allowance of six per cent. This was duly presented to you for your signature, but I understand that you informed an employe of this Department that you would not sign the patent on account of some alleged defect in the chain of title from the Commonwealth to the present owners of the tract. I went over this matter very carefully before the patent was prepared, and I am of the opinion beyond any question, that the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Company is entitled to the patent, that they are the actual owners of the land and that the Commonwealth would be entirely justified, under the laws, in granting a patent to that corporation.

I inclose an affidavit made by Mr. Wilson, the land agent of this corporation, who swears that his corporation has exercised rights of ownership over this tract for more than thirty years, paying taxes upon it, and that the person to whom the warrant was granted was, at the time of making the application, acting for the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Company; that he has never personally exercised any rights of ownership or paid taxes upon the same, and that the land has always been regarded as the property of the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Company.

An exercise of ownership for twenty-one years would give this corporation the right to the patent. Therefore, it is a case in which there can be no question. But if there were a question, and the patent through misrepresentation or other reason, were granted to the wrong person who had no rights to the land in question, that person would acquire no title to the land described in the patent. He would simply be a trustee for the rightful owner of the land, and the patent itself would confer no title, only evidence of the fact that the purchase money, interest and fees due the Commonwealth had been paid. This is in line with the decisions of the Supreme Court on this subject. While the granting of a patent under these conditions is not a parallel case, I only refer to it for the reason that if by chance there could be any mistake in this case, the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Company could not acquire any title to the land in question by reason of the granting to it of the patent which is again submitted to you for your signature.

If you refuse to sign this patent, will you have the kindness to give your reasons, that they may be made a part of the record of this Department.

Please return the patent, with the affidavit and the letter of transmissal at the earliest moment possible, as there has been considerable delay in disposing of the matter.

Very truly yours,
ISAAC B. BROWN,
Secretary.

The following acknowledgment was received from the Executive Department:

August 13, 1903.

Hon. I. B. Brown, Secretary Department of Internal Affairs, Harrisburg, Pa.:

Dear Sir: In the absence of the Governor, I beg leave to acknowledge the receipt of yours of the 11th instant; also, affidavit relative to patent for land of the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Company, and to say that immediately upon the Governor's return to Harrisburg, I shall take pleasure in placing your communication before him.

Very truly yours,
BROMLEY WHARTON,
Private Secretary.

No reply having been received from the Governor, he was again addressed under date of December 29, as follows:

December 29, 1903.

Hon. Samuel W. Pennypacker, Governor of the Commonwealth, Harrisburg, Pa.:

My Dear Governor: A patent was granted by this Department to the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Company, bearing date the second day of July, 1903, for a certain tract of land situated in the township of Mt. Carmel, and county of Northumberland. It was placed in your hands for your signature, it having previously been signed by me, as Secretary of Internal Affairs. It was returned without your signature and without any written reasons given for your refusal to sign it.

On the 11th day of August, I addressed an official communication to you, accompanying the same with an affidavit as to the ownership of the land which was covered by the patent, and referred in extensio to the laws in relation to the granting of patents, etc., and requested that the patent be signed and returned to this office, together with the affidavit and a letter of transmissal. No attention appears to have been paid to this request. Some time ago I had a personal interview with you and explained the law, as applicable to the case in question, and requested that you sign the patent at the earliest day possible.

The delay has been so great in this matter that I feel obliged to again call your attention to the case and ask you to either sign the patent, or return it with the accompanying papers to me with your reasons for refusing to sign it.

I think I am not going beyond the bounds of propriety in asking that this be done in order that there be no further delay in transacting my official duties with reference to this particular case.

I may say, in conclusion, that the papers are all regular in this case; the proceedings are in conformity with the practice of the Land Office, the Surveyor General's Office and the Land Office Bureau of this Department, covering a period of more than a century, and why this matter should be held up after the explanations have been fully given, I am at a loss to understand. Will you kindly reply?

Very truly yours,
ISAAC B. BROWN,
Secretary.

To this a reply was made by the Governor under date of December 30, as follows:

December 30, 1903.

Hon. Isaac B. Brown, Secretary of Internal Affairs, Harrisburg, Pa.:

Dear Sir: The reason that the patent of July 2, 1903, to the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Company has not up to this time been approved by me was because of the doubt which I entertained as to the propriety of its issue. The reasons for this doubt were that the warrant was granted to Frank Carter, and it is proposed to issue a patent to the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Company without any evidence of a conveyance of the interests of Carter. It is alleged that Carter secured the warrant as trustee for the applicant. My suggestion was that Carter file an affidavit or indicate his assent. So far as I am informed, this has not been done and no reason has been given why it could not be done. This addition to the record would remove all my difficulties. But if the applicant prefers to have the matter determined upon the papers as they stand, I think he is entitled to have it done promptly and I think further that prompt action by me is due to your office.

I may add that the affidavit which sets forth that the applicant has exercised ownership and paid taxes for thirty-one years, five years before any warrant was issued, and when the land certainly belonged to the State, also leads to inquiry.

Very truly yours,
SAMUEL W. PENNYPACKER.

The patent not having been returned, on February 26 another letter was addressed to the Governor, as follows:

February 26, 1904.

Hon. Samuel W. Pennypacker, Governor of the Commonwealth, Harrisburg, Pa.:

Dear Sir: I respectfully call your attention to my letter to you under date of December 29, 1903, and to other correspondence which has reference to the granting of a patent to the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Company, which was prepared last July, bearing date of July 2, 1903, and placed in your hands for your signature.

It is quite apparent from your long delay in disposing of this case that you do not desire to sign this patent. I have heretofore requested that you either sign the same or return it with your reasons for refusing to sign it, in order that I might make the records of this office complete.

I again respectfully ask that you return this patent if you are to withhold your signature from it, or if you have concluded to sign it I respectfully ask that it be returned to this office at once.

Very truly yours,
ISAAC B. BROWN,
Secretary.

A reply was received from the Governor under date of February 27, as follows:

February 27, 1904.

Dear Sir: I wrote to you with respect to the application for the patent to the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Company on the 30th of December, 1903, suggesting that the affidavit of Mr. Carter be filed and continuing as follows: "But if the applicant prefers to have the matter determined upon the papers as they stand, I think he is entitled to have it done promptly and I think further that prompt action by me is due to your office." Is it the wish of the applicant that I shall decide the question upon the papers now before me?

Very truly yours,

SAML. W. PENNYPACKER.

Hon. Isaac B. Brown, Secretary of the Department of Internal Affairs, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

On February 29 the following letter was addressed to the Governor:

Hon. Samuel W. Pennypacker, Governor of the Commonwealth, Harrisburg, Pa.:

Dear Sir: Referring to your letter of February 27, which relates to the granting of a patent to the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Company, I beg to say that no further evidence has been presented to me regarding the title to the land described in the patent which awaits your signature. The whereabouts of Mr. Carter is unknown. Many years ago he ceased to be the agent of the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Company and never exercised any rights of ownership over the land in question, as is shown by the affidavit attached to the patent now in your hands.

Assuming that you do not desire to sign this patent, will you have the kindness to hand it, with the accompanying affidavit, to the bearer, and greatly oblige,

Very truly yours,
ISAAC B. BROWN,
Secretary.

The Governor refused to deliver the patent to the bearer of the foregoing letter, but immediately addressed the following communication to the Department, with which the patent and accompanying affidavit were returned:

February 29, 1904.

Dear Sir: I regret that I am unable to approve the patent proposed to be issued to the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Company for 94 acres, 151 perches of land in the township of Mt. Carmel, county of Northumberland, dated the second day of July, one thousand nine hundred and three.

It appears from the papers before me that a warrant was issued March 31, 1877, to Frank Carter. It is now alleged that Carter took the warrant as a trustee for the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Company. Since the granting of the patent would give a prima facie title to the patentee and since the lands may be of considerable value, care ought to be exercised in the granting of the patent. Since it frequently happens that warrants are taken out by one man, who pays the fees and charges, in the name of another, the courts have been liberal in allowing testimony to be presented to show who was the actual owner. In most of the cases, the important question has been to whom did the moneys belong upon which the warrant was secured. In the present case it is not alleged that the money belonged to the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Company and it is set forth that the warrant was issued in consideration of "moneys paid by Frank Carter." To offset the issue of the warrant in the name of Carter and the payment of the moneys by Carter, we have only the affidavit of Kimber C. Wilson, who says that the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Company "has continued to exercise ownership over said tract of land, paying taxes and treating the same as its own property for thirty-one years and upwards." These are very general statements. In what way it exercised ownership we are not told. What taxes it has paid are not set forth.

Very truly yours,

SAML. W. PENNYPACKER.

Hon. Isaac B. Brown, Secretary of Internal Affairs, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

The proceedings of the Department and the correspondence had in this case are given in extensio here for the reason that the refusal on the part of the Governor to sign a patent raises the question as to whether the Department had proceeded on lines that were in accord with the laws of the Commonwealth, the practices of the Surveyor General's office and the practices of the Department of Internal Affairs.

The case is so clear a one that it does not admit of the shadow of a doubt. It is impossible in thousands of cases to give every link in the chain of title from the warrantee down to the present owner of a tract of land which has not yet been patented.

As is indicated by the correspondence above, the possession of a piece of unpatented land for a period of twenty-one years; the exercising of rights of ownership, the payment of taxes, the caring for the property, together with an affidavit that no other party is known to be interested, directly or indirectly in the land, creates a prima facie case of the right of the applicant to the patent.

In the case in question the man who made the application, as is disclosed by the affidavits accompanying the application for the patent and supplemental thereto, was an employe of the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Company; the purchase money was paid by the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Company; the taxes were paid by that corporation and all rights of ownership were also exercised by that company.

It is due to this corporation that the proceedings of the Department be published in full in order that it may be understood that it was no fault of this office that it has not been put in possession of the patent to which it is entitled under the laws of the Commonwealth and the practices of this Department.

The balance of the purchase money, interest and fees due on this tract of land has been paid by the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Company and has been covered into the State Treasury, and it is beyond the power of this Department to get this money out of the State Treasury in order that it may be returned to the company on account of the refusal of the Governor to sign the patent for the land in question.

The Department of Internal Affairs has exercised the greatest care and used its utmost endeavors to grant this patent, and there is nothing further to do except to await developments.

BUREAU OF INDUSTRIAL STATISTICS.

The annual report of this Bureau is bound separately and known as Part III of the Department of Internal Affairs.

The report of Pennsylvania's Industrial Statistics for 1903 will complete the thirtieth year of the Bureau's existence, and also complete the seventh year of a ten years' comparative series covering the operations of certain plants, originally 921 in number, which survive in the so-called "1896 Comparative Series." The publication includes reports of the products, value, wages, number of employes and capital invested in the tin plate, pig iron, rolled iron and steel, steel castings and textile industries, and covers the same items in the anthracite and bituminous coal field.

In addition to the foregoing the Bureau, for the first time, entered (to occupy permanently) the statistical field of labor; i. e., it began the collection of facts and figures from not only employers of male, female and minor labor, but also from labor organizations. Present limitations, in this new enterprise, restraining the Bureau, it was impossible to cover the whole State in this important work.

For convenience, therefor, three districts, or sections of the State, (1) Philadelphia, Textile Labor; (2) Anthracite Counties, Anthracite Labor, and (3) Pittsburg, Structural Iron, Tin Plate and Bituminous Labor, were designated.

The classification of wages as paid male, female and minor labor in Pennsylvania in this report will supply information upon a vital subject, respecting which inquiry has been increasing and insistent.

The subject matter in the report, of organized labor, was furnished by the secretaries of the local labor organizations in the three sections named.

The labor reports made by the employers of labor throughout the State cover the industries above specified.

The annual report of the Bureau of Statistics for 1903 will prove an important public record and of very present value to the great industrial interests to which it pertains.

BUREAU OF RAILWAYS.

In Pennsylvania, such duties as are exercised in the way of supervision over common carrier corporations are imposed upon the Secretary of Internal Affairs. Section 19 of Article IV of the Constitution upon this subject is as follows:

"Section 19. The Secretary of Internal Affairs shall exercise all the powers and perform all the duties of the Surveyor General, subject to such changes as shall be made by law. His Department shall embrace a Bureau of Industrial Statistics, and he shall discharge such duties relating to corporations, to the charitable institutions, the agricultural, manufacturing, mining, mineral, timber and other material or business interests of the State as may be prescribed by law. He shall, annually, and at such other times as may be required by law, make report to the General Assembly."

Again, in section 11, Article XVII, provision is made for the discharge of certain duties in relation to transportation companies which, before the adoption of the new Constitution, were imposed upon the Auditor General. This section of the Constitution is as follows:

"Section 11. The existing powers and duties of the Auditor General in regard to railroads, canals and other transportation companies, except as to their accounts, are hereby transferred to the Secretary of Internal Affairs, who shall have a general supervision over them, subject to such regulations and alterations as shall be provided by law; and, in addition to the annual reports now required to be made, said Secretary may require special reports at any time upon any subject relating to the business of said companies from any officer or officers thereof."

For the enforcement of these provisions of the Constitution, several acts of Assembly have been passed and are submitted herewith, so far as they relate to the powers and duties of the Secretary of Internal Affairs:

Extract from "An act regulating the election of Secretary of Internal Affairs, defining his duties, etc.," approved the 11th day of May, 1874 (P. L. 135).

Section 4. * * * The Secretary of Internal Affairs shall discharge such duties relating to corporations, to the charitable institutions, the agricultural, manufacturing, mining, mineral, timber and other material or business interests of the State as may be prescribed by law. It shall be his especial duty to exercise a watchful supervision over the railroad, banking, mining, manufacturing and other business corporations of the State, and to see that they confine themselves strictly within their corporate limits; and in case any citizen or citizens shall charge, under oath, any corporation with transcending its corporate functions or infringing upon the rights of individual citizens, said Secretary shall carefully investigate such charges, and may require from said corporation a special report, as enjoined in the Constitution of the State; and in case he believes the charges are just, and the matter complained of is beyond the ordinary province of individual redress, he shall certify his opinion to the Attorney General of the State, whose duty it shall be, by an appropriate legal remedy, to redress the same by a proceeding in the courts at the expense of the State. * * *

Section 5. * * * The Secretary of Internal Affairs, or any authorized deputy of his, in any matter pertaining to his Department, may, in case of doubt, call before him witnesses, and examine them under oath or affirmation, reducing their testimony to writing and filing the same, to explain the reason of his action in any case.

AN ACT

To further amend an act approved April 9th, 1870, "requiring railroad, canal, navigation and telegraph companies to make uniform reports to the Auditor General," which act, as amended by the act of April 13, 1889, extended its provisions to telephone companies, and conforming to the requirements of the Constitution, provided for the filing of such reports with the Secretary of Internal Affairs, and regulated the time for the filing of the same, which said act is now further amended as to give time of forwarding blanks for such reports, and the provisions of said act are extended to include all corporations owning or operating lines of railways, canals, transportation, telegraphs or telephones located in whole or in part in Pennsylvania, approved the 19th day of April, 1897.

Section 1. That the Secretary of Internal Affairs be and he is hereby directed to cause to be made and printed, blank forms for the annual reports of the several railroad, canal, navigation, telegraph and telephone corporations owning, operating or controlling lines of railways, transportation, telegraphs and telephones in whole or in part in Pennsylvania, referred to in the second section of this act, and the said Secretary of Internal Affairs shall forward by mail or otherwise, on or before the first day of June in each year, to each of said corporations, copies of said forms, and when the same shall have been returned to the Secretary of Internal Affairs, properly filled out and executed, as required by the second section of this act, he shall cause the same to be filed in the Bureau of Railways of his Department, and published in book form, and cause copies of said report to be transmitted to the Governor and the members of the Legislature, on or before the fifteenth day of January in each year, as required by law.

Section 2. That it is hereby made the duty of each railroad, canal, navigation, telegraph and telephone company, or other corporation owning, operating or controlling lines or works in whole or in part within the limits of this State, to make out and return to the Secretary of Internal Affairs a complete report, according to the form to be prescribed by the said Secretary of Internal Affairs, which, among other things, shall embrace in detail the operations and affairs of said corporations during the fiscal year, together with such other information as the Secretary shall direct. Said report shall be attested by the oath or affirmation of at least two of the following named officers of the company: President, general manager, superintendent, sequestrator, secretary, treasurer and auditor. That said report shall cover the transactions of each of said corporations for the fiscal year ending on the thirtieth day of June, each year, and shall be filed in the office of the Secretary of Internal Affairs not later than the thirty-first day of August in each year.

Section 3. That every such railroad, canal, navigation, telegraph and telephone company or other corporation owning, operating or controlling lines of railway, canal, transportation, telegraph or telephone, located in whole or in part in Pennsylvania, that shall refuse or neglect to make such report as herein provided and at the time specified in the second section of this act shall be liable to a penalty of five thousand dollars to the use of the Commonwealth for every such refusal or neglect, to be sued for and recovered as debts of like amount are or may be by law recoverable.

Extract from an act relating to the Department of Internal Affairs, approved April 18, 1895 (P. L. page 38).

"That on the recommendation of the Secretary of Internal Affairs, the Governor shall commission a person as Deputy Secretary, and the person so appointed and commissioned shall hold his office at the pleasure of said Secretary; he shall act in the capacity of Superintendent of the Bureau of Railways of said Department, and shall have full authority to execute papers and transact all business concerning said Department, under the direction of or during the absence of the Secretary."

Under the fundamental and statute laws quoted above, the powers of the Secretary of Internal Affairs with reference to steam and street railway corporations, canal, telegraph and telephone companies are set forth. They are not as specific as they should be, as more explicit powers should be given to enable the Secretary to exercise a more rigid supervision over common carrier corporations. It seems to be accepted on all hands that if the great corporations of the country are allowed to merge and consolidate and combine in different ways, as is done under the caption of "community of interests," there ought to be public supervision by some officer clothed with proper power to secure freedom from extortion in the way of charge for public service and to insure a compliance with the Constitution and laws regulating the powers of public corporations in exercising the functions with which their charters and the laws of incorporation endow them.

The Constitution is somewhat specific in Article XVII regarding public corporations, but the laws which have been passed to enforce this article of the Constitution are not of a very wholesome character.

Probably in no state in the Union are there so great corporate interests as in Pennsylvania, and the fact that there is so great a freedom from discrimination and extortion may be evidence of the lack of necessity for closer public supervision. That reasonable conditions, however, exist at this time, is not any proof that they will continue to exist, and when there is a departure from legal powers or when there is an encroachment upon the rights of individuals, there ought to be some greater and more specific power given to enable the Department to stay the advance of any corporation that proceeds beyond the powers given by law or that is unfair in its dealings with the public.

Through the Bureau of Railways the Department is in close touch with all the transportation corporations doing business within the limits of the Commonwealth. The magnitude of the business done can scarcely be comprehended, and a close study of details, as disclosed in the report of the Bureau of Railways, will be found of no little interest. The reports of these corporations are published in a separate volume, described as Part IV of the reports of the Department of Internal Affairs.

THE APPOINTMENT AND COMMISSIONING OF A DEPUTY SECRETARY OF INTERNAL AFFAIRS.

The Department of Internal Affairs was created under the Constitution of 1873, but its machinery was not put in operation until the passage of the act of 1874, and this act provided for the number of officers, clerks and employes in said Department. Among the officers so provided for was a chief clerk. This office corresponded to an office of the same name in the old Surveyor General's Department, which had been merged, under the provisions of the Constitution of 1873 into the Department of Internal Affairs. No specific powers were given this officer, he simply being named as chief clerk, and such powers as he might exercise in the discharge of the duties pertaining to the Department of Internal Affairs were by legal implication.

Subsequently an enactment was had in which the name of this officer was changed to that of Deputy Secretary of Internal Affairs, and the act which changed the name of the officer did not specify anything of importance with reference to the duties which such officer was authorized to perform, and, therefore, his powers rested upon the same principles of law that existed with reference to the chief clerk under the Surveyor General, and later under the Secretary of Internal Affairs.

It was customary, after the creation of the office of Deputy Secretary of Internal Affairs, for the Secretary of Internal Affairs to issue a commission to the Deputy Secretary. No authority of law was given for the issuance of such commission, and it was more in the nature of a warrant of appointment or authority than of a commission.

It was found that the public records certified to by the Deputy Secretary of Internal Affairs were frequently questioned in the United States courts as to the authority of the Deputy Secretary to certify to such public records. It is well known that strict rules exist, especially in the United States Supreme and District Courts with reference to the authentication of public records which are offered in evidence, and particularly as to the power of the officer certifying to the correctness of such records.

It was thought that public interests would be served in the enactment of a law that would provide for the granting of a commission to the Deputy Secretary of Internal Affairs on the recommendation of the Secretary of Internal Affairs. Accordingly, in the session of 1895 a bill was prepared, introduced and became a law in which provision was made that on the recommendation of the Secretary of Internal Affairs, the Governor should commission a person as Deputy Secretary, and the person so commissioned should have full power to execute all papers and transact all business pertaining to the Department the same as the Secretary could were he present and acting.

Immediately upon the passage of this act, upon the recommendation of the then Secretary of Internal Affairs, the Governor granted a commission to the then Deputy Secretary.

At the session of the Legislature of 1903 a bill was passed consolidating several existing enactments which relate to the officers and employes in the Department of Internal Affairs, this bill being introduced at the suggestion of the Governor in order that a single enactment might show the number of officers, clerks and employes each Department would be entitled to.

The bill, as prepared for the Department of Internal Affairs, is published in another part of this report, and it has no other regulation regarding the officers, clerks and employes in the Department save that which relates to the number under each classification and their salaries. In no way does it refer to the powers which may be exercised by the Deputy Secretary of Internal Affairs or any other officer of the Department, neither does it in any way refer, directly or indirectly, to the commissioning of a Deputy Secretary by His Excellency the Governor. All that was intended to be accomplished by the act of 1903 was the fixing of the number and the salaries of officers, clerks and employes.

Accordingly, when the present Secretary was installed in office, having previously for many years served as Deputy Secretary and having been commissioned as Deputy Secretary under the act of 1895, he requested the Governor, as provided by that act, to grant a commission to Hon. Theodore B. Klein as Deputy Secretary. The correspondence following bears upon this question and indicates the fact that up to this 8th day of March, 1904, no commission has been granted to the Deputy Secretary of this Department.

Men are often mistaken as to facts; doctors as to treatment of patients, and lawyers as to interpretation of fundamental and statute laws, but to the present Secretary of Internal Affairs the case is so clear that it is the duty of the Governor to issue a commission, as required by the act of 1895, that there is no room for argument.

It is not contended for a moment that a commission should issue unless there is authority of law for it, but when public interests are involved and a case is a clear one as to the duty of the Executive, it seems that greater consideration should be given to a case than appears to have been bestowed on the one in question.

The correspondence to which reference has been made will indicate very clearly the position assumed by the Attorney General and the views entertained by the Secretary of Internal Affairs.

This is not an unimportant question. Public records are daily certified to which go not only into the courts of the Commonwealth, but into the courts of the United States, and it is practically impossible for the Secretary of Internal Affairs to execute all the papers if he is to discharge other duties which the laws of the Commonwealth impose upon him. Hence, the necessity of having a Deputy Secretary appointed and commissioned according to law that he may be qualified to act in a legal way and his acts bear the test of the federal and state laws and the adjudications on the same which may have been made by our federal and state courts.

A glimpse at the difficulties in the case is shown in a single instance. Not long ago the Secretary of Internal Affairs was called by 'phone in relation to some certified copies of surveys which had been offered in evidence in one of the courts of this Commonwealth, and were objected to on the grounds of want of authority in the Deputy Secretary of Internal Affairs to certify to such public records. The Secretary was asked, "What is the authority for the Deputy Secretary to execute the papers?" The reply was given, "The act of 1895."

If the act of 1895 is in existence so far as authority is concerned, it must of necessity follow that it is in existence as to the commissioning by the Governor of the Deputy, and in the absence of such a commission, it will at once be seen how the Department of Internal Affairs is crippled because of the fact that the Executive has, up to this time, refused to grant the commission which a reasonable construction of the laws would require him to grant.

May 5, 1903, the following letter was addressed to the Governor:

May 5, 1903.

Hon. Samuel W. Pennypacker, Governor of the Commonwealth, Harrisburg, Pa.:

My Dear Sir: Having assumed the duties of Secretary of Internal Affairs, I have named for Deputy Secretary Hon. Theodore B. Klein, and respectfully ask that a commission be granted him as provided by law.

Very truly yours,

ISAAC B. BROWN,
Secretary.

To this letter the following reply was received:

May 7, 1903.

Hon. Isaac B. Brown, Secretary of Internal Affairs, Harrisburg, Pa.:

Dear Sir: Your letter of May 5th concerning a Deputy Secretary of Internal Affairs has just been received. I find, upon examination of the act of April 18, 1895, P. L. 38, that on the recommendation of the Secretary of Internal Affairs, the Governor shall commission a person as Deputy Secretary and this issuance of a commission is treated as an appointment.

Up to this time you have made no recommendation of a Deputy Secretary.

Very truly yours,

SAML. W. PENNYPACKER.

A second letter was then addressed to the Governor, of which the following is a copy:

May 8, 1903

Hon. Samuel W. Pennypacker, Governor of the Commonwealth, Harrisburg, Pa.:

My Dear Governor: I acknowledge receipt of your letter of yesterday, having reference to the commissioning of Hon. Theodore B. Klein as Deputy Secretary of Internal Affairs, and beg to say that I understand that the act approved on the 24th of April, 1903, authorizes the Secretary of Internal Affairs to appoint a deputy, in the first clause. The number of the act is 228.

The second section of the act of 1895, Pamphlet Laws page 38, is still in existence so far as the issuance of the commission is concerned.

This is my construction of the law, as it now exists, and I presume you had overlooked the provisions of the act of 1903, it not yet having been published in the Pamphlet Laws.

Very truly yours,

ISAAC B. BROWN,
Secretary.

Under same date, the following reply was received from the Governor:

May 8, 1903.

Hon. Isaac B. Brown, Secretary of Internal Affairs, Harrisburg, Pa.:

Dear Sir: Replying to your letter of recent date, I think you are entirely right with respect to the power of appointment given you by the act of April 24, 1903. Your deputy, therefore, is appointed by you like any one of your clerks. If, however, you choose to make the appointment before the first of June, running the risk of the appropriation, I do not think that I have anything to do with it or that I ought to issue a commission.

Very truly yours,

SAML. W. PENNYPACKER.

On the 24th of August, a letter was addressed to the Governor, as follows:

August 24, 1903.

Hon. Samuel W. Pennypacker, Governor of the Commonwealth, Harrisburg, Pa.:

My Dear Governor: The act approved the 18th day of April, 1895, provided how the Deputy Secretary of Internal Affairs should be appointed, and it also provided that he should be commissioned. The act of 1903 changes somewhat the manner of appointment, but it does not change the provision with reference to the commissioning of the Deputy Secretary.

Under the provisions of the act of 1903, I appointed the Honorable Theodore B. Klein Deputy Secretary. His oath was duly filed in the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth and a request was made that a commission be granted to him as provided in said act of 1895, Pamphlet Laws page 38.

Such commission has not yet been issued and I beg respectfully to ask that this matter be considered and a commission be issued to Mr. Klein as requested. The validity of official documents might be questioned, owing to the fact that Mr. Klein has not yet been commissioned, although he has taken the usual oath of office.

Very truly yours,

ISAAC B. BROWN,
Secretary.

An acknowledgment of this letter was received from the Executive Department as follows:

August 25, 1903.

Hon. Isaac B. Brown, Department of Internal Affairs, Harrisburg, Pa.:

Dear Sir: In the absence of the Governor, I beg leave to acknowledge the receipt of yours of the 24th instant, relative to a commission for Hon. Theodore B. Klein, Deputy Secretary of Internal Affairs, and to advise you that immediately upon the Governor's return to Harrisburg, I shall take pleasure in placing your communication before him.

Very truly yours,

BROMLEY WHARTON,
Private Secretary.

On December 30, 1903, the following letter was addressed to the Attorney General:

December 30, 1903.

Hon. Hampton L. Carson, Attorney General, Harrisburg, Pa.:

My Dear Sir: The act of the General Assembly of 1874, fixing the number of officers, clerks and employes in the several departments of the State Government and adjusting their salaries, among other things provides that in the Department of Internal Affairs there shall be one chief clerk at a salary of $1,800 per annum. In this enactment the powers and the duties of this officer are not specifically set forth.

In the first section of the act of the 8th of May, 1876, Pamphlet Laws 143, is the following clause:

"The Secretary of Internal Affairs and his chief clerk, who shall hereafter be designated Deputy Secretary of Internal Affairs, shall have power and authority to administer oaths or affirmations in any or all matters pertaining to the business of his Department."

The act approved the 2d day of May, 1887, Pamphlet Laws page 78, increases the salary of the Deputy Secretary to $2,300 per annum.

Neither of these last two mentioned acts prescribe the authority which the Deputy Secretary of Internal Affairs was authorized to exercise in the discharge of public duties.

The act of the General Assembly approved the 18th day of April, 1895, Pamphlet Laws 38, specifically sets forth the powers and the duties of the Deputy Secretary of Internal Affairs, as is disclosed by the second section of said act, which reads as follows:

"Section 2. That, on the recommendation of the Secretary of Internal Affairs, the Governor shall commission a person as Deputy Secretary, and the person so appointed and commissioned shall hold his office at the pleasure of said Secretary; he shall act in the capacity of Superintendent of the Bureau of Railways of said Department, and shall have full authority to execute papers and transact all business concerning said Department, under the direction of or during the absence of the Secretary, and shall receive a salary of three thousand dollars per annum."

This is the first act in regard to either the chief clerk or the Deputy Secretary of the Department of Internal Affairs where his powers are specifically set forth.

The only act which has been passed since then is that of the General Assembly of the 24th day of April, 1903, Pamphlet Laws 294. The title of this act is as follows: "To fix the number and salaries of officers, clerks and employes of the Department of Internal Affairs." The first clause in the first section of the act is as follows:

"That the number and salaries of the officers, clerks and employes in the Department of Internal Affairs which the Secretary of Internal Affairs is hereby authorized and empowered to appoint shall be as follows: One Deputy Secretary of Internal Affairs, at a salary of $3,000 per annum, who shall also be Superintendent of the Bureau of Railways."

In considering these acts of Assembly to which references are made, it should be remembered that every chief clerk and every Deputy Secretary that has been appointed since the Constitution of 1874, was appointed by the Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The act of 1895 was prepared for introduction to the Legislature for one reason, inter alia, that no law was found upon the statute books which specifically prescribed the powers of the Deputy Secretary of Internal Affairs, and whatever duties he was legally empowered to discharge were by implication.

In the administration of the affairs of the Department of Internal Affairs it frequently occurs that public documents are certified for use in the United States courts, and rules there are quite exacting with reference to the authority of the officer who certifies to a public record. Inasmuch as it was impracticable, if not impossible, for the Secretary of Internal Affairs to execute or certify all such public documents, it was thought advisable to conserve public interests that the Deputy Secretary should be commissioned by the Governor and that his powers should be specifically set forth in a statute of the Commonwealth. This was done by the act of 1895.

What effect, then, does the act of 1903 above in part quoted, have upon the act of 1895?

Is not the provision of the act of 1895, referred to, which provides that on the recommendation of the Secretary of Internal Affairs the Governor shall commission, etc., consistent with the provisions of the act of 1903 referred to?

Are not the provisions of the act of 1895, which specifically prescribe what the powers and the duties of the Deputy Secretary of Internal Affairs shall be consistent with the provisions of the act of 1903 quoted herein?

The act of 1903 has the usual repealing clause in these words: "Section 2. All acts or parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act be and the same are hereby repealed."

Does not this repealing clause recognize as clearly as it can, without specifically mentioning the act of 1895, that anything in the act of 1895 that is consistent with the act of 1903 may stand?

If the provision of the act of 1895 which specifies, first, that the Deputy Secretary, on the recommendation of the Secretary of Internal Affairs, shall be commissioned by the Governor, and second, what the duties of the Deputy Secretary shall be, is not inconsistent with the provisions of the act of 1903, may we not, first, look, as a matter of law, to the act of 1895 as the authority for the Governor to issue a commission to the Deputy Secretary of Internal Affairs, and, second, may we not look to the act of 1895 as the source of the authority for the Deputy Secretary of Internal Affairs to exercise the functions of a State official?

This communication is addressed to you for the reason that although I requested the Governor to commission the Honorable Theodore B. Klein Deputy Secretary of Internal Affairs, it has not been done and the authority of the Deputy Secretary of Internal Affairs to certify to public records of this Department has been questioned in court and I have been called upon to cite the authority by virtue of which the Deputy Secretary is authorized to certify to records of this office.

If, in your opinion, the provision of the act of 1895 to commission the Deputy Secretary, and that provision of said act which specifies his powers, are repealed by the clause in the act of 1903 which I have quoted, will you have the kindness to indicate to me what, if any, powers the Deputy Secretary of Internal Affairs, authorized to be appointed by the act of 1903, can exercise in the administration of the affairs of this Department?

Very truly yours,

ISAAC B. BROWN,
Secretary.

No reply being received to the letter of December 30, on January 26, 1904, the following letter was addressed to the Attorney General:

January 26, 1904.

Hon. Hampton L. Carson, Attorney General, Harrisburg, Pa.:

Dear Sir: I beg respectfully to ask your consideration of my letter of December 30, having reference to the commissioning of the Hon. Theodore B. Klein, the Deputy Secretary of Internal Affairs. It is exceedingly important that this matter be adjusted at the earliest moment possible, as I am very sure that the Deputy Secretary of Internal Affairs is not qualified to act until he is commissioned by the Governor.

Very truly yours,

ISAAC B. BROWN,
Secretary.

In response to this letter the following opinion was received:

Office of the Attorney General,
Harrisburg, Pa., February 5, 1904.

Hon. Isaac B. Brown, Secretary of Internal Affairs:

Sir: In answer to your letter, relating to the Deputy Secretary of Internal Affairs, I have the honor to reply that, in my judgment, the act of 24th of April, 1903 (P. L. 294), repeals so much of the act of 18th of April, 1895 (P. L. 38), as relates to the appointment and commissioning of the Deputy Secretary, the latter act authorizing and empowering you to make the appointment, and repealing that portion of the earlier act which provided that, on the recommendation of the Secretary of Internal Affairs, the Governor should commission a person as Deputy Secretary.

As the law now stands, you are specifically authorized to appoint the Deputy Secretary of Internal Affairs, and he holds his office at your pleasure. He can also exercise all of the powers specifically conferred upon him by the act of 18th of April, 1895, which, in this respect, is not affected or repealed by the act of 24th of April, 1903.

On the 9th of September, last, at the request of the Governor, I gave him an official opinion that he was not required to issue a commission to the Deputy Secretary of Internal Affairs. If you are not acquainted with the terms of that opinion, it will be my pleasure to send you a copy of it. If you already have a copy, I ask you to note an error in the typewriting. In the copy now before me it appears that, in speaking of the act of 24th of April, 1903, it is stated "In my judgment, it repeals the act of 1895 in its entirety." This is an error so far as the words "in its entirety" are concerned. The sentence should read "In my judgment it repeals the act of April, 1895, pro tanto."

As to the powers of the deputy, outside of the specific enumeration of them in the second section of the act of 1895, I am clear that at common law your Deputy has the right and the power to act for you in the transaction of all of the business of the Department. The word "Deputy" is used without a qualifying adjective, such as "special deputy," and I interpret it in the general sense which has been uniformly attached to the word "Deputy."

Bouvier, in his Law Dictionary, defines a deputy as "one authorized by an officer to exercise the office or right which the officer himself possesses, for and in place of the latter." He quotes with approval Comyn's Digest, title "Office," to the following effect: "In general, ministerial officers can appoint deputies, unless the office is to be exercised by the ministerial officer in person." He also states, "In general, a deputy has power to do every act which his principal may do; but a deputy cannot make a deputy."

Anderson, in his Dictionary of Law, gives the following definition:

"Deputy. One who acts officially for another; the substitute of an officer—usually of a ministerial officer."

The American and English Encyclopedia of Law defines the word as follows:

"A deputy is one who, by appointment, exercises an office in another's right, having no interest therein, but doing all things in his principal's name, and for whose misconduct the principal is answerable. He must be one whose acts are of equal force with those of the officer himself, must act in pursuance of law, perform official functions, and is required to take the oath of office before acting."

Wharton, in his Law Dictionary, states that a deputy differs from an assignee or agent in that an assignee has an interest in the office itself, and does all things in his own name, for whom his grantor shall not answer, except in special cases; but a deputy has not any interest in the office, and is only the shadow of the officer in whose name he acts. And there is a distinction in doing an act by an agent and by a deputy. An agent can only bind his principal when he does the act in the name of his principal; but a deputy may do the act and sign in his own name, and it binds his principal, for a deputy has in law the whole power of his principal."

The definition given in the Century Dictionary is as follows:

"A deputy is a person appointed or elected to act for another or others; one who exercises an office in another's right; a lieutenant or substitute. In law, one who, by authority, exercises another's office or some function thereof, in the name or place of the principal, but has no interest in the office. A deputy may, in general, perform all the functions of his principal, or those specially deputed to him, but cannot again depute his powers. Specifically * * * a subordinate officer, authorized to act in place of the principal officer, as, for instance, in his absence. If authorized to exercise for the time being the whole power of his principal, he is a general deputy, and may usually act in his own name with his official addition of deputy."

In the Confiscation Cases, reported in 20 Wallace's Reports of the Supreme Court of the United States, page 111, Mr. Justice Strong, in disposing of an objection which had been urged against proceedings in the District Court, to the effect that they had not been signed by the clerk of the court, but had only been signed by the deputy clerk, used these words:

"This was sufficient. An act of Congress authorized the employment of the deputy, and in general a deputy of a ministerial officer can do every act which his principal might do."

The legal and the popular definitions agree, and I am of opinion that, inasmuch as the act which authorized you to appoint a deputy used the term in its general and not in a special sense, the Deputy Secretary of Internal Affairs is authorized to act for you in all matters pertaining to your office, signing his name as "Deputy Secretary of Internal Affairs." To require you to personally sign every paper or certificate would be to deprive you of that aid and the Commonwealth of that service which it was the purpose of the acts of 8th of May, 1876 (P. L. 143), 2d of May, 1887 (P. L. 78), 18th of April, 1895 (P. L. 38), and 24th of April, 1903 (P. L. 224), to secure.

Very respectfully,

HAMPTON L. CARSON,
Attorney General.

In compliance with a request from the Secretary of Internal Affairs, the Attorney General furnished him with a copy of his opinion as given to the Governor on September 9. It is as follows:

Office of the Attorney General,
Harrisburg, Pa., September 9, 1903.

Hon. Samuel W. Pennypacker, Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: You have requested my opinion whether you are officially required to issue a commission to the Deputy Secretary of Internal Affairs.

There are two acts of Assembly which bear upon the matter. The act of 18th of April, 1895 (P. L. 38), in its second section, provides:

"That, on the recommendation of the Secretary of Internal Affairs, the Governor shall commission a person as Deputy Secretary, and the person so appointed and commissioned shall hold his office at the pleasure of said Secretary. He shall act in the capacity of Superintendent of the Bureau of Railways of said Department, and shall have full authority to execute papers and transact all business concerning said Department, under the direction of or during the absence of the Secretary, and shall receive a salary of three thousand dollars per annum."

The act of 24th of April, 1903 (P. L. 294), provides, inter alia:

"That the number and salaries of the officers, clerks and employes in the Department of Internal Affairs, which the Secretary of Internal Affairs is hereby authorized and empowered to appoint, shall be as follows:

"One Deputy Secretary of Internal Affairs, at a salary of three thousand dollars per annum, who shall also be Superintendent of the Bureau of Railways."

Whatever view might be taken of the earlier act, if it stood alone, it is clear that under the law as it now stands the power to appoint the Deputy Secretary of Internal Affairs is lodged with the Secretary. Under the first act the Secretary might recommend, but, while the power to appoint was left in doubt, the Governor was required to issue a commission, and the language used would imply that the appointment was to be made by the Governor. The latter act, by its second section, expressly repeals all acts or parts of acts inconsistent therewith. In my judgment, it repeals the act of 1895 in its entirety. The power to appoint and the duty to commission are clearly associated, for, while a commission is not the appointment, but only the evidence of it, in strictness the commission, if such be necessary, should emanate from the appointing power.

I am of opinion that you, as Governor, cannot be called upon to furnish evidence of an act with which, under the terms of the statute, you have nothing whatever to do. You cannot be called on to certify the act of the Secretary or to issue the letters patent of the State in supportment of an appointment not your own.

Very respectfully,

(Signed.)

HAMPTON L. CARSON,
Attorney General.

On February 9, a letter was addressed to the Governor as follows:

February 9, 1904.

Hon. Samuel W. Pennypacker, Governor of the Commonwealth, Harrisburg, Pa.:

Dear Sir: I beg to again respectfully call your attention to my request that a commission be granted to the Hon. Theodore B. Klein, Deputy Secretary of Internal Affairs, as required by the act of 1895, to which reference has been made in a personal conference with you and also in correspondence. I would not press this matter upon you further in view of the two decisions made by the Attorney General, except that I am so thoroughly convinced that there is a misapprehension of the facts upon which the opinions are based, and for the additional reason that the public service is crippled by the refusal to grant the commission asked for. This may seem a trifling affair, but it is not.

I have already laid before you the history of the case. I desire briefly to refer to the opinions of the Attorney General. The first opinion gave as reasons for refusing to issue the commission, first, that the act of 1903 changed the manner of appointing the Deputy Secretary, and, second, that the act of 1895 was repealed in its entirety. In the last opinion delivered, the Attorney General abandons the idea that the act of 1895 is repealed in its entirety, which, from his argument, indicates that the powers prescribed by the act of 1895 are still in force, but he still adheres to the idea that there is a change in the manner of appointing.

The sole question, then, which stands in the way, according to the opinion of the Attorney General, in granting a commission to Mr. Klein, is that the act of 1903 made a change in the appointment of a Deputy Secretary. This assumes that before the passage of the act of 1903 the Governor made the appointment of the Deputy Secretary.

To refute this position, no law ever authorized the Governor to appoint the Deputy Secretary. For sixteen years, during four terms, I served in the capacity of Deputy Secretary and never received any appointment from the Governor, my appointments always coming from the Secretary of Internal Affairs.

In the first opinion of the Attorney General, he advises that the commission shall not be granted for the reason that the Governor is not required to commission anyone that he does not appoint. This is a most glaring error. One instance is enough to cite to refute it, for it will suggest thousands of others which exist in the Commonwealth. When Judge Simonton, the president judge of this district, died, the Constitution and law imposed upon the Governor the duty of appointing and commissioning his successor until the people should elect a judge at the proper time. At the proper time the people of Dauphin county elected Mr. Kunkle and you granted to him the commission, as required by law. You had nothing whatever to do with his appointment, but certainly in this instance, and in thousands of others, the Governor commissions parties whose appointments he does not make.

I hope it is your desire to support this Department in the discharge of its duties, and where a case is so plain that it does not admit of a shadow of a doubt, I cannot see why you refuse me the right I have and the right this Department has to have a commission issued to the Deputy Secretary of Internal Affairs, and I again respectfully ask that such commission be issued.

Very truly yours,

ISAAC B. BROWN,
Secretary.

Nothing has been heard from this communication. If members of the legal profession suffer from defective public records certified from this Department it should be remembered that the Secretary has not been negligent in the premises.

INSPECTORS OF WEIGHTS AND MEASURES.

The Legislature, at the session of 1895, passed an act having reference to the appointment of inspectors of scales, weights and measures, a copy of which is here inserted:

AN ACT

- * To provide for the appointment of inspectors by the Governor for the cities of the first and second class of this Commonwealth to inspect scales, weights and measures and providing for their compensation.

Section 1. Be it enacted, &c., That the Governor of this Commonwealth shall appoint such number of inspectors as may be designated by the county commissioners, in the cities of the first and second class of this Commonwealth, to inspect scales, weights and measures, who shall be paid monthly out of the county treasury, except in cities co-extensive with the county, when the same shall be paid out of the city treasury, such salary as may be fixed by said commissioners; they shall serve for a term of four years, unless removed by death, resignation or other cause.

Section 2. Each inspector shall be furnished with standard weights, measures and tests by the Secretary of Internal Affairs of this Commonwealth.

Section 3. The duty of each inspector shall be to visit every place not more than four times a year, where measures, scales and weights are used or sold, including all market houses, shops, stores and all places where meats, provisions and other articles are sold by weight or measure in said cities, to inspect, regulate and adjust the same.

Section 4. The inspector to have power and to seize all fraudulent scales, weights and measures, wherever found, and which cannot be regulated and adjusted, to use the same as evidence in any action of law against the party or parties in whose possession they are found.

Section 5. Any person or persons purchasing new scales, weights or measures that do not contain the stamp of the inspector, shall, before using them, notify the inspector of the district and have them tested, and all scales, weights or measures that cannot be adjusted by the inspector shall be removed and destroyed.

Section 6. Any person upon arrest and conviction before a magistrate or justice of the peace for refusing to allow his scales, weights and measures to be inspected, shall be fined ten dollars and costs of court, or be sentenced to imprisonment for a period of not more than ten days. Any person who shall, after his scales, weights and measures have been inspected in accordance with the provisions of the fifth section of this act, alter or cause to be altered his said inspected scales, weights and measures so that they be decreased in size or amount, or who shall substitute for said inspected weights and measures any other weights and measures of smaller size or amount, shall, upon arrest and conviction before a magistrate or justice of the peace, be fined not more than twenty dollars and cost of court, and in default of the payment of such fine and costs shall be imprisoned for a period of not more than ten days.

Section 7. That all acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith be and the same are hereby repealed.

Approved—The 26th day of June, A. D. 1895.

DANIEL H. HASTINGS.

In this act the second section imposes upon the Secretary of Internal Affairs the duty of furnishing standard weights, measures and tests.

Soon after this act was approved by the then Governor the matter was brought to the attention of the Secretary of Internal Affairs, with reference to supplying the equipment referred to in said act.

An investigation, however, showed that there had been no appropriation made to give efficacy to the act so far as it related to the purchase of standard weights, measures and tests, and, therefore, it was never put in force as to the appointment of inspectors or as to the discharge of any of the duties imposed on any officials by said act.

Nothing more appears to have been done, at least in the way of legislation, until the passage of the act of the Legislature of 1903, found at pamphlet laws page 165, which reads as follows:

AN ACT

Making an appropriation to carry into effect the act of June 26, 1895, entitled "An act to provide for the appointment of inspectors by the Governor for cities of the first and second class of this Commonwealth, to inspect scales, weights and measures, and providing for their compensation," approved the 26th day of June, 1895.

Section 1. Be it enacted, &c., That the sum of two thousand five hundred dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, be and the same is hereby specifically appropriated to the Secretary of Internal Affairs, for the purpose of carrying into effect sections one and two of an act, entitled "An act to provide for the appointment of inspectors by the Governor, for the cities of the first and second class of this Commonwealth, to inspect scales, weights and measures, and providing for their compensation," approved the 26th day of June, 1895.

Section 2. Each inspector shall be furnished with standard weights, measures and tests by the Secretary of Internal Affairs of this Commonwealth.

Approved—The 11th day of April, A. D. 1903.

SAML. W. PENNYPACKER.

Some time after the present Secretary of Internal Affairs assumed the duties of office his attention was directed to the provisions of this act and he received verbal notice from a representative of the Executive Department that it was the intention of the Governor to make appointments of inspectors, as authorized by the act of 1895 herein quoted.

Realizing the apparent necessity of taking some action with reference to the duties imposed by said act, a letter was written to the National Bureau of Standards, of the Department of Commerce and Labor, at Washington, of which the following is a copy:

May 19, 1903.

Superintendent National Bureau of Standard Weights and Measures, Washington, D. C.:

Dear Sir: The Department of Internal Affairs of Pennsylvania is authorized by recent legislation to purchase standards of weights and measures for the inspectors of weights and measures in cities of the first and second class in this State. The revised statutes of the United States provide that your Bureau shall furnish the standards of weights and measures for reasonable compensation. If you have any published data on this subject that you can send me, I shall be glad to remit any cost that may be attached thereto.

Very truly yours,

ISAAC B. BROWN,
Secretary.

To this letter the following reply was received:

Hon. Isaac B. Brown, Secretary Department of Internal Affairs, Harrisburg, Pa.:

Dear Sir: Referring to your communication of the 19th ultimo, I have to state that this Bureau is only authorized to furnish one set of standard weights and measures to each State in the Union, and that Pennsylvania has been furnished with the set of standards to which it is entitled. We are further authorized to repair and adjust these standards whenever called upon to do so by the State Government.

In regard to the weights and measures for the cities—these have to be purchased by the cities themselves, or, as appears to be the case in Pennsylvania, by the State. The weights and measures so purchased could be sent to this Bureau for verification and stamping, as our functions clearly provide that work of this character shall be done for state governments. We are at the present time engaged in designing model sets of weights and measures for the use of state and city inspectors, and as soon as these are completed it is our purpose to submit them to manufacturers in order that those interested may secure what they need and what we consider properly constructed standards. While these designs are not yet completed, we think they are sufficiently advanced to make it possible for you to have the weights and measures needed by your cities made according to them, and we should be more than pleased to co-operate with you in equipping your cities with proper standards and apparatus.

Respectfully,

S. W. STRATTON,
Director.

The National Bureau of Standards was again addressed by letter under date of June 17, as follows:

June 17, 1903.

Mr. S. W. Stratton, Director National Bureau of Standards, Washington, D. C.:

My Dear Sir: I beg to thank you for your letter of June 15, and to say in reply that the set of standard weights and measures which the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania had was destroyed by fire when our capitol buildings burned.

Very truly yours,

ISAAC B. BROWN,
Secretary.

There was no further correspondence until December 8, when the National Bureau of Standards was addressed as follows:

December 8, 1903.

Mr. S. W. Stratton, Director of National Bureau of Standards, Washington, D. C.:

Dear Sir: The Legislature of Pennsylvania, at the session of 1903, provided that the Secretary of Internal Affairs should furnish the inspectors of weights and measures the standard weights, measures and tests to enable the inspectors of scales, weights and measures to execute the laws of the Commonwealth in regard to testing the same, in cities of the first and second class.

I had some correspondence with your office some time ago relating to this subject, but from the correspondence then had, I was not certain whether your office was able to furnish these standard weights and measures or not.

Will you kindly advise me if the State of Pennsylvania can secure them through your Bureau? If so, on what conditions, expense, etc.?

In the correspondence referred to it is stated that Pennsylvania at one time had been furnished with a set of these weights and measures. That I presume, is true, but they were destroyed by fire at the time of the burning of our State Capitol some four or five years ago.

Kindly advise me at the earliest possible moment what can be done through your office to enable me to discharge the duties imposed upon me by the act aforesaid.

Very truly yours,

ISAAC B. BROWN,
Secretary.

To this letter no reply was made and another letter was written to the Bureau on January 12, 1904, as follows:

January 12, 1904.

Mr. S. W. Stratton, Director of the National Bureau of Standards, Washington, D. C.:

My Dear Sir: On December 8th I addressed a letter to you regarding the furnishing to this State the standard weights, measures and tests, especially requesting whether the Government of the United States has any means by which it furnishes such standard weights and tests to the State of Pennsylvania, advising you also that those which you furnished years ago were destroyed by fire at the destruction of our State Capitol. I have received no reply to that letter, and beg to respectfully ask that you will give the matter referred to as early consideration as possible.

In the meantime, I beg to remain,

Yours very truly,

ISAAC B. BROWN,
Secretary.

This letter brought forth the following reply:

January 19, 1904.

Hon. Isaac B. Brown, Secretary of Internal Affairs, Harrisburg, Pa.:

Dear Sir: In reply to your letter of the 12th instant, I have to say that we were only authorized to furnish one set of standard weights to each state free of cost. Should these be destroyed, however, we are authorized to replace them at the expense of the State. The cost of such a set, exclusive of balances, which may be purchased from one of our manufacturers, would be $550, and the time required to get it ready would be about six months.

In regard to sets of weights and measures for city and county inspectors, I have to say that the firm of W. & L. E. Gurley, of Troy, N. Y., have recently notified this Bureau that they are now constructing weights, measures and balances for inspectors, in accordance with our suggestions. We hardly believe that they have progressed far enough to give an estimate of the cost of the proposed sets, but we shall take up the matter with them and notify you as soon as we are satisfied with the design and construction and the price has been fixed by the Messrs. Gurley.

Respectfully,

S. W. STRATTON,
Director.

To this letter the following reply was made:

February 8, 1904.

Mr. S. W. Stratton, Director of National Bureau of Standards, Washington, D. C.:

Dear Sir: Referring to our previous correspondence regarding weights and measures, I beg to say that I am completing arrangements for the purchase of, say ten sets of weights and measures for the use of inspectors here. They appear in the catalogue of Henry Troemner, 710 Market street, Philadelphia, and consist of portable scales, figure No. 335; standard weights, figures 30 and 29; troy weight figure 230; yard stick, figure 232; wet measure figure 235; dry measure figure 236.

I am advised by the representative of Mr. Henry Troemner that your Bureau will make a test of these sets, and if found correct give a certificate to go with each set. I assume, therefore, that you are authorized by law to make such examinations and issue such certificates.

Will you be kind enough to advise me if I am right in this assumption, and also as to what the cost will be for making a test of each set? I mention a charge for each set for the reason that I am not able yet to advise you as to the number of sets that I will purchase. Kindly advise me at the earliest moment possible upon this subject, and also return to me the catalogue of weights and measures which I send herewith.

Very truly yours,

ISAAC B. BROWN,
Secretary.

In answer to the above letter the following reply was received:

February 18, 1904.

Mr. Isaac B. Brown, Secretary of Internal Affairs, Harrisburg, Pa.:

Dear Sir: In reply to yours of the 8th instant relative to the verification of sets of weights and measures, I have to say that if the articles are purchased and owned by the State of Pennsylvania this Bureau is authorized to verify them free of charge. If the apparatus is not State property, but instead is the property of the cities, the cost will be about $45.00 per set.

As requested, we return herewith the catalogue of Mr. Henry Troemner.

Respectfully,

S. W. STRATTON,
Director.

In addition to this correspondence had with the national authorities, a communication was addressed to the Fairbanks Company, of Pennsylvania, December 30, 1903, as follows:

December 30, 1903.

The Fairbanks Company, Philadelphia, Pa.:

Gentlemen: A law has been passed by the Pennsylvania Legislature authorizing the appointment of sealers of weights and measures in cities of the first and second class. At the session of 1903 an appropriation was made authorizing the Secretary of Internal Affairs to supply those who might be appointed as sealers of weights and measures with the necessary appliances, such as standards of weights and measures. Can your firm advise me where such standards are manufactured, prices, etc.? Any information you may give will be thankfully received.

Very truly yours,

ISAAC B. BROWN,
Secretary.

An answer was received, bearing date December 31, of which the following is a copy:

December 31, 1903.

Department of Internal Affairs, Isaac B. Brown, Secy., Harrisburg, Pa.:

Gentlemen: Your favor of the 30th instant at hand relative to supplies to be furnished the sealers of weights and measures. We can supply this material, as we make a specialty of it, but at this writing cannot give you a definite price on this, as we have never been called upon to furnish the same from this office. However, we are writing to-day our head office regarding the matter and expect to receive full details within a few days, and will then take the matter up with you.

Yours very truly,

THE FAIRBANKS COMPANY,
By F. C. MATTERN.

The following letter was also received:

January 9, 1904.

Department of Internal Affairs, Isaac B. Brown, Secy., Harrisburg, Pa.:

Gentlemen: Referring again to your favor of December 30th last, regarding necessary outfit for sealers of weights and measures, beg to advise in answer to your inquiry as to what we generally furnish in this line; would say that hardly any two sealers order the same thing. It depends altogether upon the circumstances, whether they wish to test large scales, also the extent of the testing which they desire to do.

We should recommend as a sealers' scale either No. 3064 or No. 3066, shown on page 44 of catalogue enclosed. If these are too expensive, we should recommend the sealers' trip scale, shown on same page.

As regards weights, we should not recommend anything short of the best weights which are made, and which are represented on page 68, price being given both in open and covered block. For any weights larger than these, we would recommend weights of the square test weight type. For measures, see page 66 of the same list.

If you will kindly advise us just what you desire quotations on, we will be pleased to so favor you.

Yours very truly,

THE FAIRBANKS COMPANY,

By H. L. TRIPPLE.

Again, on January 12, the Fairbanks Company was communicated with in a letter of which the following is a copy:

January 12, 1904.

Mr. H. L. Tripple, care of The Fairbanks Company, Philadelphia, Pa.:

My Dear Sir: Replying to your letter of January 9, I beg to call your attention to the act of the General Assembly of Pennsylvania for the year 1895, page 386. Section 2 of this act provides as follows: "Each inspector shall be furnished with standard weights, measures and tests by the Secretary of Internal Affairs of this Commonwealth."

The same act provides that inspectors shall be appointed by the Governor, on the recommendation of county commissioners, in all cities of the first and second class. I have no means of determining how many appointments there shall be made in order to execute the laws with reference to weights and measures, but I assume that it would require a large number. Neither am I advised as to just what equipments each one of the inspectors should be supplied with in order that he might be enabled to execute the laws with reference to weights and measures.

If you can give me a description of the standards of weights and measures and tests which an inspector should have, and the cost of such equipment, I will be glad to have you do so at the earliest day possible.

Very truly yours,

ISAAC B. BROWN,

Secretary.

To this the following reply was received:

January 14, 1904.

Isaac B. Brown, Secy., Department Internal Affairs, Harrisburg, Pa.:

Dear Sir: Answering yours of the 12th instant, beg to advise if you will forward us a copy of the law in question possibly we can aid you in obtaining the information you desire.

As stated previously, no two sealers use the same thing, it depending entirely on the nature of the scales to be tested, some counties having much more work for the inspector than others.

Trusting to be favored with a complete transcript of the law, when we will endeavor to give you some detailed information, we remain,

Yours very truly,

THE FAIRBANKS COMPANY,

By H. L. TRIPPLE.

Again, on January 21st, a letter was sent to the Fairbanks Company, of which the following is a copy:

January 21, 1904.

The Fairbanks Company, Philadelphia, Pa.:

Gentlemen: Can you advise me where can be purchased the necessary equipment for inspectors of weights and measures, as I understand from you that your firm does not supply such equipment? A copy of the law is inclosed herewith.

Very truly yours,

ISAAC B. BROWN,
Secretary.

In reply to this a letter, under date of February 8, was received, as follows:

February 8, 1904.

Isaac B. Brown, Secy., Dept. Internal Affairs, Harrisburg:

Dear Sir: We acknowledge receipt of your favor of the 21st ult., which has remained unanswered owing to writer's absence from the city. We note what you say, that you understand our firm does not supply the equipment you desire. We fail to understand where you got this idea from, as there is no firm in this country better prepared to take up this question than ourselves, but as evidently there is some doubt as to just what is wanted to be bid upon, would say would it not be well for writer to call upon you at any time you mention, and have a talk on this question, at which time he will be prepared to give you full data as to what is regularly furnished with such outfits.

If this meets with your approval, kindly advise a few days previous, so we can arrange matters here in Philadelphia.

Trusting to hear from you on this subject, we remain,

Yours very truly,

THE FAIRBANKS COMPANY,
By H. L. TRIPPLE.

Again, on February 9, a letter was addressed to the Fairbanks Company, as follows:

February 9, 1904.

The Fairbanks Company, Philadelphia, Pa.:

Gentlemen: I acknowledge receipt of your letter of the 8th instant, which is in answer to our letter to you under date of the 21st-ultimo. The information which I was able to secure from you seemed to be of a vague and uncertain character as to my ability to purchase a tested outfit for the inspectors of weights and measures, and I was, therefore, compelled to look elsewhere for the information and the equipment. It appeared to me that your firm ought to be able to advise me as to what was a necessary equipment for an inspector. I have never been in that business, and I had to secure the information elsewhere. This data you did not give me, and I sent you a copy of the law, which you could easily have had after the reference I had given you by going into a law office, but at your request I sent you the copy of the law on the 21st of January, and not hearing from you I have made inquiries and shall probably secure the equipment elsewhere.

Regretting that I have not been able to make arrangements with your firm, I beg to remain,

Very truly yours,

ISAAC B. BROWN,
Secretary.

The following reply was received, under date of February 13:

Department of Internal Affairs, Isaac B. Brown, Secy., Harrisburg, Pa.:

Gentlemen: Acknowledging your favor of the 9th, beg to advise that no matter from whom you purchase the equipments required for the sealers of weights and measures, it is more than likely that we will finally have the making of the goods, and that being the case, would it not be well for you to treat with the manufacturers direct. With that end in view, the writer will be very pleased to call upon you either Wednesday, Thursday or Friday of next week, prepared to take up this subject in all its details if you so desire.

Trusting you will advise us what day it will suit your convenience to give us an audience, we remain,

Yours very truly,

THE FAIRBANKS COMPANY,

By H. L. TRIPPLE.

In addition to the foregoing correspondence, a letter was addressed to the Governor, under date of February 8, of which the following is a copy:

February 8, 1904.

Hon. Samuel W. Pennypacker, Governor of the Commonwealth, Harrisburg, Pa.:

Dear Sir: Referring to a recent conference with you with relation to the purchase of equipment for inspectors of weights and measures, I beg to say that I have now partially completed arrangements by which I will be enabled to purchase a few outfits, each outfit cost about $180. This is to include, also, as near as I can now estimate, the cost of having each outfit tested and certified under the Federal authorities. This would enable me to equip, say, twelve inspectors.

The national law seems to be based upon the fact that each state shall have a standard of weights and measures furnished by the Government of the United States. Such standard of weights and measures was furnished this State years ago, but as I understand it, it was destroyed at the time of the destruction of the State Capitol by fire. Therefore, we have no standards here by which to make the test of the equipment to be furnished each inspector. I therefore, thought it advisable to correspond with the authorities in Washington with a view of having a test made of the equipment, and securing from the Bureau of Weights and Measures, in the Department of Commerce, at Washington, certificates showing the correctness of the equipment which we propose to furnish inspectors.

I am working on these lines now, but it will require considerable time to have the dozen sets of equipment completed, as they are nowhere found in stock, at least I have not been able to find them.

While the Secretary of Internal Affairs is authorized to purchase these equipments, I believe that the proper authority should make requisition upon him in order that he may know how many equipments should be ordered. It is probable that there is not enough money appropriated to buy the equipment for as many appointees as the service may require, but of this I have no information whatever, and if the service requires a less number than twelve, I would not like to give an order for more than will be sufficient to supply the legal demand. I, therefore, would like to know how many appointments you propose to make that I may act intelligently in ordering equipment for inspectors.

Very truly yours,
ISAAC B. BROWN,
Secretary.

To this a reply was received from the Governor, as follows:

February 9, 1904.

Hon. I. B. Brown, Secretary of Internal Affairs, Harrisburg, Pa.:

Dear Sir: I have your letter of the 8th inst. Up to the present time this office has heard from only the county commissioners of Allegheny county, who recommend the appointment of six inspectors of scales, weights and measures, and from the county commissioners of Lackawanna county, who recommend the appointment of two inspectors of scales, weights and measures.

Very truly yours,
SAML. W. PENNYPACKER.

On the 26th of February a communication was sent me from the Executive Department, of which the following is a copy:

February 26, 1904.

Hon. I. B. Brown, Secretary of Internal Affairs, Harrisburg, Pa.:

Sir: The Governor directs me to inform you that in accordance with the provisions of the act of 26th June, A. D. 1895, P. L. 386, he has this day appointed the following named persons to be inspectors of scales, weights and measures:

For the city of Pittsburgh:
Andrew Lew, Pittsburgh, Pa.
T. C. Kimmel, Pittsburgh, Pa.
Chas. E. Predmore, 6030 Howard street, Pittsburgh, Pa.
Wm. B. Davis, Whipple street, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Leon Einstein, Allegheny, Pa.
Elmer White, Allegheny, Pa.

For the city of Scranton:
John E. Gaffney, Scranton, Pa.
Ed. E. Bobathan, Scranton, Pa.

Very truly yours,
BROMLEY WHARTON,
Private Secretary.

To this letter a reply was made as follows:

February 27, 1904.

Hon. Samuel W. Pennypacker, Governor of the Commonwealth, Harrisburg, Pa.:

Dear Sir: I acknowledge receipt of your letter of the 26th instant, advising me that you have appointed certain individuals as inspectors of scales, weights and measures, in accordance with the provisions of the act approved the 26th day of June, 1895.

I will communicate with you in a few days with reference to the duty imposed upon the Secretary of Internal Affairs in the purchase of equipments for these inspectors.

Very truly yours,

ISAAC B. BROWN,
Secretary.

The correspondence with the Fairbanks Company, of Philadelphia, seemed to be of a vague character and did not disclose the information desired or that would enable the Secretary of Internal Affairs to make purchase of the necessary equipment for the inspectors whom he understood the Governor was about to appoint. He, therefore, applied to the firm of Henry Gilbert & Son, of Harrisburg, and was soon furnished with data as to the character of equipment necessary for the proper execution of the law regarding the inspection of weights and measures, and was also advised as to the cost of the same.

The foregoing covers the correspondence had with reference to the discharge of the duties imposed upon the Secretary of Internal Affairs, both by the act of 1895 and the act of 1903, hereinbefore quoted.

It is found that the laws of Pennsylvania and the laws of the United States which establish standard weights and measures and also provide for the execution of laws in relation to making tests, etc., are of a complex character.

In the powers conferred upon Congress, as disclosed by the Constitution of the United States, Article I, Section 26, it is found that Congress is given jurisdiction to "fix the standard of weights and measures."

In the State of Pennsylvania no small amount of legislation is found upon the statute books in regard to this subject. Without going into these laws in detail, it is observed that under a law of Congress the several states in the Union were supplied with equipments of standard weights and measures, which were not only prepared in conformity with the law of Congress for the different states, but were made in pursuance of a standard adopted under the national constitutional provision hereinbefore referred to.

When these standards were furnished by the government of the United States they were placed in charge of the Governor and the Secretary of the Commonwealth, and from these standards the Governor and the Secretary of the Commonwealth were authorized to have tests made at the expense of the several counties of the Commonwealth of the equipment which might be procured for the use of sealers of weights and measures appointed to make tests in the different counties of the State.

Especial provisions were made for the custody of the standards so furnished by the government of the United States, to the end that they should be kept in perfect order and never used for any purposes except when direction for their use was given by those in whose custody they were kept.

This appears to have been the situation in 1883, when the Legislature passed an act of which the following is a copy:

AN ACT

To abolish the office of sealer of weights and measures in this Commonwealth.

Section 1. Be it enacted, &c., That all laws and supplements thereto, providing for the appointment of sealers of weights and measures in this Commonwealth be and they hereby are repealed.

Approved—The 8th day of March, A. D. 1883.

ROBT. E. PATTISON.

While this act does not appear to have repealed the laws in existence in the Commonwealth as to the use of weights and measures or changed the existing statutes with reference to the standards, it did annul the validity of the laws with reference to their enforcement.

In recent legislation municipalities have been given some jurisdiction over the inspection of weights and measures. How far the powers given under these municipal laws have been exercised is not known by the Secretary of Internal Affairs.

In the correspondence of which copies are given herein it has been represented that the standards of weights and measures as furnished by the government of the United States were destroyed by fire at the time of the burning of our State Capitol. It was so understood at the time. A recent investigation, however, discloses the fact that some of the equipment was not so destroyed. It seems that sometime before the fire the larger part of the equipment was in the attic of the State Library, and that it was removed from that place to the basement of the capitol, where it was at the time of the fire. Some portions of the equipment were left in the basement of the Department of Internal Affairs, and were removed from that building to the basement of the Bay Shoe Factory building, where the Department is now housed and where this remnant of the equipment is now found.

It is apparent from what can be learned that after the passage of the act of 1883 these United States standards of weights and measures were looked upon as of no great value, inasmuch as the State had annulled the laws by which sealers of weights and measures were appointed, and without sealers of weights and measures there appeared to be no use for the standards which the Federal Government had furnished. They were, therefore, stored in different portions of the capitol building, and as before indicated, the more valuable portions were destroyed by fire on the 2d of February, 1897, at the time of the destruction of the State Capitol.

The acts of 1895 and 1903 quoted herein, required the Secretary of Internal Affairs to purchase equipment for cities of the first and second class. As will be seen by the correspondence, the United States Government does not have sets of equipment to furnish the State, either with or without charge, for the use of such inspectors, as was contemplated by the act of 1895. This is clearly brought out in the correspondence with the National Bureau of Standards, this correspondence disclosing the fact that this Bureau, a part of the new Department of the National Government, known as the Department of Commerce and Labor, has in process the preparation of equipment such as inspectors should have in executing the laws of the several states with reference to tests of weights and measures.

Having learned that this equipment could not be secured from the United States, inquiry was made as to the conditions upon which new standards of weights and measures could be furnished by the national authority to supply the place of those that had been destroyed by fire, or scattered as herein indicated, and information was received that such new standards could be furnished under the laws of the Commonwealth, on the payment of $550, but it would take six months' time at least in which to prepare a set for the State of Pennsylvania.

A reference to the acts giving the Secretary of Internal Affairs authority to purchase equipments for inspectors shows that they do not empower him to purchase such equipment of standards of weights for the use of the State from the Government of the United States, or, indeed, from any other source. Therefore, there seemed to be no means at hand for the testing of the equipment which might be purchased for the use of inspectors, under the authority given. Much correspondence was had upon this subject with the Fairbanks Company, and it did not seem that the duties imposed upon the Secretary could be properly discharged unless the equipments which might be purchased on the market were tested by authentic standards of weights and measures, for such equipment might be defective, and if defective would reflect upon the authority purchasing the same and upon the State, and would injure those having weighing or measuring apparatus to be tested. If, therefore, an attempt was to be made to purchase the equipment contemplated by the laws referred to, it seemed an imperative duty to apply somewhere to have a test made of the equipment which might be purchased. Accordingly, application was made to the National Bureau of Standards to ascertain the conditions and the expense incident to the making of such tests, and the correspondence with this Bureau discloses these conditions and terms.

No specific authority being given in Pennsylvania to have tests made by the government of the United States, it was a serious question whether power was given the Secretary of Internal Affairs under the acts above quoted, to have these tests made by the Government of the United States, in view of the fact that the laws in Pennsylvania required tests to be made from the standards in the possession of the Secretary of the Commonwealth. It was, however, thought that the only thing that could be done would be to have each set of equipment which might be purchased tested by the National Bureau of Standards and a certificate of that Bureau given with reference to each set.

At the outset, in attempting to discharge the duties imposed by the acts of 1895 and 1903, it was apparent that the money appropriated was not sufficient to cover the expense of the necessary equipments. A conference was had with the Governor, and he was also communicated with by letter with reference to the number of inspectors to be appointed in the cities of the first and second class under this law of 1895. The cities that come within the limitations are Philadelphia, Pittsburg, Allegheny and Scranton.

From this conference with the Governor and from the correspondence, it appeared that the county commissioners of Allegheny county recommended four appointments for the city of Pittsburg and two for the city of Allegheny, while the commissioners of Lackawanna county recommended two for the city of Scranton. This would make the number eight without any appointments from the city of Philadelphia, and having regard to the population, the density of commercial interests, etc., it is presumed that the number required in the city of Philadelphia to properly execute the laws would be double the number in the other three cities named.

This brings us to a consideration of the cost of a necessary outfit for each inspector. After a careful investigation it was determined that an equipment must, of necessity, consist of something like the following, as shown in the catalogue of Henry Troemner, of Philadelphia:

Troy weight, figure 230.

Dry measure, figure 236.

The catalogue price of such an equipment, less 20 per cent., would be about $180 per set, which, if there were no other expense connected with the purchase and test of equipment, would make it possible to purchase thirteen sets.

Referring to the correspondence with the National Bureau of Standards, it is seen that each set of equipment could be examined and tested where the State purchased and owned the instruments, without charge, but where they are owned by cities the charge will be $45 per set.

As the inspectors are appointed by the Governor on the recommendation of the county commissioners of the counties of Philadelphia, Allegheny and Lackawanna, it is somewhat difficult to ascertain, as a question of law, whether the State, the counties, or the cities in question would own these sets of equipment. Certainly the money was appropriated by the State for the purchase of these equipments, but the equipments were for the use of the counties or the cities, and, therefore, it is probable that the State would not retain the ownership to the extent of enabling it to have them tested by the National Bureau of Standards, without charge.

Adding the $45 for making the test of the equipment would make each set cost about $225, and thereby reduce the number the appropriation would cover to ten.

This would necessitate an arbitrary act of discrimination between the cities in interest as to the supplying of equipment and would render it wholly impossible to supply sufficient equipment to insure a faithful execution of the duties imposed on both the Secretary of Internal Affairs and the inspectors provided for in the act of 1895.

If the welfare of the public can be conserved by the appointment of persons authorized to inspect weights and measures, then there is great need for new and specific enactments upon that subject. The laws now in existence are in a fragmentary condition and are impossible of execution, and there is no way by which the Secretary of Internal Affairs can possibly discharge the duties imposed upon him by the acts of 1895 and 1903, and have the proper tests made as specified in our State statutes, as there is no standard of weights and measures in the possession of the Secretary of the Commonwealth by which the tests of the equipment which may be purchased can be made.

It is true that the Secretary might be justified in having the tests made under the authority of the United States, even in the absence of any law among our State statutes authorizing the making of such tests, but when it is attempted to have this test made by the National Bureau of Standards, it is found that the money appropriated by the Legislature at the session of 1903 is not sufficient to buy the necessary number of sets of equipment even without going to the expense of having the tests made under national authority.

Having given a somewhat extended reference to the state and national laws upon this subject and referred to the defective existing laws and the lack of authority given, and also to the inadequate appropriation, the Secretary of Internal Affairs finds himself unable to supply the equipment called for in the act of 1895 and the act of 1903, and for the reasons given declines to make further attempt to discharge the duties imposed by the acts referred to.

Is the Act of 1895 Constitutional?

In coming to this conclusion no reference has been made to the apparent unconstitutional features of the act of 1895. This is a grave question, and no public officer can escape the responsibilities devolving upon him by virtue of the mandates of the Constitution.

The Secretary of Internal Affairs is aware that there are those who claim that a State official ought not to take into consideration the apparent unconstitutionality of an act of Assembly which he is called upon to execute. It is claimed, and justly so, that it is the province of the courts of the Commonwealth to pass upon the constitutionality of acts of Assembly. It is true that the proper way to have the validity of an act of Assembly tested is through the courts, but to assume that it cannot be questioned in any other way or at any other time than in the courts, is apparently a grievous error.

There have been many acts of Assembly approved by the Executive since the adoption of the new Constitution that have been found to be in conflict with the Constitution, and the conflict so plain that anyone having however limited a knowledge of the fundamental law of the Commonwealth could discern the unconstitutional features of such enactments.

Let it be remembered that the salient feature, the ironclad feature of the oath of office under the Constitution of 1874 is that part which relates to the support of the Constitution.

If a state official is empowered to perform certain public acts in pursuance of an act of the General Assembly which is apparently unconstitutional, and which, from his knowledge of the Constitution, he firmly believes to be unconstitutional, it would certainly be against conscience for him to execute such a law, knowing the same to be in violation of the fundamental laws of the Commonwealth, which he has solemnly pledged himself to support.

It is not his duty to declare an act unconstitutional, but if there is a demand made upon him to execute a law which he believes to be unconstitutional, is it not his duty to assume the position that he will not execute such a law until the constitutionality of the act is determined?

If he were to take the other view of the case, that it was his duty to execute a law notwithstanding he believed it to be clearly unconstitutional, then would the oath of office taken by him become merely a farce, and, indeed, the Constituion itself, if so held by state officers in general, would soon be looked upon as was said in days of old, as a "rope of sand" or an assemblage of words without meaning and thus would soon become a subject of contempt rather than of respect to the people of the Commonwealth.

Soon after the attention of the Secretary of Internal Affairs was called to the duties imposed upon him by this act of 1895, he thought he discovered that the act was in conflict with section 7 of Article III of the Constitution, and so advised the Governor.

While he was of this opinion, he still attempted to do what he could preparatory to the execution of the duties imposed by the act if he should finally conclude that he was mistaken as to its constitutionality, or in case the act should be found to be constitutional under the test which might be made of it in the courts of the Commonwealth. Hence, the quite extensive correspondence and the investigation herein referred to relative to the preparations made for a discharge of the duties imposed under this act of 1895.

Realizing the gravity of the question involved and desiring to have the benefit of the opinion of the law officer of the Commonwealth, on the 2d of January, 1904, the Secretary of Internal Affairs addressed a letter to the Attorney General of the Commonwealth, of which the following is a copy:

January 2, 1904.

Mr. Hampton L. Carson, Attorney General of Pennsylvania, Harrisburg, Pa.:

Dear Sir: I respectfully refer you to the act of 1834, pamphlet laws page 525, which has reference to the standard of weights and measures; also, to the act of 1838, pamphlet laws, page 399; also, to the act of the 15th of April, 1845, pamphlet laws page 443; also, to the act of the 26th of April, 1850, pamphlet laws page 595, all referring to weights and measures and inspectors for the same. Some references, however, are made in these acts to the standards of measurements adopted for deputy or county inspectors.

Your attention is called to these statutes of the Commonwealth that you may understand the laws which were in existence prior to the passage of the act of the 8th day of March, 1883, which act abolished the office of sealer of weights and measures throughout the Commonwealth.

An act was passed on the 26th day of June, 1895, pamphlet laws page 386, which reads as follows:

In this act direction was given to the Secretary of Internal Affairs to purchase the standards of weights and measures, that the inspectors of weights and measures provided for in said act should be supplied with such standards. The Legislature, however, failed to make effectual this act of Assembly passed as aforesaid at the session of 1895. An act, however, was passed at the session of 1903, as follows:

I am advised that the Governor is contemplating making appointments of inspectors of weights and measures as is provided for in the act of 1895, and that it is desired that the Secretary of Internal Affairs shall purchase the necessary apparatus as standards of weights, measures, etc.

I beg respectfully to direct your attention to and ask your opinion in regard to the constitutionality of the act of 1895 hereinbefore quoted. The first section of this act provides that the county commissioners shall designate to the Governor the names of the parties whose appointments are desired for inspectors in cities of the first and second class. It also provides that the salaries of inspectors shall be paid out of the county treasury in case the inspectors are appointed for cities of the second class, and that they shall be paid out of the city treasury where the county commissioners designate them for appointment in cities of the first class, or in cities co-extensive with a county.

Is this not an attempt through local or special legislation to regulate the affairs of cities and counties and to create at the same time offices and prescribe the powers of the officers in such cities or counties?

Article III, Section 7, of the Constitution of 1874 provides, inter alia:

"Section 7. That the General Assembly shall not pass any local or special law * * * regulating the affairs of counties, cities, townships, wards, boroughs or school districts * * * or creating offices or prescribing the powers and duties of officers in counties, cities, boroughs, townships, election or school districts."

As the act of 1895 and the appropriation act of 1903 require a considerable expenditure of money by the Secretary of Internal Affairs, and as a question has arisen as to the conflict of this act of 1895 with Article III, Section 7, of the Constitution, I beg, therefore, to ask your opinion as to the constitutionality of said act of 1895 herein quoted.

This is important for the reason that the act of 1903, making an appropriation, is based upon the act of 1895, and if the latter-named act is unconstitutional, the act of 1903, it would seem, must fall with it.

I beg to ask your early consideration of this question of constitutional law submitted for your opinion.

Very truly yours,

ISAAC B. BROWN,
Secretary.

Also under the same date, he addressed the following communication to the Hon. Samuel W. Pennypacker, Governor of the Commonwealth:

January 2, 1904.

Hon. Samuel W. Pennypacker, Governor of the Commonwealth, Harrisburg, Pa.:

Dear Sir: I transmit to you herewith a copy of a letter addressed to the Attorney General regarding the constitutionality of the act of 1895, which authorizes you to appoint inspectors of weights and measures and authorizes the Secretary of Internal Affairs to procure the necessary standards, etc.

My personal opinion is that this act of 1895 is in direct conflict with Article III, Section 7, of the Constitution, as it is entirely local in its application and is an attempt to regulate the affairs of counties, besides providing for the appointment of officers, etc.

I send a copy of this letter to you because you are the appointing power, and should the act be found to be unconstitutional I would not feel justified in making purchases of standards under the provisions of the act.

Very truly yours,

ISAAC B. BROWN,
Secretary.

The Attorney General, on the 7th day of January, 1904, forwarded to this office a communication of which the following is a copy:

January 7, 1904.

Hon. Isaac B. Brown, Secretary of Internal Affairs:

Dear Sir: I have your letter of the 2d of January, relative to the subject of inspectors of weights and measures, and asking my opinion as to the constitutionality of the act of 26th day of June, 1895, considered in connection with the act of 11th of April, 1903.

I have carefully examined and considered Article III, Section 7, of the Constitution of 1874, and can conceive nothing in either act which conflicts with its provisions. The decision of the Supreme Court in the case of Commonwealth v. Moir, 199 P. S. 536, and the authorities therein cited, completely cover the point. While entertaining no doubt upon the subject, I, at the same time, refrain from expressing an official opinion. In my judgment, I have no authority as Attorney General to pass upon the constitutionality of acts of Assembly. I am not armed with judicial authority; I am bound to assume that an act of the Legislature, duly passed and approved by the Governor, is constitutional, and I must govern my acts accordingly. The most that I can do is, when such a question is called in doubt by an application to me for the initiation of a proceeding to test the matter in court, to so allow process to be instituted as to bring the question fairly before a court for its determination. No such application is at present before me, and, therefore, I cannot act. This is the rule which has invariably governed the action of the Attorney General's Department, not only in this State but in other states, and it is the only practicable rule that I can follow.

The bridge case, wherein you and I and the Secretary of the Commonwealth raised a question of constitutionality is not an exception. There we simply declined to proceed, and we were brought into court by a proceeding instituted in mandamus, so that the court decided the question and we did not.

Allow me, in passing, to express a difference of opinion on the matter of the interpretation of the first section of the act of 26th of June, 1895. I do not agree that that section provides that the county commissioners shall designate to the Governor the names of the parties whose appointments are desired for inspectors in cities of the first and second classes. The only authority that I can find lodged by that section in the county commissioners is to designate the number and fix the salaries of the inspectors, but the matter of the selection of the names rests entirely with the Governor.

You have not asked me what your duties are as to the expenditure of the fund provided under the act of April 11, 1903, and I, therefore, refrain from expressing any opinion thereon.

Very truly yours,

HAMPTON L. CARSON,
Attorney General.

The Attorney General, in the foregoing opinion, seemed to express no doubt as to the validity of the act of 1895, and while the views of the Secretary of Internal Affairs were not changed as to its conflict with the Constitution, he was impressed with the thought that probably it would be better to attempt to discharge the duties imposed upon him by the act, and justify his action by the positive assertion on the part of the law officer of the Commonwealth that the act was free from defects such as he believed existed.

In the opinion of the Attorney General a specific declaration is made that it is his duty to regard a law constitutional until the same is declared unconstitutional by the courts. He also makes reference to the Board of Property of Pennsylvania, of which he is a member, as to its action in regard to the construction of a bridge across the Susquehanna river at Lewisburg, under authority of an act of the General Assembly which was manifestly unconstitutional, in which case he publicly advised the members of the Board of Property to take no action with reference to enforcing the provisions of that act until the constitutionality of the act was passed upon by the courts of the Commonwealth, and no action of the Board of Property was taken except a refusal, under the advice of the Attorney General, to act in the premises, and proceedings were commenced in the courts and the act was declared to be unconstitutional.

If no other authority could be cited, the action of the Board of Property, under the advice of the Attorney General, is sufficient for the Secretary of Internal Affairs, on constitutional grounds, to refuse to execute the act of 1895.

Bring the constitutional provision side by side with the act of 1895 referred to, and there does not seem to be any difficulty in arriving at a conclusion that the act is in conflict with fundamental law, for this act of 1895, inter alia, provides that county commissioners of counties where there are cities of the first and second class shall be given additional powers that county commissioners of other counties do not enjoy, and, therefore, of necessity, the act as applied to county commissioners of the three counties in question must be local legislation, and that it regulates the affairs of counties and of cities is also disclosed by the text of the act.

It is extravagant in its terms because it enables county commissioners, who have nothing to do with city government, to name the number of inspectors that may be appointed by the Governor in cities, and certainly this is local, this is special, and is in conflict with the provision of the Constitution which reads as follows:

"The General Assembly shall not pass any local or special law authorizing the creation, extension or annulling of liens, regulating the affairs of counties, cities, townships, wards or boroughs * * * or for the creating of offices or prescribing the powers or duties of officers in counties, cities, boroughs, townships, election or school districts."

If it were possible to assemble words of the expressive English language prohibiting just such legislation as is attempted in this act of 1895, how could they be more expressive or better arranged to specifically exhibit the thought of the members of the Constitutional Convention, than they do in the words of the Constitution quoted as a part of section 7, Article III of that instrument?

The theory of our State Government is that the Legislature may enact any laws it pleases so long as they are not in violation of the Constitution, but as soon as legislative enactments conflict with the State Constitution their validity is destroyed. That a state official is bound to obey a legislative enactment when it conflicts with a plain constitutional provision is a reversal of the principles of law which have existed from the adoption of the Magna Charta to the present time.

Independent, therefore, of the impossibility to execute this act of 1895, which has been dwelt upon at length, the Secretary of Internal Affairs feels justified in refusing to execute the law, for the reason that he believes it to be clearly unconstitutional in that it is in conflict with section 7 of Article III of the Constitution, above quoted.

Not desiring to stand alone against the opinion of the distinguished Attorney General of Pennsylvania, the opinion of an eminent member of the Pennsylvania bar was asked upon this subject, as is disclosed by the following copy of a letter addressed to him:

February 10, 1904.

Hon. Lyman D. Gilbert, Harrisburg, Pa.:

My Dear Sir: I respectfully call your attention to the act approved the 26th day of June, 1895, providing for the appointment of inspectors of weights and measures in cities of the first and second class. This law will be found in the act of 1895, pages 386 and 387.

I desire that you give me an opinion as to the constitutionality of this act; whether it is local legislation in conflict with Article III, Section 7 of the Constitution, both with reference to its regulation of the affairs of counties, cities, boroughs, wards, etc., and in regard to the optional feature which seems to be embodied in the act.

Kindly give me your opinion at the very earliest day possible and accompany the same with your bill.

Very truly yours,

ISAAC B. BROWN,
Secretary.

In reply to this letter the following opinion was given:

Harrisburg, Pa., February 11, 1904.

Hon. Isaac B. Brown, Secretary of Internal Affairs, Harrisburg, Pa.:

Dear Sir: Replying to your letter of the 10th instant, I beg to say that I have examined the act of Assembly approved the 26th day of June, 1895 (P. L. 386), entitled "An act to provide for the appointment of inspectors by the Governor for the cities of the first and second class of this Commonwealth to inspect scales, weights and measures, and providing for their compensation." That legislation is, in my opinion, unconstitutional, for the following reasons:

(1) It violates Section 3 of Article III of the Constitution, in that its subject matter is not clearly expressed in its title.

(2) It is a local, special law, regulating the affairs of counties and cities, and is, therefore, in violation of Section 7 of Article III of the Constitution.

Very truly yours,

LYMAN D. GILBERT.

Had the opinion of Mr. Gilbert been adverse to that of the Secretary of Internal Affairs, he might have felt justified in disregarding his convictions and rested in the assumption that he was mistaken in his opinion as to the constitutionality of the legislation in question, but as this opinion of Mr. Gilbert is a positive and specific endorsement, and, indeed, makes a further advance in other features of the law as to its constitutionality, he feels that there is no other course for him to pursue than to refuse to make further attempts to execute this act of 1895.

These conclusions have been reached with no little thought, study and consideration, impelled by obedience to the conviction that the Secretary of Internal Affairs should not shirk responsibility, nor turn his ear from that safe monitor, conscience, which should determine for all the personal obligations and duties which may be assumed and performed.

The Governor having made a part of the appointments under the law, the course which the Secretary of Internal Affairs is compelled to pursue is fraught with some embarrassment, for it is of a delicate character. The presentation of views on constitutional questions contrary to those already expressed by the distinguished Attorney General accentuates the more the delicacy of the position assumed in the premises.

Having determined to refuse to attempt the execution of the act of 1895, a communication was addressed to the county commissioners of the three counties in interest, of which the following is a copy:

Department of Internal Affairs,
Harrisburg, Pa., March 3, 1904.

To the County Commissioners of the Counties of Philadelphia, Allegheny and Lackawanna:

Gentlemen: You are hereby informed that I am unable to supply equipment for inspectors of weights and measures under the act of 1895, for the reason that under the laws of this Commonwealth equipment for the use of sealers of weights and measures must be tested by the standards furnished by the United States and kept in the custody of the Secretary of the Commonwealth. Such standards are not now in the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth, they having been destroyed at the time the State Capitol building was burned.

It must be that it was the intention to have the equipment authorized by the act of 1895 subjected to the same test, for the purchase of testing equipment for the use of inspectors without being verified by the legal standards would be a disregard of legal obligations and subject the state authorities to criticism, and might be an imposition upon merchants and salesmen of all kinds.

Another reason why I am unable to supply the equipment is that $2,500, the amoney appropriated by the act of 1903, is entirely inadequate to enable me to supply outfits for inspectors for the cities of the first and second class embraced within the three counties above named.

A third reason why I cannot supply the equipment for inspectors is that the act of 1895, providing for the appointment of inspectors is, as I believe, unconstitutional, being in conflict with section 7, Article III of the Constitution, and in support of this view of this question I submit for your information the opinion of a distinguished member of the Pennsylvania bar:

"Harrisburg, Pa., February 11, 1904.

Hon. Isaac B. Brown, Secretary of Internal Affairs, Harrisburg, Pa.:

Dear Sir: Replying to your letter of the 10th instant, I beg to say that I have examined the act of Assembly approved the 26th day of June, 1895 (P. L. 386), entitled "An act to provide for the appointment of inspectors by the Governor for the cities of the first and second class of this Commonwealth to inspect scales, weights and measures, and providing for their compensation." That legislation is, in my opinion, unconstitutional, for the following reasons:

(1) It violates section 3 of Article III of the Constitution, in that its subject-matter is not clearly expressed in its title.

(2) It is a local, special law regulating the affairs of counties and cities, and is, therefore, in violation of section 7 of Article III of the Constitution.

Very truly yours,

LYMAN D. GILBERT."

If there is a public demand for inspectors of weights and measures and if public interests can be conserved and wrongs prohibited by such officials, then I regret that I am unable to assist in giving efficacy to the act of 1895. As it is, I see no way except to wait until the assembling of the next Legislature, when a valid act may be passed and suitable appropriation secured to make it possible to enforce its provisions.

Very respectfully yours,

ISAAC B. BROWN,
Secretary.

THE REMOVAL OF THE DEPARTMENT OF INTERNAL AFFAIRS TO ITS PERMANENT QUARTERS IN THE NEW CAPITOL BUILDING.

Extended comments have heretofore been made with reference to the hazard to public records in their removal from the old Land Office building to the Bay Shoe Factory building, and the difficulties that were encountered in having a vault constructed wherein they should be cared for temporarily, or until the proper space and fire-proof vaults were prepared for them in the new structure.

Since the removal from the old apartments to the temporary ones, the force of the Department has been greatly increased on account of new duties which have been assigned to the Department, and the requirements of the clerical force as to space are at least one-third greater than when the requisition was made for space in the new capitol building. It is true the Bureau of Mines has been taken from the Department by the act of 1903, but notwithstanding the reduction of the force by the removal of that Bureau from this office, the proposition is still true that the space required for the increased clerical force is one-third more than it was prior to the recent legislation.

From this statement it would appear that notwithstanding the Bureau of Mines has been taken from the Department, all the space, according to the requisition made, including that provided for the Bureau of Mines, should be given to the Department of Internal Affairs.

For the requirements of the Department as to space, reference is made to the letter addressed to Mr. E. C. Gerwig, Secretary Capitol Building Commission, under date of August 29, 1901, of which the following is a copy:

August 29, 1901.

Mr. E. C. Gerwig, Secretary Capitol Building Commission, Harrisburg, Pa.:

Dear Sir: I beg to acknowledge receipt of your letter of August 27th, and in reply to say that the amount of space now required, and which will within the next decade probably be required by the Department of Internal Affairs, with its several Bureaus, and its accumulation of valuable documents is as follows:

First. A fire-proof room for the preservation of surveys, returns, patents and warrant should be provided, occupying a space of at least sixty feet square. Within this room would be kept all the colonial records, the land titles given by the proprietaries and also those given by the State after the lands within the domain of the State were acquired by the Penn family. In a historical sense, and in the way of adjusting and settling disputes that may arise with reference to land titles, these documents are the most valuable papers concerning the State of Pennsylvania now in existence, and the necessity of constructing apartments for their preservation cannot be too strongly emphasized. I know of no words in the English language that can too strongly express the necessity for the preservation of these records. That they have been kept until this time from the destruction of fire is almost marvellous. The necessity of making proper provision for their safety is of the utmost importance.

Second. Apartments for the Bureau of Assessments and Taxes, occupying a space of at least thirty feet square, divided into two rooms of about equal size.

Third. Apartments for the records of the Bureau of Vital Statistics, occupying a space of thirty feet square.

Fourth. Apartments for the Bureau of Industrial Statistics, occupying a space of sixty feet by twenty-five feet, divided into two rooms.

Fifth. Apartments for the Bureau of Railways, occupying a space of sixty feet by forty feet, divided into two rooms.

Sixth. Apartments for the Bureau of Mines and Geology, occupying a space of sixty feet by twenty-five feet, divided into three rooms. In connection with this Bureau it is proper to state that the Commonwealth should provide a room of proper size with the Bureau of Mines, specimens of the mineral resources of the Commonwealth, and this room should be at least sixty by thirty feet.

Seventh. If the Weather Service Bureau should be continued, apartments for that Bureau should also be arranged, occupying a space of thirty-five feet by twenty-feet. This Bureau ceased to be operated some two or three years ago from a failure on the part of the Legislature to make the usual appropriation for its maintenance.

Eighth. One well-lighted room, occupying a space of fifty feet by forty feet, for drafting purposes. Under the laws of this Commonwealth this Department is required to continue the copying of old surveys and records under the provisions of the act of 1833, and it is necessary to have well-lighted apartments to insure successful results.

Ninth. One room well-lighted, occupying a space of twenty by twenty feet, for the comparing of original surveys, patents, warrants and other Land Office records with copies that may be made for the permanent use of the Commonwealth or for the demands of the public.

Tenth. One apartment for the Deputy Secretary of the Internal Affairs, occupying a space of twenty-five feet by thirty feet.

Eleventh. One apartment for the Secretary of Internal Affairs, occupying a space of twenty-five feet by thirty feet.

Twelfth. Closets to be arranged on the first and second floors of the proposed building, and suitable arrangements in the basement for storing documents and records not in frequent use. A large portion of the basement should be devoted to this purpose.

Thirteenth. One room, occupying a space of twenty feet by twenty feet for a stenographer's room, the Department having three stenographers constantly employed.

In making this estimate of space for the needs of this Department, I have only considered the Bureaus now in existence, and have not taken into consideration any space that may be required for any Bureaus that may be hereafter added to the Department.

In giving the dimensions of the rooms, the figures are not intended to indicate any arbitrary lengths and breadths, but what I desire to express is that the amount of space shown by the dimensions will be required.

The arrangement of the rooms with reference to shape and location, I understand will be decided by the architect.

In giving the space as indicated by this letter to comply with the requirements of this Department, I have not taken into consideration the space that will be necessarily taken up by halls, courts, corridors, etc.

Very truly yours,

ISAAC B. BROWN,
Deputy Secretary.

Certainly every foot of space mentioned in this letter ought to be assigned to the Department of Internal Affairs in the new building. It will be a fortunate day, if that day shall ever arrive, when all the valuable records of this department are removed from this fragile structure to the commodious apartments which it appears are being provided in the northerly wing of the new capitol building.

If that building shall be as nearly fire proof as the specifications call for, particularly as to the vaults which are to be prepared for certain records of this Department, then the hazard of loss or damage by fire will be reduced to a minimum, and the great responsibility which now exists will largely be eliminated, their freedom from mutilation depending almost entirely upon the care of those who shall be the official custodians thereof.

THE NEW CAPITOL BUILDING AND THE STATE CAPITOL PARK.

It may not be entirely inappropriate for the Secretary of Internal Affairs to make some observations with reference to the new capitol and the State Capitol park within which the new capitol is being erected.

There may be other branches of the States Government from which an expression on this subject might come with greater propriety than from the Department of Internal Affairs, and yet the interest which all the thoughtful people of Pennsylvania feel in having a capitol and a park commensurate with the magnitude and the material interests of the State, is so pronounced that it seems entirely justifiable that in the public report of this Department such expression should be given.

While the old capitol was located, and the new capitol is being constructed, upon a beautiful elevation of land in the valley of the Susquehanna, within the limits of the city of Harrisburg, and the permanency of the location of the capitol seems to have been determined upon for all time, yet there is one feature of the State Capitol park to which the careful consideration of the law-making branch of the State Government is respectfully invited.

The present park, embracing some fifteen or sixteen acres of ground, is long and narrow, and the new capitol now in process of construction rises immediately and abruptly from Fourth street, whose western line is near the eastern alignment of the capitol structures.

On the opposite side of Fourth street, along the entire length of the capitol grounds, and extending easterly to the main line of the Pennsylvania Railroad, is a portion of the city of Harrisburg consisting principally of a lower class of tenement houses, a few unimportant factories, the plants of the Steam Heat and Power Company and of the electric light companies.

Cleanliness certainly does not characterize this portion of the city of Harrisburg, and its sanitary condition at times is very reprehensible. An examination of its condition carries conviction that relief cannot come for generations except through the havoc of a devastating fire or the demolition and removal of the buildings now found in the territory, and the transformation of this territory into a park as an enlargement of the State capitol grounds.

If the State were to purchase this territory embraced between Walnut and North streets, and extending easterly from the capitol grounds to the railroad, and transform it into a park, then, indeed, would Pennsylvania have the most sightly and striking capitol grounds and buildings of any of the states of the American Union.

Visitors at the State capital would be enchanted by their beauties, for from the capitol a most charming view could be had of the Lebanon and Cumberland valleys and the blue line of mountains that marks their limits.

Citizens of other states and our own Pennsylvanians, in passing over the lines of the railway would have presented to them a beautiful vista through which they would have a delightful view of the capitol and its surroundings, and this would add to and not detract from the magnificence and the magnitude of the State.

Let it be remembered that no citizen of Pennsylvania or of this nation, nor any citizen or subject of any other of the nations of the earth, can justly question the magnitude of Pennsylvania with reference to the wealth of its commercial interests, but let it also be remembered that her old capitol buildings were never worthy of high commendation except that they represented a pure type of colonial architecture, and neither will the new capitol building, however grand its architecture, be creditable to the State until there shall be purchased, as an enlargement to the State capitol park, the territory in question.

The assessed valuation of all real estate, including grounds and buildings, in this territory suggested as an addition to the State capitol park, is less than one million dollars, and while some of the property may be worth more than the assessed valuation, it is morally certain that some of it is worth less.

The Legislature, by wholesome legislation, can provide for a commission clothed with the power of eminent domain, to purchase these properties. The assessed valuation of real estate, while not usually up to the full standard of values, as required by law, still furnishes something of a basis upon which action may be predicated, and there ought not to be any insurmountable difficulties in the way of accomplishing these purchases with fairness to the property owners and economy and integrity on the part of those representing the Commonwealth.

This is a question of immeasurable importance to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. True, it might be said that it would take Harrisburg from the narrow groove in which she has so long moved and place her on a much higher plane of commercial existence, but while Harrisburg may have loitered by the way while her sister cities of the Keystone State have been marching on to a higher plane of municipal conditions, yet she is already making most decisive advances. She has aroused herself from a condition of lethargy, and now her board of trade, her commercial organizations and her citizens generally are advancing rapidly, recovering lost ground and embracing opportunities for the improvement of the city in every direction.

Pennsylvanians ought not only to have an opportunity to be proud of their capitol building, but they ought to have a commendable pride in their capital city.

The State has been exceedingly generous in appropriations to universities, colleges, normal, industrial and soldiers' orphans' schools, and in the abundant provisions made in support of our great common school system, for now there are yearly six million dollars flowing from the State Treasury as a benediction to the people of the State and the Nation for the education of the masses of our people.

No less generous has the State been in the munificent provisions made for the construction and for the maintenance of the great institutions such as penitentiaries, asylums for the insane and reformatories, and sometimes it has seemed that the bounds of propriety have been passed in the generosity which has approached extravagance in appropriations made to State and private charitable institutions.

Great as have been these appropriations for the different purposes mentioned, of moneys directly from the State Treasury, yet, as a matter of fact, the State itself has never had capitol buildings at all commensurate with the magnitude and dignity of the Commonwealth.

Upwards of twenty million dollars have been expended by Philadelphia on the municipal structure erected at Broad and Market streets, yet the glory of this architectural display is destroyed in that Philadelphia did not at the proper time secure the surrounding properties and thereby prevent the destruction of the beauty of that magnificent pile.

If we will turn our eyes to the capitol of the Empire State, at Albany, on the Hudson, we will find a structure that has cost the state of New York four fold more than will cost the new capitol of Pennsylvania, finished according to the stipulations of the contract, and including also the cost of the territory suggested as an addition to the State capitol park.

However many the millions expended on the capitol of the Empire State at Albany, its splendor is wanting in the limitations of its grounds.

From the appearance of our new capitol in its present condition, there is justification for the faith we have that every Pennsylvanian will be proud of his State capitol buildings when finished, and that credit will be reflected upon the Legislature, the Commission and the contractor, but they can never rise to the full measure of their merited worth and beauty and receive the commendation of the entire thoughtful people of Pennsylvania until there is purchased the territory suggested, its unsightly buildings demolished, its unsanitary conditions abated, and its area transformed into a park as an extension to the State capitol grounds.

A few hundreds of thousands of dollars will do this, and this expenditure will add millions to the beauty of the Pennsylvania State capitol buildings, creating a feeling of pride in the heart of every Pennsylvanian and elevating not only the capital of the State but the State itself in the eyes of the people of this nation.

It would seem that all conditions justify the enlargement of the state capitol park. If it is to be done, it should be done now. The times are propitious. There is no financial question involved, for the money is at hand. Not a cent of money would be raised by taxation. The limitless extent of the prosperity that has prevailed throughout the entire nation has multiplied the valuation of the capital stocks of corporations, and the state treasury is full to overflowing.

This fact alone does not justify the expenditure of a single dollar. It only means that if, in the wisdom of the Pennsylvania Legislature the purchase of this territory as an addition to the state capitol park shall be deemed advisable, the means are at hand to defray the expenses.

The Legislature has the opportunity to make the capitol buildings of Pennsylvania and the capitol park in which they are situated a "thing of beauty and a joy forever." Certainly the improvement as herein suggested is a "consumation devoutly to be wished."

THE LANDS ON THE BANKS OF THE SUSQUEHANNA WHERE HARRISBURG IS SITUATED.

A bit of early and interesting history in regard to the first settlements in the vicinity of Harrisburg and the granting of lands to John Harris and others, which has been prepared by the Hon. Theodore B. Klein, will not only be found of value to the people of the capital city, but will be read with interest by all citizens of the Commonwealth who are interested in the early settlement and development of lands within the limits of the Commonwealth.

The recounting of historical facts based upon the records on file in the Department of Internal Affairs, is certainly within the province of the Department's work, and with this in view mention is made in the current annual report of the early settlement of the territory upon which the capital city is located and of the original founding of Harrisburg.

William Penn, from his home in the Fatherland, in view of his success at Philadelphia, conceived the idea of a settlement upon the Susquehanna, for in a prospectus dated in 1690, he said:

"It is now my purpose to make another settlement upon the river Susquehannagh, that runs into the Bay of Chesapeake, and bears about fifty miles west from the river Delaware, as appears by the common maps of the English Dominion in America. There I design to lay out a plan for the building of another city, in the most convenient place for communication with the former plantations on the East; which by land is as good as done already, a way being laid out between the two rivers very exactly and conveniently, at least three years ago, and which will not be hard to do by water, by the benefit of the river Scoukill, for a branch of that river lies near a branch that runs into Susquehannagh River, and is the common course of the Indians with their skins and furs into our parts."

After stating the terms upon which he proposed disposing of the land, viz, 100 pounds for 3,000 acres, and at the same rate in proportion and as an inducement to settlers granted a credit of five years after settlement, and then an annual quit rent to be paid of one shilling for every 100 acres, forever.

He recommends the settlement, "for its known goodness of soil and situation high and not mountainous, and boasts of the Pleasantness and Largeness of the River being clear and not rapid, and broader than the Thames at London Bridge, many miles above the place intended for this settlement, and runs (as we are told by the Indians) quite through the Province, into which many fair rivers empty themselves. The sorts of timber that grow there are chiefly oak, ash, chestnut, walnut, cedar and poplar. The native fruits are pawpaws, grapes, mulberry's, chestnuts, and several sorts of walnuts. There are likewise great quantities of Deer and especially Elks, which are much bigger than our Red Deer and use that river in herds. And fish there is of divers sorts, and very large and good, and in great plenty."

Surely the terms of this prospectus could not fail to offer inducements and encourage emigrants to travel to the promised land.

John Harris, anticipating the desires of William Penn and weary of waiting for the new city to be laid out, reached the place of his choice a short time prior to 1719, a favored spot upon the banks of the Susquehanna at a point near which the trains of the early settlers and emigrants crossed the noble river. His prophetic eye saw the possibilities of the location for the active trader and, therefore, he decided to erect his primitive castle upon the chosen spot, where (with his wife, Esther Day, an English maiden who had found favor in his sight) a settlement was established which in due time has become the capital city of the great Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

He acquired a large body of the virgin soil, with its timbers and streams, covering an area of more than 800 acres (including the tracts as indicated on the map herewith), which was patented to himself and Joseph Turner, on the 17th day of December, in the year of our Lord 1733, the seventh year of the reign of King George the Second over Great Britain, and the sixteenth year of the Proprietaries' government. Thomas Penn affixed the great seal of the Proprietaries' Province for himself and John Penn and Richard Penn, by virtue of the powers and authorities to him granted by his associates as absolute proprietaries and governors in chief of the Province of Pennsylvania and the counties of New Castle, Kent and Sussex on Delaware.

John Taylor, the acting surveyor for the proprietaries, with his compass and chain, outlined the ground selected on the 4th day of June, 1733, and starting from a locust tree on the bank of the river, directed his chain bearers east-northeast, a distance of 320 perches (or a full mile), to a white oak, one of the monarchs of the forest; from thence an angle was turned to the northwest and for a distance of 540 perches, or almost a mile and three-quarters, to a corner elm, when another angle was made, and in a west-south-westerly direction a line was laid for a distance of 252 perches, or 5,158 feet, to a water beech on the bank of the river; from thence, by the several courses of the stream, for a distance of 560 perches, or one and three-fourths miles, the line was joined to the locust tree, the place of beginning, inclosing 848 acres of beautiful land, now the heart of a beautiful city, upon which the official departments of the great Commonwealth are permanently located, together with prominent institutions devoted to education, congregational worship and domestic homes worthy of the seat of government of this great State.

The Lord of this Manor, bounded by the forests and the Susquehanna river, an active pioneer and enterprising trader, continued to develop the territory and to lay the foundations of a city of which he may have dreamed in the quiet hours of the night.

At the time of the grant of the land alluded to, a youth of six years of age rambled about the log cabin on the river bank (the first white child born west of the Conewago Hills), and the name of this youth was that of his father, whose strong habits and strong character he inherited. The elder John Harris died in December, 1748, leaving the young man to continue the work he had begun, the results of which we are witnesses of in this year of grace 1904.

The responsibilities of the young man must have been great, but with the assistance of his mother he weathered all the troubles and care of the troublous times, and the treachery of the uncivilized Indians, and in time developed the plans for the new town and city that has grown from the humble cabin of the senior John Harris.

On the fifth of February, 1753, privileges were granted to him by the Penns (Thomas and Richard) for the establishment of a ferry across the Susquehanna for a period of seven years. This became a great thoroughfare to the frontier, and attracted many people, and thereby they became acquainted with the prospects and advantages of the location selected by Harris.

It became a central rallying point of the sturdy yeomanry of the day, many of whom joined the ranks of the colonists in the War of the Revolution, and John Harris himself carried 3,000 pounds sterling to Philadelphia to be invested in the war fund required in that struggle with the mother country.

This event delayed the progress of the new settlement, but by an act of Assembly of March 4, 1785, Dauphin county was created out of a part of Lancaster county and "Harris' Ferry" was made the seat of justice thereof.

Previous to the passage of the above act, viz, March 3, 1784, Mr. Harris had made proposals for the laying out of a town on his land, providing for two hundred lots on the high ground above the mansion. The lots were each to contain one-quarter of an acre of ground, to be intersected by streets, lanes and alleys. The proposition was made to the General Assembly, which body was requested to appoint commissioners to appraise the lots, twenty of which were to be reserved by himself. A lot was to be transferred for a court house and jail, and a square of four acres, to the State of Pennsylvania for such purposes "as the government may desire."

The town proposed by Harris was laid out in the spring of 1785, by William Maclay, who was a son-in-law of Mr. Harris. Mr. Maclay made a map of the town and afterwards was known as a United States Senator from Pennsylvania, serving from 1789 to 1791.

From this date the assurance was given that the foundations of a permanent place were laid deep and strong, and with the ambition to secure the seat of government. John Harris conveyed to certain of his neighbors, in trust for public use, four acres and twenty-one perches of land located upon the high ground beginning at what is now the corner of Third street and Walnut and extending up to where the State buildings are now erected. Subsequent action of the Assembly and negotiations with the heirs of the original proprietor secured the present capitol grounds, enlarging them to the area of over fifteen acres.

The progress and advancement of the "Harris Ferry" site, since the early days of its founding, are recorded in full upon the proper record of the municipality, to which the student is referred.

The future developments of the greater Harrisburg may be in a measure conjectured from suggestions advanced in public places, but the items of history herewith presented are intended only to pertain to the early founding of Harrisburg.

AN EARLY ENTERPRISE IN EASTERN PENNSYLVANIA.

An interesting record now remaining on file in the Department of Internal Affairs, bearing upon the early development of the Commonwealth, is herewith published, in which appear the names of very prominent men of the period, who, in the year 1792, agreed with the then Governor of Pennsylvania, Thomas Mifflin, and contracted to improve the navigation of the Susquehanna river by the construction of an artificial water way along the York county shore in order to avoid the perils of navigation over the Conewago Falls, below Harrisburg.

Because of the early period and the difficulties attending the construction and also because of the prominent and well-known men connected with the enterprise, the account thereof and the report of the inauguration of the work will be found interesting.

ARTICLES OF AGREEMENT made and entered into this third day of July, in the year of our Lord one thousand seven hundred and ninety-two, between Thomas Mifflin, Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania of the one part and Robert Morris, William Smith (DD), Walter Stewart, Samuel Meredith, John Steinmetz, Tench Francis, John Nicholson, John Donaldson, Samuel Miles, Timothy Matlack, David Rittenhouse, Samuel Powell Alexander, James Dallas, William Bingham, Henry Miller, Abraham Whitmer and Robert Harris, Practitioner in Physick, all of the State of Pennsylvania, Esquires, of the other part.

WHEREAS the General Assembly of this Commonwealth did in and by an Act entitled "An Act to provide for the opening and improving sundry navigable waters and roads within this Commonwealth" authorise and empower the Governor to contract with individuals or with companies among other things, for improving the navigation of the river Susquehanna from Wrights Ferry to the mouth of Swatara Creek inclusive, and for that purpose appropriated the sum of Five thousand two hundred and fifty pounds. AND WHEREAS the said Robert Morris, William Smith, Walter Stewart, Samuel Meredith, John Steinmetz, Tench Francis, John Nicholson, John Donaldson, Samuel Miles, Timothy Matlack, David Rittenhouse, Samuel Powell Alexander, J. Dallas, William Bingham, Henry Miller, Abraham Whitmer and Robert Harris have formed themselves into a Company, and made proposals for opening and improving the navigation of the said River Susquehanna agreeably to the true intent, meaning and design of the Legislature, which proposals the said Thomas Mifflin deems it for the interest of the Commonwealth to accept. NOW THESE ARTICLES WITNESS that for the consideration hereinafter mentioned they the said Robert Morris, William Smith, Walter Stewart, Samuel Meredith, John Steinmetz, Tench Francis, John Nicholson, John Donaldson, Samuel Miles, Timothy Matlack, David Rittenhouse, Samuel Powell Alexander, James Dallas, William Bingham, Henry Miller, Abraham Whitmer and Robert Harris jointly and severally Have and each of them Hath agreed, undertaken and contracted and by these presents Do and each of them Doth agree, undertake and contract to and with the said Thomas Mifflin and his successors Governors of the said Commonwealth that they will well and truly open and improve the navigation of the said River Susquehanna between Wrights Ferry and the mouth of the Swatara aforesaid in manner following; that is to say that at the Conewago falls they will cut, establish and maintain a Canal of a sufficient and convenient width not less than forty feet; of a length sufficient to pass and extend beyond all the obstructions created in the navigation of the said River by means of the said Conewago falls; and of a depth sufficient at all times to contain and convey throughout the whole distance of the said Canal a body of water of at least four feet deep; that they will also erect and maintain on the said Canal a sufficient number of safe and commodious locks not less than two for the benefit of the navigation; that the said Canal and Locks, and all the works thereunto belonging shall be forever kept and maintained in good and perfect order and repair by the said Contractors, their Heirs Executors, Administrators and Assigns at the proper costs and charge of them and every of them; that the said Canal and Locks shall be begun with all convenient dispatch and that the same shall be finished and in all respects compleat and ready for the purposes of navigation on or before the first day of January, which will be in the year of our Lord one thousand seven hundred and ninety-six, and that the same shall be then opened as a public Highway, and as such for public use be forever after kept open so that all persons who-soever with boats, rafts and other suitable vessels and their freights may thenceforth at all seasons when the navigation of the said River Susquehanna is not rendered impracticable by ice pass and repass on the said Canal and use and enjoy the benefit of the said Locks free of toll, and any and every other charge whatsoever as freely as if the said Canal and Locks were made and established by the Public and duly declared by Law to be a public Highway. AND FURTHER that they the said Robert Morris, William Smith, Walter Stewart, Samuel Meredith, John Steinmetz, Tench Francis, John Nicholson, John Donaldson, Samuel Miles, Timothy Matlack, David Rittenhouse, Samuel Powell Alexander, Jas. Dallas, William Bingham, Henry Miller, Abraham Whitmer and Robert Harris shall and will on or before the said first day of January in the year one thousand seven hundred and ninety-six make and establish a safe and convenient passage and remove the natural obstructions at Chickis's Falls, and Haldimans Ripples so as to admit the passage of boats drawing two feet water at the mean low water mark in the summer season, such mark to be ascertained and fixed by Commissioners or Agents to be appointed by the Governor. And also that they shall and will clear a convenient passage through the Swatara Ripples on the East Side of the River upon the same plan and with the same safety for the passage of boats as at Haldimans and Chickis's Falls. AND the said Robert Morris, William Smith, Walter Stewart, Samuel Meredith, John Steinmetz, Tench Francis, John Nicholson, John Donaldson, Samuel Miles, Timothy Matlack, David Rittenhouse, Samuel Powell Alexander, James Dallas, William Bingham, Henry Miller, Abraham Whitmer and Robert Harris, each one for himself, his Heirs, Executors and Administrators, and each for the rest and their respective Heirs, Executors and Administrators, covenant, promise and agree to and with the said Thomas Mifflin and his successors Governors of the said Commonwealth that they and each of them will well and truly do perform and execute all and singular the undertakings and contracts by them herein before made and entered into. AND the said Thomas Mifflin in behalf of the said Commonwealth in consideration of the undertakings and contracts herein before specified covenants, promises and agrees to and with the said Robert Morris, William Smith, Walter Stewart, Samuel Meredith, John Steinmetz, Tench Francis, John Nicholson, John Donaldson, Samuel Miles, Timothy Matlack, David Rittenhouse, Samuel Powell Alexander, Jas. Dallas, William Bingham, Henry Miller, Abraham Whitmer, and Robert Harris and every of them that they shall have and receive the sum of Five thousand two hundred and fifty pounds to be paid as the same may from time to time be necessary for prosecuting the improvements aforesaid, and to be deemed and taken as full satisfaction and compensation of all the services and expences of the said Robert Morris, William Smith, Walter Stewart, Samuel Meredith, John Steinmetz, Tench Francis, John Nicholson, John Donaldson, Samuel Miles, Timothy Matlack, David Rittenhouse, Samuel Powell Alexander, J. Dallas, William Bingham, Henry Miller, Abraham Whitmer and Robert Harris and every of them in executing this contract. IN WITNESS whereof the parties have hereunto set their hands and seals the day and year first above written.

December 5th, 1797.

Report to the Governor by John Hall, Esqr., late Agent of Information, on the Completion of the Conewago Canal.

Sir,

Having been specially appointed by your Excellency to view, and make report upon, the execution of the Contract made July 3d, 1792, between the Commonwealth and the Conewago Canal Company, viz. Robert Morris, William Smith, D. D. and others, and as upon the invitation of the Company, with a laudable public Spirit in order to countenance and encourage a work of such utility, as well as to enable you the better in your executive capacity to do justice to the Commonwealth as well as to the Contractors, you were pleased at a very inclement season to attend at the opening of this Grand Canal, my report on the subject may be the shorter,—consisting only of a state of facts which falls within your own knowledge.

After having left you on the afternoon of Tuesday the 21st Ult. I arrived at the Canal, in company with the Revd. Dr. Smith, who attended as a Committee of the Company, Mr. Thomas Leiper and some other Gentlemen. About sun-set the same Evening we crossed the river, and passed the Evening with Mr. James Brindley, the Engineer and superintendent of the works, in order to consult and prepare for the operations of the succeeding day.

Wednesday 22d finding the Canal considerably obstructed with Ice we embarked at the Head of the lower Locks about 10 o'clock with a number of the Canal workmen, under the direction of Mr. Brindley, in two large Flats belonging to the Ferry, and proceeded up the Canal to the regulating Lock and Gates, breaking the Ice in our way. The Gates being then opened we ascended the regulating Lock, and passed to the Head in the Susquehanna, above the Falls, where one of the Middletown river Boats, which they called a nine Ton Boat, lay prepared to descend, and on our signal, immediately passed out of the river into the Bason at the head of the regulating Lock, where our two large Flats lay to receive her. This small fleet then passed the regulating Lock and down the canal, keeping as much abreast of each other as possible, and breaking the Ice into very small cakes in our way. Having reached the lower Locks, we passed the same one after another, and entered the river below the Falls, at about half an hour after 11 o'clock, when it was perceived that you and your attendants were waiting at the Ferry on the Lancaster side, amidst the snow and sleet of the day. One of the Ferry Boats doubly manned pushed across to receive you, but the Middletown river Boat with her four Oarsmen, being emulous of that service, pushed across the river, got first to the Landing, and in the space of about 18 or 20 Minutes, returned and entered the Canal at the bottom of the lower lock.

The grand operation of ascending the Locks now commenced. Your Excellency, declining to land, or lose time, Mr. Brindley went on shore, and with two of his best men, took command of the Locks. While the first lock was filling, every person who could conveniently, to the number of about 55 got into the Middleton Boat, with your Excellency, and were astonished to find themselves raised nine feet perpendicular (vizt. to the level of the 2d Lock) in the space of 8 Minutes, scarcely conjecturing whence the water came, the gates above them being still shut. Having entered the 2d Lock it was filled and passed in 4 Minutes and a half, which would have been the case in the 1st Lock if the unbroken Ice at its upper Gate had not retarded. Having now ascended both Locks, the Boat with her 55 Passengers, with five setting poles, pushed up thro' the Canal thro' the broken and floating Ice to the regulating Lock in 17 Minutes, then thro' the same in 3 Minutes, and to the head of the Cutting and upper Entrance of the river above the Falls in 5 Minutes more, in all thirty seven minutes and a half.

The descent in the same boat, with the same or rather a greater number of Passengers, thro' the regulating and down to the double Locks, was only 17 Minutes. Here you and others in your Company landed, but there being near five hundred persons present (and if the weather had permitted there would probably have been some thousands) Mr. Brindley indulged as many as desired, by opening the lower locks, passing and repassing them several times in the several Boats.

The Governor need not be reminded here of a circumstance which did credit to the Workmen, who have been so long employed in subduing the rocks in the Scite and Bed of the Canal, namely that having no Artillery of Brass or Iron, they bored their artillery out of the hardest Rocks in the space of about 3 Hours in the morning, and gave the Governor a federal salute at his entrance into the Lower Lock, and another ascending and descending the Body of the Canal, and that in regular succession of discharges, with a report so loud as to be reverberated from the fellow Rocks on both shores of the Susquehanna, trembling as it were for their own safety.

What is now most material to be added in this report is the situation of the Canal & execution of the work, to enable you to pronounce safely concerning the Completion of the Contract.

1. It is one mile in length, wanting a few perches.

2. It is everywhere 40 feet in width at bottom, and 4 feet deep, in some places more, when filled only within 20 inches of the top of its Banks or towing Path; all which is compleatly agreeable to the Contract.

3. The Locks are indeed a grand work, constructed in the most masterly manner, of the most solid materials, Brick and Hewn Stone. The two Locks at the lower end are 80 feet each in length and 12 feet in breadth or width, & in the lowest state of the river 3 feet 6 inches in depth, over the main Sills of each Lock Gate.

To say that these Locks amount to the Terms of the Contract would be to say little—Their Nature, Construction, &c., being new in this Country, could not have been contemplated or understood by the Commonwealth, or the Company at the time of the Contract, for I am instructed to say, and the Company in an address now preparing, mean to demonstrate to you, and submit their case to the Legislature, that the two lower Locks, the regulating Lock, the Wing, Walls and Barriers at the Head of the Canal, which are all for the public use, exceed to an immense degree in expence, the whole sum estimated and contracted for by the Commonwealth exclusive of the purchase of the Ground and digging the Canal a mile nearly in length, 40 feet wide and four feet deep, thro' the most difficult ground within the State.

Add to this that the said Locks are to be "maintained at the expence of the Company, and kept open as a highway for public use, &c." By keeping open can only be intended the liberty of Passing, for Locks always open would be of no use in navigation; they must be opened and shut at every passage of a Boat and that by a skillful person, master of the Key of the Locks, to prevent their being damaged or trespassed upon; and from the foregoing statement, as it appears that the regulating Lock is near a mile above the Lower Locks and that such person cannot reside at both ends of the Canal at the same time, it will at least require one hour and 14 minutes of his labor and attendance for every Boat that passes, and that he must be always ready, and can scarcely pursue any other business—yet no provision is made in the Contract to compensate such person for his assisting the Boatmen, nor are the Company by the Contract bound to provide or maintain such person, but only to keep the Locks open, or in other words useless.

You will judge of the equity of this case, from the face of the Contract, and altho the Company should be allowed no toll, to compensate for the extraordinary expence of these Locks, beyond the public appropriation, and the future expence of maintaining and supporting them, yet it would be a hard case to require of them an additional annual salary to the Keeper of the Locks, without at least as much Toll from those who are to be benefitted by the services of the Keeper as will compensate his labor, and without whose assistance they could neither pass nor repass.

Besides the sum of 5,000 pounds for the Canal and Locks, I find by the Contract 250 pounds appropriated for Chickis Falls, Haldiman's Ripples and Swatara Ripples, and it appears by the estimate of Samuel Boyd, Bartram Gailbraith and Thomas Huling, the Commissioners, upon whose report the appropriation of the Legislature was made, that Chickis Falls should be 150 pounds, Haldiman's Ripples 100 pounds, Swatara Ripples 50 pounds, that is 300 pounds in the whole. How the difference of 50 pounds less in the contract, than in the estimate arises, does not appear to me, and whether this small part of the Contract be sufficiently compleated or not, could not be ascertained at the time of my examination of the Conewago Canal, because the waters of the Susquehanna were some feet higher than low water mark, and the contract specifies that the low water mark is to be ascertained and fixed by Commissioners or Agents appointed by your Excellency, which remains to be done before this part of the Contract can be reported upon. But it appears to me that you may safely discharge the Company of their Bond & Obligations, so far as concerns the 5,000 pounds for the Conewago Canal, taking a new obligation respecting the 250 pounds to be laid out on the other part.

I have the honor to be, very respectfully,

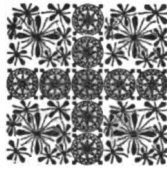

Your Excellency's

Most obt. Servant,

JNO. HALL,

5, Decr., 1797.

His Excellency,
Governor Mifflin.

PART II.

ASSESSMENTS AND TAXES.

BUREAU OF ASSESSMENTS AND TAXES.

The authority of the Secretary of Internal Affairs over the question of assessments, their return by the county commissioners, their compilation, consolidation and publication, is found in the act approved the 15th day of May, 1874, pamphlet laws page 193. The title to said act and the first section, governing assessments, are as follows:

AN ACT

Requiring county commissioners, railroad and other corporations to make annual reports to the Secretary of Internal Affairs, in lieu of similar reports heretofore made to the Auditor General.

Section 1. Be it enacted, &c., That the county commissioners of each county of the State, including the board of revision of the city of Philadelphia, shall, upon the first day of June, 1874, and upon the same day annually thereafter, make out in tabular form, by assessment districts, a full statement of all property taxable for county purposes, showing the real and personal in separate columns, the amount of tax assessed for county purposes, and also the debt of said county, the same to be enclosed by mail to the Secretary of Internal Affairs, at Harrisburg; and in case of refusal or neglect to make such returns, the same may be enforced by mandamus.

This act of Assembly, so far as the preparation of returns is concerned, is faithfully executed. It seems impracticable, however, to conform to the precise date of making the returns, as contemplated by the act, for the data assembled through the compilation under this provision of the law, are as valuable as they could be were the law strictly complied with as to the date of making the returns.

This office has no means of determining the degree of accuracy of the returns by the county commissioners. The county commissioners, of course, must depend upon the assessors of the several districts as to the correctness of the returns indicating the number of taxables, the number of acres of cleared land, the number of acres of timber land, the valuation of the different classifications of real estate, the number and value of horses, cattle, stages, the assessed value of all property taxable for county purposes, and the amount of property returned as taxable for State purposes.

In most of these items there is undoubtedly an approach to correctness. So far as the returns relate to the amount of money at interest, there may be room to express a doubt as to their accuracy. Undoubtedly the figures fall far short of indicating correctly the amount of money at interest throughout the Commonwealth. There are other features of the returns of assessments which might be referred to in such a way as to attack the integrity of the figures, but the reports of this office have for so many years dwelt in extensio upon these returns that it seems unnecessary to particularize again this year.

Number of Taxables.

The number of taxables, as disclosed by the returns of the commissioners of the several counties, as found in the report for the year ending November 30, 1902, was 2,022,273; the total for the year covered by this report is 2,125,579. If comparisons were made of the returns for ten or fifteen years, it would be found that there was a great fluctuation in the number of taxables reported from the several counties and in the several assessment districts of each county, and, indeed, of the total amounts as indicated by the returns from the county commissioners. The discrepancies arise, no doubt, in many instances, from the fact that new assessors do not proceed on the same lines with reference to the returning of taxables as did their predecessors in office. Some have a different understanding of their duties and the laws regulating their returns. Many undoubtedly act with great fidelity in the discharge of their duties. Others, perhaps, are somewhat reckless, and possibly some may not go to the limit of the possibilities in securing a full and complete return of the taxables in their assessment districts. A lack of uniformity in making these returns results in the presentation of figures wherein great disparities are shown to exist. It is not likely that there are many assessment districts in the State where the number of taxables is decreasing. This is certainly true if the observation is limited to say five or six years, covering a period of time when every enterprise of weight and moment has been pushed to its fullest extent, creating new subjects of taxation, there being an increase not only in the number of persons taxed, but also an increase in the number of the different subjects of classification of taxables. Hence, in any assessment district where the consolidated returns show a falling off in the number of taxables, it must be assumed that the returns made and published with this report are incorrect, or that there was an over estimate of the number of taxables in previous reports.

The failure to faithfully and fully execute all the provisions of a statute is the cause of much trouble, discussion and confusion among all concerned. If there were absolute good faith shown in the execution of all the tax laws of the Commonwealth there would be much less fault found with the enactments themselves.

It is not uncommon for this office to receive letters from persons in different portions of the Commonwealth complaining of the inequality of assessments, such persons having formed the opinion that the State authorities are directly or indirectly responsible for the disparities that exist in the assessment of real estate and other properties.

A careful reading of the laws will convince all that the wrongs which are borne to-day in the way of inequalities in taxation are due almost entirely to the failure of officers in counties and in assessment districts to faithfully discharge the duties imposed upon them by law and execute the tax laws in letter and in spirit, as seems to have been the purpose of the Legislature when such tax laws were placed upon the statute books.

This condition is seen in the lack of uniformity in the assessed valuation of property as controlled by boards of commissioners in the several counties of the Commonwealth. This subject has been so frequently referred to in the annual reports from this office that it seems out of place to waste more words upon it, but if those in authority will remember the express mandates of the law that property shall be assessed at its full value, and then will realize that in some counties the assessed valuation scarcely equals 25 per cent. of the actual valuation, while in some counties it may reach 75, 80 or perhaps 90 per cent. of the actual valuation, it will be apparent that discrepancies exist among the county commissioners and the assessors under them with reference to the return of real estate for taxable purposes at its full value. And to this failure to strictly conform to the requirements of the law is due many of the inequalities which exist and which are the just cause of complaint from those who suffer from this failure to faithfully execute the assessment laws.

No county commissioner can justify himself by giving direction to his assessors to fix the taxable value of property at any percentage of the actual value thereof, less than 100 per cent., for when he departs from the spirit and the letter of the law he is inviting and encouraging discord, and is himself a party to the violation of the law.

So, it must be apparent that whatever inequalities exist in the way of taxation in all its different features, they are due almost entirely to failure upon the part of the local authorities to fully comply with the standards of our tax and assessment laws.

These observations are made under this caption because it is the first subject touched upon as it appears in the tabulated statement showing the assessed valuation, etc., of property throughout the Commonwealth.

Some people are extremely careful in obeying the letter and the spirit of the Constitution, but regard statute laws with less respect, and too often there is no hesitancy in committing acts that are in their nature official, which are in violation of the law.

If an act of the Legislature is framed in accordance with the provisions of our fundamental law and in its passage through the Legislature is attended with all the formality and in accordance with the rules laid down in the Constitution, and receives Executive approval, it ought to be regarded as the voice of the people and, as such, is worthy of not only general acceptance as the law of the State, but ought also to be obeyed and accepted as a rule of action.

If all tax laws were made in conformity with constitutional law and were effected with all the solemnity which should characterize the enactments of the Legislature, and the officers appointed to execute such laws were faithful in the discharge of their duties, then it is manifestly certain that the inequalities that exist now and which are the just cause of complaint of many of the people, would be eliminated from our body politic and equity would prevail where injustice is now quite strongly intrenched. The result greatly to be desired is the execution of the tax laws with a fidelity which cannot be questioned.

Cleared and Timber Land.

In the report for the year ending November 30, 1902, the total acreage of cleared land was 16,631,653; of timber land, 8,771,713. For the year covered by this report the number of acres of cleared land is 16,320,468, and the number of acres of timber land 8,369,663.

Comment upon these figures is unnecessary. In both these items, cleared land and timber land, there is a falling off. Their inaccuracy is indicated in the fact that they show hundreds of thousands of acres less of land in Pennsylvania than was disclosed by the report of the previous year. The discrepancies existing undoubtedly are largely due to the fact that there is much land in the State that is not returned as either cleared or timber land, and possibly there is much land that is not susceptible of being classified as either cleared or timber land. The discrepancy may also be due to some extent to the fact that the Forestry Commission of Pennsylvania is buying large tracts of land for forest culture and forest preservation, and possibly such lands as are bought by the state are no longer assessed by local authorities for purposes of taxation. This is undoubtedly the case, for under the laws providing for the establishment of the Forestry Commission and the acquirement of forestry reservations, provision is made for the exemption of lands so acquired from local taxation.

In former reports recommendations have been made that there be a further classification of lands in this Commonwealth with reference to their acreage. Much of the land that cannot be classified as timber land cannot be classified as cleared land. The valuable timber may have been cut off and yet no tilling of the soil is found and the land is not sufficiently cleared even for grazing purposes, hence, the impossibility of correctly classifying such lands either as timber or cleared land.

Usually where a primeval forest is found, the more valuable timber, such as pine, hickory, cherry, walnut and chestnut first succumbs to the onslaught of the axeman and lumberman; then the less valuable is removed, and as timber becomes more valuable some value is given to the poorer classes of timber, and thus finally the old primeval forest is removed. At just what stage in this procedure the line may be drawn between timber land and cleared land, if at all, it is difficult to determine, and undoubtedly the assessors in the several assessment districts throughout the Commonwealth encounter great difficulty in deciding how to assess such lands, and to this condition is due very largely the discrepancies which exist from year to year in the returns indicating the number of acres of cleared and timber land within the limits of the Commonwealth.

Value of All Real Estate.

For the purpose of assessing real estate in Pennsylvania, it is divided into two classes, real estate taxable and real estate non-taxable. The total amount of all real estate, as returned for the year ending November 30, 1902, was $3,258,827,169; for the year covered by this report the total is $3,319,259,354.

Of this vast appraised valuation, the commissioners of Allegheny county report $654,955,145; the amount given in Luzerne is $117,762,941; in Philadelphia, $1,047,140,674. Last year the amount reported for Philadelphia was $1,033,212,354.

Value of Real Estate Exempt from Taxation.

The total amount of real estate reported by the commissioners of Allegheny county as exempt from taxation for the year covered by this report is $79,163,270; the amount in Philadelphia is $136,782,099. The total for the State for the year covered by this report is given at $333,062,313. The amount reported under this caption for the year ending November 30, 1902, was $328,144,389.

Value of Real Estate Taxable.

The real estate in Pennsylvania which is subject to local and other taxes is reported this year at $2,986,197,041; for the previous year the amount was $2,930,682,780, or an increase during the year of the assessed valuation of real estate taxable within the Commonwealth of $55,514,261.

Of this taxable real estate, the county commissioners of Allegheny county reported a valuation of $575,791,875; Luzerne, $116,206,730; Philadelphia, $910,358,575.

In considering these items relating to the real estate of Pennsylvania exempt from taxation and the real estate taxable, as well as the total amount of real estate in Pennsylvania, it must be remembered that generally throughout the Commonwealth the laws are not carefully executed with reference to the appraisement of the property exempt from taxation under the Constitution and the laws of the Commonwealth. For instance, church property, which is usually very expensive, some edifices costing tens of thousands of dollars, is certainly not accurately appraised by assessors. Few of the assessors are capable of ascertaining the value of such property, and, indeed, there is usually no data available to enable assessors to ascertain what such property has cost. Similar observations might be made about other real estate that is exempt from taxation, so that these figures, although they show a very large amount of the valuation of the real estate not taxable, yet it is not probable that they in a remote degree approach the figures of such exempt property.

The real estate returned as taxable property is given at less than $3,000,000,000, and while this amount seems to be incomprehensible, yet the evidence is found on all sides to indicate that these figures can scarcely be said to approach one-half the actual valuation of such taxable real estate in the Commonwealth.

The tendency of practically all real estate owners is to have their property appraised at a low figure for reasons that are apparent. Human nature is weak and selfish, and the lower the valuation placed upon a piece of real estate, the less the amount of taxes the owner is required to pay. Especially is this true and especially is it reprehensible when there is a lack of uniformity in the assessed valuation of real estate and in the same assessment district.

So, discussing all the different features of assessing real estate for taxation, it will be found that the figures returned clearly fall short of giving the actual valuation, and in all probability real estate taxable in Pennsylvania could be sold at more than double the amount at which it is appraised by the assessors throughout the Commonwealth.

A comparison might be made with the cost of steam railroads of Pennsylvania, with their capitalization, their bonded indebtedness, their current assets and liabilities, which would bring to mind at once the unreliability of the figures showing the valuation of taxable real estate in the Commonwealth. Of railroad corporations that make annual reports to the Bureau of Railways in this Department, including those whose lines are entirely within the State and those that extend into adjoining states, the combined capitalization, including stocks, bonds and current liabilities is upwards of $3,000,000,000, or several millions of dollars more than is the assessed valuation of taxable real estate in Pennsylvania.

It is very difficult to suggest remedies for existing evils, for any legislation that may be passed loses its efficacy or will be found wanting in fairness if there is a lack of fidelity in its execution.

Whatever evils exist to-day in the taxation problem; whatever wrongs are suffered, whatever discriminations there may be, they are all due to a failure on the part of those who are discharging the public functions imposed upon them as officers having in charge the assessing of real estate and other property for taxation. As has been before indicated, the laws are based upon equitable principles, they are specific in their requirements, and if applied, there would be little room for complaint and additional legislation would be of little use. If additional legislation were effected with a view of correcting existing evils, there would be a failure in accomplishing what is desired unless those charged with the responsibility of executing such additional legislative enactments were controlled by absolute fidelity in the discharge of their duties. Presumably they would not be more faithful in the execution of additional laws than are those now charged with the execution of existing laws.

These strictures upon assessors and others charged with responsibilities regarding the assessment of real estate and other properties are not made with a view of condemning public officials in counties and other assessment district, but they are made more with a view of creating an awakening of officers and a higher regard for the performance of public duties, with a faithful study and execution of the laws made for their government.

The violation of tax laws has been a thing of such common and universal occurrence that the violation of the law rather than its observance is the rule of action.

If there is any one duty beyond that of loyalty to State and Nation that ought to characterize an officer's official conduct, it is the close observance of the laws which relate to the assessing of real estate and the collection and proper accounting of moneys derived from such assessment and such collection of taxes.

Number and Value of Animals Subject to Taxation.

For the year ending November 30, 1902, there were returned in the State 604,370 horses, mares and geldings and mules over the age of four years. For this year the number is 599,513. These figures in themselves produce evidence of an unquestionable character of the failure to make proper returns under this caption. With waves of prosperity in every part of the State, with no cessation in the advance of commercial interests in every direction, with a great increase in dairy products and in all that pertains to agricultural interests in general, yet the returns show a decrease in the number of these animals of several thousands.

Last year the valuation of these animals was returned at $26,744,363; this year the value is fixed at $27,618,548. There is just a little light of encouragement in these figures, for certainly, although there is a decrease in the number, there is something of an advantage in their valuation.

The number of neat cattle over the age of four years as returned by the commissioners for the year covered by this report is 638,443; last year the number was 637,768. This year the valuation is given at $12,359,644; last year the valuation was $12,355,352.

Value of Salaries and Emoluments of Office, Offices, Posts of Profit, Professions, Trades and Occupations.

Under this caption the total for the State this year is $151,950,199; last year the amount was $134,252,446, a commendable increase.

It is impossible from the evidence at hand to make any estimate as to what percentage these returns are of the valuation of salaries and emoluments of office as they actually exist within the State.

Aggregate Value of All Property Taxable for County Purposes.

All property, whether classed as real or personal estate, that is taxable for county purposes, is valued for the year covered by this report at $3,178,252,332; last year the amount was $3,104,055,631, showing an increase of $74,196,701.

Aggregate Amount of County Taxes.

In considering the amount of taxes collected under this caption, it should be remembered that boards of county commissioners levy whatever millage in their judgment may be necessary to support the county government, for the maintenance of the poor and for other purposes for which they are authorized to collect taxes.

The aggregate amount of such taxes for the year covered by this report is $23,722,444; for the previous year it was $23,063,052, or an increase for the year of $659,392.

Allegheny county commissioners have collected for these purposes, $962,220; Berks, $248,149; Dauphin, $273,393; Fayette, $220,898; Lackawanna, $296,178; Lancaster, $254,047; Luzerne, $314,606; Philadelphia, $16,387,620; Schuylkill, $280,841, and Washington, $249,259.

These figures indicate a considerable percentage of increase in the amount of taxes collected for county purposes.

Amount of Money at Interest, Including Mortgages, Judgments, Bonds, Notes, Stocks, Etc.

Under this caption the returns show $141,527,815 at interest in Allegheny county, $17,070,840 in Berks, $11,790,942 in Chester, $20,391,053 in Lancaster, $12,544,481 in Luzerne, $23,250,190 in Montgomery, $425,769,341 in Philadelphia, $11,457,451 in York, the total being $846,483,115 in the State; last year the total for the State was $814,271,329, an increase of $32,211,786, there being an increase in Philadelphia alone of $18,749,094.

Whatever may be justly said in the way of criticising the manner of assessing real estate for taxation, can be repeated with reference to the assessment and return of money at interest in the Commonwealth. Indeed, it is probable that opportunities exist for greater criticism in the execution of the tax laws on this subject of taxation than in any other. Real estate is of a tangible, immovable character, and cannot escape taxation, the wrongs that exist being due to wrong assessment rather than to escape from the burden of taxation. A different condition exists with reference to money at interest as a subject of taxation. It is of a personal character and may accompany the person of the owner wherever he chances to go. Such may be the definition of personal property, but when a further classification is made and money at interest is placed by itself, it will be seen how easy it is for the owner of money at interest to so adjust matters that it cannot be easily found by the assessor, so no return is made by the assessors to the county commissioners for such property.

In many instances the assessors are not to blame for the conditions which exist. The property owner, the man who has money at interest, if he is a good citizen of the Commonwealth, will exhibit his property in such a way that a proper return can be made. The evidence is not wanting that such an exhibit of property is not always made and the result is that instead of having more than $1,000,000,000 of money at interest, we have only about $870,000,000, as disclosed by the reports of the county commissioners. When the estimate is made of $1,000,000,000 it is understood that it is an approximate estimate, based on no reliable figures, but made entirely from what one may observe in making a study of the assessments made to the commissioners in districts where persons have knowledge of those who are continually loaning money and who make no returns at all or make untruthful ones. It is probable that if complete returns were made of money at interest, as is required by law, upwards of a thousand millions of dollars would be found at interest under the specifications indicated by the caption to this subject.

Value of Stages, Omnibuses, Hacks, Cabs, Etc.

So much has been said upon this subject that there is a multiplication of words in attempting to further comment upon a subject of taxation to which so little respect is paid by the assessors throughout the Commonwealth, as is shown by the returns made of this species of property for taxation. This law is practically a dead letter. It is not a rule of action, for it seems to be disregarded throughout the State.

Last year the amount of the valuation of this class of property returned was $618,987; this year the amount is $587,935. Thus do these figures relating to the two years in question present unmistakable evidence of the failure of assessors to make a proper return of this property. Many of the counties make no returns at all under this caption, while in others the amount is so insignificantly small as to be unworthy of mention in this report. Let the law be executed or let it be repealed, for the amount of taxes now derived from it is too insignificant to be any compensation for the wrongs that flow from a law so uniformly disregarded.

Aggregate Value of Property Taxable for State Purposes.

The total value of property, including money at interest, etc., returned by the county commissioners as subject to State taxation is $847,071,050.; last year the amount was $814,890,316. The amount of taxes derived by the State upon such property this year is $3,389,449, while last year it was $3,259,534.

It is understood that not all of this money collected through local channels is used for the support of the State Government, for, under the laws of the State a large portion is distributed for the support of local governments.

Debts of Counties.

Last year the amount reported under this caption was $60,074,724; this year it is $65,003,148.

The counties which have no debt are Bucks, Cambria, Centre, Clarion, Crawford, Cumberland, Elk, Erie, Forest, Greene, Lawrence, Lehigh, McKean, Mercer, Pike, Somerset and Westmoreland, or seventeen out of the sixty-seven counties of the Commonwealth which have no funded indebtedness.

Taxes.

At the session of the Legislature of 1889 an act was passed for the collection of statistics regarding taxes collected in the different assessment districts of the Commonwealth, especially providing for a return of the amount collected for the support of the poor, for the maintenance of streets, roads and bridges, for the support of schools, for other purposes, including the support of county governments and further details as to amounts collected on personal property, occupations, for licenses and also for amounts collected through local channels on the real estate of railroad corporations and upon the real estate of other corporations than railroads.

A copy of the act referred to is as follows:

AN ACT

Providing for full and complete compilations and returns to the Department of Internal Affairs, of all taxes levied and collected in the wards, boroughs and townships of the several counties of the Commonwealth.

Section 1. Be it enacted, &c., That it is hereby made the duty of the county commissioners of each county of this Commonwealth, including the board of revision of the city of Philadelphia, at the expense of the State, to procure from the proper persons and officers of the wards, boroughs and townships of their respective counties, full and complete returns showing the entire amount of taxes levied and collected, or worked out for the maintenance of State, county, city, ward, borough and township governments. It shall also be their duty to make a specific return on the following subjects:

First. The total amount of taxes collected for the support of the poor.

Second. The total amount of taxes collected for the construction and repairs of roads and bridges.

Third. The amount of taxes collected in each year on personal property, on occupations and for licenses.

Fourth. The amount of taxes collected on real estate of railroad corporations.

Fifth. The amount of taxes collected on the real estate of corporations other than railroads.

Section 2. That said commissioners shall cause such returns of taxes to be made out in tabular form, by assessment districts, on the first day of June in each year, and such statements shall cover the entire collection of taxes for the year immediately preceding the said first day of June, and shall be made out in accordance with forms for that purpose, which shall be prepared and furnished by the Secretary of Internal Affairs, and when so made out the same shall be forwarded to the Secretary of Internal Affairs, at Harrisburg, on or before the tenth day of June in each year. And in case the commissioners of any county shall refuse or neglect to make out such returns, the same may be enforced by mandamus.

Section 3. Any persons or officers having possession of information called for in this act, who shall refuse to supply to county commissioners with the same, when demanded by them, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding two hundred dollars, to be collected as other debts of like amount are by law now collectible.

Approved—The 9th day of May, A. D. 1889.

JAMES A. BEAVER.

The returns under this act are consolidated under two divisions. The first division, as appearing in the tabulated table, shows the amount of taxes collected in the counties for all purposes, and the second division shows the taxes collected on certain specified subjects of taxation, as those collected upon occupations, upon real estate of railroad corporations, and upon the real estate of other corporations than railroads.

Amount of Taxes Collected for the Support of the Poor.

In column No. 1, of consolidated table of taxes, will be found the amount collected in each county for the support of the poor, and a reference made to the returns of each county will also show the amount of such collections made in each assessment district.

An explanation should be made that in some counties no tax is directly levied and collected for the support of the poor. This is found in counties that have a county poor house, where the poor are maintained as a county charge and where the means for the support of such poor house are supplied by an appropriation made by the county commissioners directly from the county treasury to the poor directors of the county to enable them to maintain a home for the poor and provide for other expenses which might be incurred in their proper and legal maintenance, such as the construction, repairs and maintenance of buildings.

The total amount of money collected and appropriated for the support of the poor is $3,432,179; last year the amount was $3,135,908, an increase for the year of $296,271.

Amount of Taxes Collected for the Construction and Repairs of Streets, Roads and Bridges.

For the year covered by this report, the total of the taxes so collected amounts to $11,132,517; last year the amount was $10,723,883, an increase of $408,634.

In cities the items which contribute to this large collection are made up of moneys appropriated by councils for the repair, the construction and the maintenance of streets, and the money is not, therefore, collected directly from the people for the purpose of the maintenance of streets, roads and bridges.

The details of these collections and appropriations are found in column No. 2 of both the consolidated table and the return from each county, which shows the amount so collected or appropriated in each district of the counties and cities of the Commonwealth.

About one-fifth of the whole amount of the taxes so collected or appropriated is found in the appropriations made by the city of Philadelphia for the maintenance of streets, etc.

Amount of Taxes Collected for Schools and School Purposes.

The returns for this year show the total collection of taxes for the support of public schools to be $17,430,239; last year the amount was $15,669,435, an increase of $1,760,804. Of this large amount of money collected for purposes of education $5,272,810 was appropriated by the councils of Philadelphia for the cause of education in that city.

Allegheny county apparently makes a greater expenditure of money for purposes of education than does Philadelphia in proportion to the number of inhabitants at least. The amount so collected this year for Allegheny county was $3,153,319.

In considering these figures it is understood that they do not include any moneys that are appropriated by the Legislature for the support of the common schools, nor, indeed, any moneys that are given directly by appropriation of the Legislature to any colleges, to industrial schools or to any other educational institutions in the State.

Upwards of $23,000,000 a year are expended for the support of the common schools, this amount not including anything that is expended or appropriated for the maintenance of any of the colleges or universities of the State.

Amount of Taxes Collected for Other Purposes, Including the Support of County Governments.

In column No. 4 of the consolidated table and in the same column in the returns from each county will be found the amount of taxes collected for other purposes, such as the support of the county government, building of bridges, and for other purposes for which moneys are expended under the powers given county commissioners.

The total amount so collected for the year was $33,734,115; last year the amount was $28,468,415, an increase during the year of $5,265,700.

Adding the amounts for the support of the poor, for the maintenance of schools, for the construction and maintenance of streets, roads and bridges, for the support of county governments and for other county purposes the total amount of taxes collected for the year for these purposes amount to $65,729,051; last year the amount was $57,997,643, an increase of $7,731,408.

These figures indicate a marked increase in the expenditure of moneys that are collected for the support of schools, maintenance of the poor, support of county governments and other purposes largely controlled by the boards of county commissioners.

Amount of Taxes Collected on Personal Property.

The second division, showing the amount of taxes collected on specified subjects, gives the amount collected on personal property during the year as $3,877,079; last year the amount was $3,640,237, an increase of $236,842.

The taxes collected on occupations for the year covered by this report are given at $1,800,011.

The amount collected on licenses of all kinds this year is $6,833,905.

The amount collected on the real estate of railroad corporations is reported as $934,467.

The amount collected on real estate of corporations other than railroads is $3,978,230.

Comparisons of these figures with those that have been reported in past years indicate such glaring discrepancies that the only comment which can be justified in regard to them is that full and complete returns have not been made, or there is a failure to make correct returns of assessment and collection of taxes under these special subjects of taxation.

The value of statistics consists in their accuracy, or in a close approximation to accuracy. If they fail to present a fair exhibit of the facts they are worse than no statistics, and while a large part of the returns made in the way of moneys collected for different purposes are certainly a close approach to the truth, yet these figures which relate to the amount of taxes collected on specified subjects of taxation cannot be reported as an exhibit of true conditions.

For instance, when the Legislature provided that assessors and tax collectors and others concerned in the levying and collection of taxes should make returns showing the amount of taxes collected upon the real estate of railroad corporations, they did not realize how difficult it would be to secure an accurate and reliable return of such statistics. Generally the real estate of railroad corporations is not taxable for local purposes, and certainly tax collectors have not the means of ascertaining how much money is paid upon the real estate of such corporations where the taxes so paid are derived from a five mill tax imposed upon the capital stock of such corporations according to their appraised valuation. Neither can such a tax collector or assessor make a return of the amount of money that is derived as tax upon such real estate, where it is pledged as security for the bonds which are issued by railroad corporations, and upon which railroad corporations pay a tax of four mills directly into the State Treasury.

The tax collectors, therefore, are limited in their power to ascertain what taxes are collected upon the real estate of these corporations.

Presumably it was the intention of the Legislature to ascertain what amount of taxes railroad companies pay upon real estate which is not used or essential to railroad companies in the transaction of their business as common carriers.

Under the adjudications, all real estate which common carrier corporations own and which is considered necessary to perform the functions of common carriers, is not subject to local taxation, such property being assessed through the five mill tax upon the capital stock, the four mill tax on bonds, and the eight mill tax on gross receipts.

All tax assessors and all tax collectors undoubtedly find it difficult to determine what property railroad companies are possessed of which is not necessary for their use as common carriers, and, therefore, the amount of taxes collected on the real estate of railroad corporations through the local channels of tax collections may not be so easily ascertained. Hence, the returns from the several assessment districts throughout the Commonwealth indicating the amounts collected on such property of railroad companies can only be considered as a partial return on this particular subject of local taxation.

Similar observations might be made upon the amount of taxes derived from the real estate of other corporations than railroads, at least so far as it is difficult to ascertain what amount of taxes is collected upon such corporations. While manufacturing corporations are exempt from a State tax on their capital stock, they are not exempt from paying a local tax upon their real estate, and it is not likely that a complete list of properties of such corporations is kept either by the assessors or by county commissioners, to make it possible to have a correct return made of the actual amount of money collected as taxes upon the real estate owned by corporations other than railroads.

Again, the difference between a corporation and a limited partnership is not easily discovered, especially by those who assess, levy and collect taxes. Whether it was the intention of the Legislature in passing the act of 1889 to include the real estate of limited partnerships in the returns which should be made of taxes collected, is not known, but there is no reason why a return should not be made on such partnerships as well as on the real estate of corporations. They are practically the same thing, differing principally as to the liabilities of stockholders.

Possibly in some portions of the State the returns cover the amount of taxes collected from not only corporations, but limited partnerships, and in other portions of the State they embrace only the taxes collected from corporations.

Sometimes it seems that tax laws were enacted for the purpose of being evaded, or, rather, whatever the purpose may have been in placing them upon the statute books, the purpose of a goodly number of our people seems to be to evade them.

More stringent measures seem to have been in force in regard to the collection of taxes back at the dawn of the Christian era, or perhaps a different sentiment prevailed among the people in those days, for we are told in Divine Writ that "all went to be taxed, every one into their own city." There is quite a reversal of this disposition now, for there is more disposition to flee from one's own city in order that the burden of taxation may be in whole or in part escaped.

Reference to Tables.

All the tabulations that have been made are the results of deductions from the reports of the several boards of county commissioners on assessments and taxes. The details have not been referred to in extensio in these observations, but the details from each assessment district, both with reference to assessments and taxes can be easily ascertained by examining the published returns from each county, and so can the data be easily ascertained with regard to the details from counties by examination of the consolidated tables published herewith.

In addition to the consolidated tables on taxes and assessments, an additional table has been prepared, showing the per capita amount of taxes collected and reported in the several counties of the Commonwealth, first, for the support of the poor; second, for construction and repairs of streets, roads and bridges; third, for support of common schools; fourth, for support of township, borough, city and county government, etc. In the same tabulation will be found columns indicating the percentages taxes collected for different purposes bear to the whole amount of taxes collected for all purposes. The preparation of this per capita and percentage table involves considerable work, and yet may not be of great value. In some instances it furnishes information of a reliable character. Generally, it will be found that the per capita of taxes in the rural counties is greater than the average. This is due to the fact that many people own wild lands in a county who are not residents of the county, but they have their money invested in these wild lands and pay taxes upon them, and it, therefore, appears from the report that the per capita tax is large upon those who live in the county. These observations are made here, that the figures indicated in these per capita and percentage tables may not lead to a misapprehension of the facts.

Perhaps no data ought to be compiled, no deductions made from any public reports that are misleading. This is probably true, unless an explanation is made so that misapprehensions may be avoided.

The percentage tabulations, however, present information of quite a reliable character and show a great disparity of conditions existing in the several counties of the Commonwealth.

Attention is particularly directed to the percentage of taxes collected in the several counties for the support of the common schools, that is, what percentage the amount of taxes collected for common schools bears to the total amount of taxes collected for all purposes.

The percentage of money collected in the several counties for the support of public education is of great importance, for the most commendable purpose for which money can be collected is the support of education, to the end that all those who are born and reared in Pennsylvania may at least have the benefit of a common school education. Hence, the county which devotes the largest percentage of money collected from the people to public education, where such money is expended judiciously, is deserving of the greatest credit.

The returns for the year covered by this report show that of the total amount of money collected in the county of Forest for all purposes, 47 per cent. is for the maintenance of common schools of that county, or for the construction of school buildings or the improvement of facilities necessary to advance education.

Dauphin county is only a little behind Forest in this direction, 44 per cent. of its total tax collected being devoted to school purposes.

The third on the list is Schuylkill, 41 per cent. of the money collected from the people being devoted to the support of schools.

The fourth county on the list, Westmoreland, has expended 40 per cent. of its collections for school purposes.

This column, showing the percentages of money collected that are devoted to school purposes, is worthy of study.

It is observed that 5 per cent. of the total amount of taxes collected in the State is for the support of the poor, 16 per cent. for the construction and repairs of streets, roads and bridges, 26 per cent for school purposes and 51 per cent. for the support of counties, cities and for other purposes.

ASSESSMENT REPORTS.

The occupation tax, which is known in Lancaster as poll tax, aggregates $9,504.50. The custom for many years has been to assess each married man, not a freeholder, 25 cents poll or occupation tax, and each single man, not a freeholder, 50 cents poll or occupation tax. The tax is levied directly, without putting a valuation on the taxpayer's office, trade or occupation, and is not included in the above aggregate of county tax.

The poor are maintained as a county charge.

The amount appropriated in 1963 by the county commissioners for their support was $40,000.00, and the collection of the same is included in columns Nos. 4 and 5.

Fifteen thousand two hundred and thirty-seven dollars and thirty-eight cents was the amount expended by the county commissioners in repairs and construction of roads and bridges. The collection of the same is also included in columns Nos. 4 and 5.

Uniontown borough does not levy a borough tax for the construction and repairs of streets, bridges, etc., the taxes collected from hotel licenses being sufficient to construct the same.

Attest:
JAMES W. MILLER,
Clerk.

M. L. GREIDER,
LEWIS J. KIRK,
JOHN V. WISE,

County Commissioners of the county of Lancaster, Pennsylvania.

The poor are maintained as county charges. There is no separate levy for poor purposes. The money for the maintenance of the poor is drawn from the county funds upon presentation of a monthly statement and requisition by the Board of Poor Directors and countersigned by the County Commissioners. The amount thus expended for the year last past is $36,157.50, which is included in the aggregate of columns 4 and 5.
